RANGE OF TEMPERATURE.

Weather indications for today are for continuance of the cool, bracing weather of the past few days, without rain. The weather man says that in a day or two the weather will get slightly warmer, as Chicago and other western cities show warmer temperature than Pittsburgh. The maximum temperature yesterday was reached about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the thermometer showed 50 degrees. At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the mercury stood at 41, and at noon had only risen one degree. Between noon and 4 o'clock touches of sunlight warmed the air. At 5 o'clock it commenced to get cool again, and at 8 o'clock last night the minimum for the day, 41 degrees, was again reached, with falling mercury, indicating cooler weather during the night. The temperature yesterday was not nearly so cold as on the same day last year. The records in the weather bureau show a minimum of 29 degrees for November 8, 1900, and a maximum of but 43 degrees, only two degrees warmer than the minimum of yesterday.

CARNEGIE HERE IN HAPPY MOOD

Ironmaster Will Stay Perhaps Three Weeks in Pittsburgh and Will Take Up Technological School Plans With Committee.

CITY LACKS ONE THING, FREEDOM FROM SMOKE

With That Accomplished, the Philanthropist Says It Will Become and Continue the Greatest Industrial Center in the World—On His Journey Westward He Talks On Wide Range of Subjects.

Andrew Carnegie reached Pittsburgh last night. He will remain in the city for perhaps three weeks. Monday afternoon he will meet the committee on plan and scope of the new polytechnic school. Tuesday he will hold a similar conference with the trustees of the institute.

During his stay he will be the guest of George Lauder. Mr. Carnegie was in rare good humor and apparently in the best of health when he stepped from the Pennsylvania limited at East Liberty station last night.

He was met at the station by William N. Frew and Capt. Louis T. Brown. His greeting to Mr. Frew was, "Why Frew, I'm awfully glad to see you. I hear you had a great time here yesterday." "Yes," said Mr. Frew, "everything passed off very smoothly." "Well, I am glad of it," said Mr. Carnegie, "I knew you and Church would do it up right."

"Pittsburgh has every God-given gift possible but one to make and hold it as the greatest industrial city of the world," said Mr. Carnegie last night on the limited soon after Altoona was passed.

"What is the one thing lacking, Mr. Carnegie?" was asked.

"The means of ridding the city of its smoke."

"Don't you think that Pittsburgh should be content to bear with this smoke trouble a little? The smoke is suggestive of the Iron City's pre-eminence as an industrial center," was suggested.

"Well, no; Pittsburgh should be released from her smoke, and I doubt not that she will be before long," said the ironmaster.

"Pittsburg will hold her industrial importance regardless of her woeful lack of railway facilities," he continued. "I have been reading with deep concern the publication in The Pittsburgh Gazette of the necessity of closing a large number of our blast furnaces because the railroads can not haul the necessary coke. It is too bad that such a condition should exist."

Interested In Improvements.

The attention of the great philanthropist was called to the vast improvements that are now being made on the roadway of the Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania railroad, and on which millions upon millions are being expended to rid the property of curves and grades.

"Yes, I regret that it is too dark to see what is being done on my old division. I was much interested in the great work that is being done on the eastern end of the road, which I could see during my daylight ride, and I hope to get a good view of the work on the Pittsburgh end on my return.

"It will not be a great many years till all these great improvements go for nothing. The entire work will, in not a long time, have to be done over again.

"The railroad of no remote future must be on a bee line. It will be necessary to carry people at the rate of 100 miles an hour.

"That is what I had in contemplation when intending to build my own railroad to the seaboard. The road would have connected the great lakes with the eastern seaboard and would have been on as nearly a straight line as possible."

This was in reference to the last plans of Mr. Carnegie for a seaboard road, that were cut short by his retirement from active participation in the affairs of the great steel company.

"Yes," added Mr. Carnegie, "something of the plans of the South Penn were to be followed, only changing them to meet the developments of the past generation and generations to come."

It was suggested that the plans of the Carnegie seaboard line were understood to mean terminals at a natural point on Chesapeake bay with a natural harbor and now innocent of railway terminals. The great iron master thought for half a minute before replying, and then added:

"That would be giving away the plans of somebody. Those were the terminals that the public believed we were seeking," and he laughed.

On the train Mr. Carnegie met two Pittsburgh women who are anxious to pass unmentioned, and whom he had known in his early days in Pittsburgh. He was saying: "The great Pennsylvania roalroad is only a second class railroad after all. It has a great task of improvement ahead of it to hold its place," when one of the women interposed:

"You will admit, Mr. Carnegie, that the Pennsylvania railroad is the greatest we have?"

"Yes," and then he added with a smile, "Yes it is the greatest, after the Bessemer."

"Notice that engine exhausting its steam. It is having hard work on a grade of 50 feet to the mile and the train is not running over 15 miles an hour. We will be on the down grade shortly where we will have to make up.

Built Up and Down Hill.

"The fool engineers of the Pennsylvania years ago could not see this. They built their road up and down hill. There is an instance at Turtle Creek. It would have been far better to follow the creek bed, but the engineers took the road up and down the hill."

"Why did you not rectify these matters, when you were on the road," suggested one of Mr. Carnegie's guests, good naturedly. This tested Mr. Carnegie's good humor for a moment, and then he replied:

"Well, I think of these matters in these days, but then," he added in appreciation of the humor, "no great railroad was needed in those days. The Pennsylvania was only handling a matter of 100 cars a day, and it did not matter whether they were taken up and down hill or not."

A singular recent piece of liberality on the part of a rival interest against a growing competitor was mentioned to Mr. Carnegie.

"Americans are famous for good fellowship toward their rivals. This is true in manufacture and all that goes to make up our great country. I do not think that I have any better friends than my competitors in the early days, the Hon. Benjamin F. Jones, the Nimicks, the Dilworths and others. It is a great satisfaction to know that these friendships still live where my contemporaries of the early days are still living.

Mr. Carnegie dodged a number of questions as to his immediate plans in relation to Pittsburgh, and then said: "I can suggest something that may lead to a scoop for your paper. William McClergue has just established a plant at Irwin, Pa., that he is confident can produce gas cheaper than the natural gas. My friend, Mr. McClergue, has within a few days sent me a letter inviting me to inspect his plant. The plant is there and you can see it for yourself.

"Think of it! A discovery that will solve the vexing problem of the waning natural gas supply of our district. Isn't that an item of some industrial importance and at once wonderful in itself?

"I can tell you little of my intended movements after reaching Pittsburgh. I will be in the hands of Mr. Frew and my friends. Tomorrow I will have a view of the pictures with Mr. Frew.

"I was immensely pleased at the liberal manner in which The Gazette treated Mr. Cleveland's address. It was thoroughly in keeping with the vast progress that The Gazette is making."

"Mr. Carnegie, what do you think of the editorial suggestion of The Gazette this morning, that means should be provided to accommodate all Pittsburghers who wish to hear the Founder's day exercises?"

"It was the editorial that I referred to; I have read it carefully, yet I can't say exactly as to the feasibility of a greater auditorium than we have. To take care of all that might want to attend we might have to roof over much of the city. The average human voice can not well be heard by more than 3,000 people under one roof."

Made a Tacit Promise.

Mr. Carnegie put forth a tacit promise to the members of the Carnegie institute committee of Allegheny councils in the project of the committee to see him and ask that an art department be added to the Allegheny institution. In reply to a question as to whether or not he could see the committee while in Pittsburgh, he said:

"I can only answer that question to the committee."

The great philanthropist met many of the passengers on the limited train. An elderly lady in taking leave of him said, "You will give us a library, Mr. Carnegie?"

"Oh, yes, certainly," he said. Returning to his selected group he told a recent newspaper incident that he declared had been exceptionally well handled by the writer. "The writer," he said, "made me say in the start-off: 'Does anybody want a library?'"

"There are so many of my libraries that I can't remember them all. It occasionally requires some research to determine if some isolated gift has been made."

On the train was Col. James E. Montgomery, a staff officer with Gen. Hancock and others throughout the civil war. The colonel did not know that he had been riding with Mr. Carnegie till near Pittsburgh. The bond between them was that Col. Montgomery in the 40s and 50s, when Mr. Carnegie was superintendent of the Pittsburgh division, was an engineer on the eastern division, and they knew each other through correspondence.

The colonel addressed a remark to Mr. Carnegi about the days of President Thomas Scott of the Pennsylvania. Then Mr. Carnegie insisted on a long personal chat with he colonel. Col. Montgomery is bound for Pasedena, Cal., where he spends his winters.

Would Talk Politics.

The colonel, after a flood of reminiscences with Mr. Carnegie, ventured into New York politics, miking assertion that New York has done herself proud in its selection of Seth Low as mayor by a handsome majority.

Mr. Carnegie was not taking politics, and the colonel said that he was not in politics himself, but had delayed his journey several days to cast his vote for Mayor Low, of which fact he was quite proud.

There was a deal of good-fellowship in the renewal of relations between the two men, Col. Montgomery had never seen Mr. Carnegie.

In discussing the railroad situation about Pittsburgh, Mr. Carnegie anxiously inquired as to the progress being made by the Wabash in effecting its entrance here. He expressed, with much concern, the hope that the city would facilitate the entrance of the new railroad, and that any barriers that may be thrown in its way by rival interests be promptly set aside by law, if necessary.

Mr. Carnegie was particularly interested in the newspaper accounts of the Founder's day exercises.

"Of all the things that I have done in the world, nothing has pleased me better, nor returned so much on the investment, as the Carnegie institute. Many people have to die before realizing the fruits of their benefactions; but, in this instance, I am permitted to live, and to enjoy the wonderful results seen in the institute. Its growth and development have been a marvelous success, and it

ANDREW CARNEGIE IS NOW LORD RECTOR.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Vice Chancellor Donaldson of the University of St. Andrew announced today the unanimous election of Andrew Carnegie as lord rector. The students greeted the announcement with prolonged cheering and the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The vice chancellor remarked that Mr. Carnegie's election would meet the approval of the whole nation.

TWO FUGITIVES SLAIN BY POSSE

Escaped Convicts Killed in Running Fight With Posse.

GREAT MAN HUNT IN SUNFLOWER STATE

Citizens Join in Chase After Federal Prisoners Who Broke Jail.

FIFTEEN REMAIN TO BE ACCOUNTED FOR

Two Captured Near Jarbalo and Two Others at Lawrence—A Reward of $60 a Head for Their Return—Heading for Oklahoma.

LEAVENWORTH, KANS., Nov. 8.—All the police, deputy sheriffs and farmers in the county adjacent to Leavenworth were on the lookout to-day for the 26 Federal convicts who escaped from the stockade yesterday. As a result two convicts have been killed, two were wounded and several captured unhurt. The casualties took place in a fight near Nortonville, Kans., and resulted in the death or capture of five men.

The Dead Are:

JAMES HOFFMAN, aged 20, white.

J. J. POFFENHOLN, aged 25, white, a soldier convict.

The fourth, Willard Drake, white, aged 19, was wounded and recaptured, and the fifth, Fred Moore, aged 16, a negro, is recaptured unhurt.

The five men were discovered in the barn of Fay Welshaar near Nortonville, Kans., about 3 o'clock this afternoon. Welshaar went into the barn and was ordered out at the point of guns. He rushed to Nortonville and gathered a posse of men, who, with revolvers, shotguns and a few Winchesters, hastened to the scene. The convicts saw the men coming and rushed from the barn. They had two shotguns and revolvers. The posse pursued them and a running duel resulted. The convicts were at a disadvantage and their shots had no effect, while at every volley from the posse one of the convicts fell. After two of them had fallen, two of the others gave themselves up, one being wounded, the other unhurt. The fifth was fully 200 yards away when a man with a Winchester drew a bead on him and fired. He evidently had been hit, but tried to go on. A volley was fired at him and he fell dead. None of the citizens were hurt.

Convicts Were Armed.

The convicts had a rifle, a shot gun and an old revolver. Hoffman had the shotgun. He was shot first in the hand. He yelled and dropped the gun. Just then a bullet entered his back and he fell dead. Poffenholz died forty minutes after being shot. Green was brought down by a bullet in the knee. Drake was shot twice. He says Sol. Southerland, an Indian was shot in the fight at the stockade.

Reports come from numerous points today of the arrest of men supposed to be fugitive convicts. The oldest of the fugitives is aged 28.

Two unarmed convicts were found hiding in a ravine on a farm near Jarbalo, Kansas, and surrendered without resistance. The sheriff of Douglass county captured two convicts at Lawrence, Kansas.

The convicts captured at Lawrence were Ole Babo, a half-breed Indian, and Joseph H. Deekin, a soldier serving a term for desertion and assault to kill. Frank Thompson, the negro desperado, who led the outbreak, is supposed to be near Lawrence heavily armed. He will probably not be taken alive. Two escaped convicts were caught in Topeka tonight. At midnight, only fifteen of the fugitives were free.

Quinn Fort, who was killed yesterday, was 19 years old. One of the convicts who is still at large is a military prisoner and the remainder were serving terms for robbery or assault. One is an Indian, and two are negroes. Nearly all came from Oklahoma and Indian territory and they are supposed to be making for that country. They are hardy men, used to firearms and horses. Some have obtained both but others are on foot and defenseless.

Warden McClaughey says he will capture every one of the men. In the districts around the city every road and river crossing that the fugitives might be expected to use is guarded by armed men, the farmers having turned out to earn the $60 reward that will be paid for the return of each convict. Those of the men who are armed are likely to be shot on sight.

TRAIL OF BAD MONEY.

Alleged Great Northern Express Robbers Good Spenders at at Hot Springs.

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Nov. 8.—Harry Loughbaugh and Butch Cassidy, the former now under arrest in St. Louis, are believed to be the persons who flooded this city with Helena (Mont.) bank notes. It is claimed that Loughbaugh while here had his hair, eyebrows and mustache dyed by a barber.

Loughbaugh is thought to have left here Wednesday or Thursday of last week, but Cassidy was seen on the streets as late as Tuesday evening. The officials of the bank here estimate that no less than $2,000 of the stolen bank notes were left in this city.

ST. LOUIS, November 8.—The Post-Dispatch today says that the man arrested Tuesday suspected of being one of the robbers who held up the Great Northern Express train near Wagner, Mont., last July, was positively identified today as Harry Longbaugh, who is known to have been one of the participants in the robbery.

The identification was made by a St. Louis business man, who was prosecuting attorney in Cook county, Wyo., in 1887, when Longbaugh was arrested as a member of a gang of horse thieves and convicted. The man asked the police to withhold his name. Longbaugh was visibly startled when confronted by the St. Louis man.

The prisoner still refused either to affirm or deny his identity after the interview.

Attack On Glass Factory.

MUNCIE, IND., Nov. 8.—Early today three shots were fired in rapid succession through a widow at the Maring flint window glass works at some of the workmen employed there. Soon after this fire was discovered on the walls of the building, showing an attempt to burn the big factory.

VICE RUNS RIOT IN LOWER WARDS OF ALLEGHENY CITY

Yee Hing's Resort in Robinson Street.

Speakeasies and Gambling Houses Flourish and Citizens Can Get No Relief from Either City or County Officials.

RESORTS RUN SO OPENLY THAT ANYONE MAY ENTER

Games of Chance of Every Character May Be Found in Houses Where Liquor Is Illegally Sold—Thousands of Dollars Change Hands in Single Games—Beer Is Sold to Boys and Girls in Chinese Restaurants.

Allegheny is a wide-open city. Vice runs riot in the river wards and speakeasies and gambling houses flourish.

County and city officials have been appealed to by the respectable citizens of the infested districts, but they have granted no relief.

The Gazette has been asked to use its influence to bring about a better condition of affairs and it has taken up the task, believing that in so doing it is fulfilling its duty as a newspaper. Public interest demands that this flagrant and open violation of the law cease. The public interest is the interest of the Gazette, and this paper has undertaken to furnish relief to the reputable citizens of Allgheny's lower wards, whose families have been insulted and whose property has been depreciated by this reign of lawlessness.

Fair warning is hereby given that the law will be enforced. Officials will be expected to do their duty. If any fail in this, the search light of truth will be thrown upon the condition of affairs, without fear or favor. Popular feeling runs high and those who defy the law and fail to take advantage of timely warning, will have to deal with righteous public indignation. There may be cells in waiting for such in the jail, workhouse and Riverside penitentiary.

RESIDENTS ARE COMPLAINING BITTERLY.

Such a state of affairs will doubtless be surprising to the residents of some parts of Allegheny, but respectable people, who have made their home for years in the river wards of the city, have been complaining bitterly for some time of the lax conditions permitted. Recently many people who could afford to move have done so. However, many of the respectable people living in that vicinity own their homes, and under existing conditions are unable to find a good market for them.

The residents of this part of Allegheny have considered various methods to rid themselves of this wide-open vice. District Attorney John C. Haymaker has been visited, but has done nothing. He has referred complaints to the Allegheny police officials.

Any man, even a perfect stranger, can walk about in various parts of Allegheny and find gambling houses and speakeasies without trouble. Many of the resorts are managed as clubs, but if search were made for license, or a certificate of government tax, such as all clubs are supposed to pay, there would be none found. Accommodations are not limited to members. These clubs all run games of various kinds, and in all of them no man need go thirsty for want of alcoholic stimulant, so long as he has the wherewithal to pay the modest stipend demanded.

In the midst of this garden of vice a new element has arisen.

A Chinese Speakeasy.

This is nothing less than a Chinese speakeasy.

Hitherto it has been believed that the Chinese law breaking hereabouts was confined to "hitting the pleasure pipe," or, in other words, smoking opium, or the playing of Chinese lottery among themselves. Now the Chinaman turns up as the proprietor, not only of a restaurant, but also of a speakeasy.

Chinese restaurants in Allegheny are not numerous, but they are well patronized, and have women among their customers. Such women are usually fond of drinking, and John Chinaman has found it to his pecuniary advantage to have a convenient store of brewery product.

There is one Chinese restaurant at No. 905 West Robinson street which is fitted up in a manner out of the ordinary. The legend painted on the windows makes one Yee Hing proprietor of this place. A smiling little "Chink" with a fair knowledge of English, which he conveniently loses upon occasions, is waiter.

Upon entering the restaurant from the street one sees a dimly-lighted room, hardly ever used, but set with oilcloth covered tables and chairs. Further back, along a lighted passageway, are little rooms, and here the patrons of the place gather, enjoying a sort of privacy. This idea of small rooms in a Chinese restaurant is a novelty. Each room is furnished with a table at which from four to six people can be accommodated.

Representatives of The Gazette, who spent some hours about lower Allegheny investigating conditions there, paid Yee Hing a visit shortly after midnight. The party was ushered into a small room by the smiling little waiter and an order for "chop-suey" was given.

Beer Quickly Served.

Then beer was asked for. For a moment the little waiter lost his English, but after a sharp look at the visitors he nodded comprehensively, and in a short time returned with pint bottles and glasses. There are at least two other chop-suey restaurants in Allegheny where beer is sold, and probably more.

In all these Chinese restaurants it is no uncommon sight on Saturday night to find youths and girls not more than 16 years of age sitting around eating "chop-suey" and drinking beer.

It is in the First and Fourth wards that this vice is most noticeable. Here there are entire streets on which there is hardly one respectable residence. One disorderly resort after another run wide open.

Representatives of The Gazette visited a number of so-called clubs, and had no difficulty in obtaining admission. Every such house has a liquor closet, and some even go so far as to have a regular bar room fitted up, with a bartender standing ready to serve drinks.

Search as you will among the frequenters of these houses and it is practically impossible to find any man who is really ahead of the game. One says, "Why I have played in that game 50 times, and never quit ahead but once, and then only for a 20 case note."

The reference was to a well-known gambling house on Sycamore street, which had been visited by representatives of The Gazette. His auditors agreed that the game was a hard one to beat, and the explanation was: "What chance has an outsider to beat that combination with four or five fellows playing along with the kitty behind them?"

Admission Easily Gained.

It is not necessary to have a guide who is acquainted with the lay of the land to gain admission to any of the alleged clubs or speakeasies. All one needs to offer to buy a drink and he is made doubly welcome.

After admittance has been gained to any of the resorts, a stranger is watched with the keenest suspicion by the proprietor and cappers. Drinks are bought for the asking and no questions asked. After two or three rounds of drinks have been served the visitor is invited to take a hand in the game, which is always running in the other room.

The gambling houses of Allegheny have been running for some time, and their equipment is in every particular complete. The finest of Brussels carpet is laid on the floors, and lace curtains cover the windows.

The furniture is of the very best quality. The card tables are large, and made of the richest quartered oak and mahogany. Leather lounges are placed in some of the rooms, and, in connection with those of the most up-to-date places, furnished rooms are open to the cappers and regular patrons of the place.

The resorts are run by groups of men, and even the women proprietors of disorderly houses are said to have a "rake off" from some of them, for the money they have put up, in order that the place may be established.

Few Square Games.

There are few "square" games running. The stranger has but little show for his money. The dealer is always the proprietor of the house, or one of his cronies, and the house men, who sit in nearly all the games, are many. The "kitty" behind these men and they cannot lose.

About the first gambling house in Allegheny from the river is located a few doors from the Sixth street bridge. It is run in the third story of a brick building. This game is one of the swiftest in the city, but is only run four nights out of the week. The entire third floor of this building is given up to gaming rooms and as high as five tables have been going in the place at the same time. The game is a $2 limit stack, table stakes.

One of the most prominent games in Allegheny is located in a handsome residence on the left hand side of East Lockcock street. The first floor contains several large, finely furnished rooms used as sleeping apartments. At the head of the first flight of stairs is a large, well lighted room. A table stood in the center of the room and beside it were five or six easy chairs. In the hall between this and the front suite of three rooms was a large ice chest, and from this drinks of all descriptions were served.

Proprietor Was Busy.

The proprietor was continually on the move. The hour was about 9:30, and indications pointed to a good night's "take off" from some of them, for the money they have put up, in order that the place may be established.

In the hall between this and the front suite of three rooms was a large ice chest, and from this drinks of all descriptions were served.

Proprietor Was Busy.

The proprietor was continually on the move. The hour was about 9:30, and indications pointed to a good night's "take-off" for himself and his associates. A game of poker already had been started in one of the front rooms, at which five well dressed men were seated. Drinks were being served in several rooms of the house at a lively rate. The proprietor soon made his appearance in the back room and asked: "Don't you want to join the game, boys?"

Inquiry was made as to the size of the game, and he replied: "It is only $2 a stack and no limit. There are five in now, and you boys are just in time to fill up the game." The proprietor told of a game that had been on in the house for four days that week and at one time there was between $2,000 and $3,000 on the table.

The next place visited was in East Robinson, near Grantham street. A burly man answered the ring at the door and the visitors followed him to a small room on the left side of the house. Here was arranged a bar of no small dimensions. A heavy two-inch plank was set up about the average height, and this was covered with oilcloth. As it was after 12 o'clock drinks were ordered and served without question. After several rounds had been served the visitors were asked to join the

TWO MEN BEATEN BY HIGHWAYMEN

A SIXTH AVENUE GROCER HELD UP IN TUSTIN STREET.

Footpads Rob and Assault C. Schlegel of Sixth Avenue, Who Is 70 Years Old—Another Gang Beat and Drug James Aitken in Front of His Home On Sandusky Street, Allegheny.

C. Schlegel, a grocer of Sixth avenue, was brutally assaulted and held up by footpads in Tustin street shortly after 10 o'clock last night. He was knocked down with a handybilly, a deep gash cut in his head and his pockets were rifled, but nothing but some small change was taken. Schlegel is over 70 years of age and lives in Sixth avenue, immediately over his grocery store. He left his home about 7 o'clock last night to visit his tailor, Nicholas Stark, in Tustin street. He left Stark's store about 10 o'clock and started to Forbes street to take a car for home. The old gentleman walks with a cane and is rather feeble. He had proceeded but a few doors from Stark's when a man passed him. He did not speak, but whipped a billy out of his hip-pocket and struck the old man on the head.

Mr. Schlegel was felled by the blow, but remained conscious and called loudly for help. The footpad went through several of Mr. Schlegel's pockets and secured some small change, which he had for street car fare. Another also came up and placed his hand over Mr. Schlegel's mouth. A couple of men came to help Schlegel, and the footpads ran in the direction of Brady street.

Mr. Schlegel was carried into a house nearby and a physician summoned to dress his wounds. It was found on examination he had a deep cut on the top of his head just above the right temple, which necessitated six stitches. He was able to go home shortly afterward in a car.

In describing the hold-up last night, he said: "I have been in business in Pittsburgh for over 40 years, and this is the first time in my life I was ever held up. I was walking along very slowly when the man came up, and did not really notice him until he was almost past me. The man had an accomplice. I had a few dollars in change in my pockets, so the robbers got but little money. My fine gold watch was in my fob pocket, but the men had not reached that pocket when they were driven away."

The police have no clew to the robbers.

Footpads plied their trade in Allegheny Thursday evening with much success, and eluded the vigilance of the police. At 10 o'clock, within a few feet of an electric arc lamp, and a much shorter distance from the door of his home, they held up and robbed James Aitken of No. 1408 Sandusky street, an employe of the auditor's office of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. After relieving him of everything of value on his person, they forced drugs down his throat. They worked so quickly that Thomas Clark, who was placing the shutters on the window of his grocery store but a short distance away, was not aware of their operations.

Accompanied by a friend, Aitken had walked from the offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company on Tenth street. At the corner of Hemlock and Sandusky streets they parted, Aitken going across Sandusky street. Just as he was crossing the alley, at the corner of which stands his home, he was assaulted by highwaymen and struck above the right eye with a blunt instrument. He lost consciousness, and his hat, coat, umbrella, cash to the amount of $8 and a gold watch were taken.

Mrs. Aitken, who was entertaining some friends, waited until midnight. Early yesterday morning she sent her husband to the offices of the Pennsylvania Company. Fitcs, where he might have stopped over night were visited and calls were made at the police headquarters and hospitals.

About 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning he returned to his home, having wandered about the streets all night. His head was cut and bruised, where he had struck, and his right leg was badly bruised.

When he returned home Mr. Aitken was still under the influence of the drug, and it was not until late in the afternoon that he gained full control of his faculties. He does not even remember entering the house. He was immediately put to bed and Dr. T. K. Beatty summoned. Owing to the quantity of the drug given, which the doctor believed to have been laudanum, grave fears are entertained of a complete recovery.

TWO DESERTERS' FATE.

One Perishes In Aretic Snow, the Other Loses Both Feet.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—The steam whaler Narwhal from the north, brings a story of privation that resulted in the death of one sailor and much suffering to another. While the Narwhal was in winter quarters at Ballee island, two of the crew, Andrew Olistrom and Herman Myrus, deserted and started to Cape Nome overland with a sled load of provisions and two dogs.

When a few hours on their journey they lost nearly all their provisions. After tramping 72 hours without resting, Myrus succumbed to the cold. Olistrom, with the dog, dragged Myrus after him to a deserted hut. For several days the two men subsisted on dry flour and dog flesh. A man from the Narwhal sent to trade with the natives, discovered the men, and a relief party was sent out from the Narwhal. The relief party, when it reached the hut, found that Olistrom had died from cold and Myrus was unconscious. In order to save his life both his feet were amputated.

GERMANY EVADING MONROE DOCTRINE.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—Finding it impolitic to acquire a coaling station on the shores of the Caribbean sea by direct negotiations, Germany has, apparently, attempted to evade the Monroe doctrine by obtaining control of territory for this purpose through one of her subsidized steamship lines.

An official report was received by the state department from Joseph Bowron, United States consul at Cartagena, announcing that the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, owners of the Atlas line, which plies between Central and South American ports, had filed an application with the Colombian government for the right to establish a coaling station near Cartagena. Immediately upon the receipt of this report Secretary Hay referred it to the navy department, and the effect of the application is now being considered by Real Admiral R. B. Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment and the coaling station expert of the service.

While there is no disposition on the part of the United States to interfere with private enterprise, there is no doubt that the administration would prefer that the application of the Hamburg-American line be not granted.

inks were ordered and served. The ace was more elaborately furnished an the latter, and all the gambling was ne in two front rooms. These rooms ere on the Robinson street side, and om the street can be heard at any hour the night after 10 o'clock the click of e poker chips and jingle of money.
Here the visitors were also invited to ke a hand in the game, which was ker, and the stacks were $3. Informa-on was ventured by the proprietor that veral hundred dollars was on the table d the game was "on the square" and an y one.
Within a short distance of City hall e of the biggest games in the city is nducted openly. Several smaller games e also running. Lacock and Robinson reets are thickly dotted with gambling sorts, and there is also much gambling
Ohio street and Stockton avenue.
While the police and officials of Alle-eny are fully aware that open gambling being carried on, they have not inter-ered. The attention of District Attorney ohn C. Haymaker was called to the mat-r yesterday afternoon, and he was sked if he would take any steps to ring prosecutions or stop the lawlessess. He gave The Gazette reporter the surance that he would take no action nless the matter was brought before him fficially. By the word officially, Disrict Attorney Haymaker remarked he eant that informations would have to e made, the people arrested, the cases ent before the grand juries and then e would try them.

Will Not Take Action.

"What do you intend to do regarding he open gambling in Allegheny county," as asked the district attorney yesterday fternoon.
"I don't intend to do anything," was is reply. "I have no assurances that here is any open or secret gambling in he county."
"Have you never been informed that ambling dens were running wide open n the other side of the river?"
"No, I never have been, and even if I ad been so informed, it is not my place o look after these things. Do you think am a private detective going around nd looking these places up? No, I am imply an officer of the law of the coun-y and hold my position to try cases nd not bring actions.
"Of course, if I had absolute proof hat gambling houses were running in he open anywhere and cared to, I could nform in charge of the district and ask him to look the place up nd make a report of the same to the court. When these cases are reported nd looked up, though, the officers don't enerally locate them."
"Is it not a fact, Mr. Haymaker, that his matter of open gambling in Alleheny was reported to you some weeks go and you promised after the election was over to take the matter up and in-erfere?"
"The matter was once brought to my otice. About three weeks ago a woman came into my office and told me her husband was gambling in a resort in Allegheny and spending all his money there.
She asked me to shut up the places and
I told her I had no authority to do so.
I referred her to Recorder Murphy and Superintendent of Police Henry Muth and she left my office, saying she would go and see these men. She has not been back since."
"Mr. Haymaker, if the fact was brought to your notice in any way that gambling houses were being run openly in Allegheny, would you take steps to close them?"
"No, sir, that is out of my line. The only way I will pay any attention to the matter is to try the cases if they are brought up in the proper way.
"It is the duty of every good, live newspaper in any community to work for the interests of its residents therein and expose any cases of vice. By agitating these movements they are assisting and helping the better class of residents, and the work is a highly commendable one."

KISKIMINETAS VALLEY LINES.

Two New Traction Companies in Armstrong and Westmoreland Counties Were Chartered.

Two street railway companies were incorporated at Harrisburg yesterday to operate in the Kiskiminetas valley, in parts of Westmoreland and Armstrong counties. Neither of them, so far as known, has any connection with the plans of the Mellon interests to extend lines already owned by them as far north along the Allegheny as New Kensington, then to connect with Leechburg, Vandergrift and Apollo by way of Tarentum and Natrona, bridging the Allegheny at the latter point.
The largest of the new corporations is the Apollo, Vandergrift and Leechburg Street Railway Company, with the nominal capitalization of $50,000, which secures a charter to build eight miles of road, connecting Apollo and Vandergrift with Leechburg, with the intention of ultimately bridging the Kiskiminetas river at Leechburg and extending to Hyde park. The officers of the new company are: John L. Cochran, Apollo, president; J. D. Orr, John P. Klingensmith, Edward Hill and S. M. Nelson, all of Leechburg and Apollo, directors.
The second incorporation is the Vandergrift and New Kensington Railroad Company of Vandergrift, which asks rights to build two and a half miles, bisecting the town of Vandergrift and crossing the river to Vandergrift heights, running a mile toward New Kensington.
J. W. Crossby of Leechburg is president of this company, and the directors are:
T. M. Jackson, S. M. Nelson, Apollo; S.
H. Cochran, Kittanning; J. B. Orr, J. W.
Crosby, Leechburg.

GUARDING THE YOUTH.

Indiana Governor Addresses Letters On That Subject to Other Executives.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 8.—At the request of the National Curfew association Gov. Durbin has written a letter to the governors of states and territories, requesting them to call the attention of their respective legislatures to certain laws as to crime among the youths of the country. Among these is the curfew law, the law for preventing the imprisonment of boys with older criminals, and another compelling officers to return to their homes all truants, truant and runaway boys. The governor says:
"There are no political or denominational features about the work, and since the brutal assassination of our beloved president, William McKinley, born an anarchist, born and educated in this country, the demand for some method of rushing out the anarchists and the better training of the youth in love of country and its institutions has become universal. The most sacred of the rights of an American is the protection of mothers and their children, and let come what will, all interest centers in the protection of the home, and no crime equals that of the man who despises the home."

GETTING POINTS ON THE TARIFF

Two Influences at Work to Sway the Tone of the President's Message.

EASTERN PEOPLE FAVOR KEEPING HANDS OFF

They Are Reinforced by Wool and Beet Sugar Interests Who Oppose Injurious Reciprocity Treaties—Western Revision Opinion.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
603 Fifteenth St., N.W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.

As the convening of congress draws nearer, interest centers in the president's message and the probable action of congress upon some of his recommendations.
This week the greatest interest centers in the proposition to revise the tariff, because it is known that in the last five years
the president has been consulting the Republican leaders on the subject and also some of the manufacturers. Those from whom he sought information included Senators Quay and Hanna, Chairman
Payne of New York, and Representatives Steel of Indiana, Grosvenor of Ohio, and Russell of Connecticut of the ways and means committee, and President Schwab of the United States Steel corporation.
Senator Quay advised the president to let well enough alone. The country is prosperous and the surplus that is piling up in the treasury is a burden upon none.
In view of the many new questions arising in relation to the colonies, of the necessity of constructing the Nicaraguan canal and laying a Pacific cable and of upbuilding the American merchant marine, the senator from Pennsylvania told the president he believed it would be foolish for congress at the coming session to enact any new legislation on the tariff or finance. Senator Hanna today told the president practically the same thing, and similar advice was given by Messrs.
Payne, Grosvenor, and Russell.
However, there is some sentiment in the west in favor of tariff revision or a broad plan of reciprocity, and the president is being urged by such men as Representatives Tawney of Minnesota and Babcock of Wisconsin to turn a deaf ear to the protected interests and to favor tariff revision. The protectionists, those in favor of no revision at present, are drawing into a fight on the riside the wool growers and the beet sugar raisers of the west against possible reciprocity treaties that may admit sugar and wool to the detriment of their products. A strong community of interests is being thus built up between the eastern manufacturers and a few western producers to counteract the western sentiment in favor of revision.
The game is at a very interesting stage this week. If the high protectionists can sway the president to their side to the extent of inducing him to deliver a ringing message against tariff revision, it is realized by the western advocates of re-vison that their cause is seriously damaged. It is considered doubtful if efforts will be made this session for revision, in the face of a declaration of policy from the White House adverse to reduction of duties.
President Roosevelt has decided not to make any more appointments of importance until congress meets. All recess appointees must be reappointed on the assembling of congress, and the president thinks all the larger appointments should be held until he can send the names directly to the senate.

YANKEE SHIPPING GROWING.

Practically Recovers Standing It Lost During Civil War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—The report of Mr. Chamberlain, United States commissioner of navigation, says the past fiscal year has been the third successive year of notable prosperity and growth in American shipping, exceeding the two previous years. The extent and nature of work under way or projected in shipyards promises an even greater growth for the current fiscal year.
American tonnage now has attained practically the former maximum of 1861.
The figures of 1901, compared with 1861, show an increase in coasting trade vessels from 2,704,544 tons to 4,582,683 tons (two-thirds of this increase being on the great lakes), a decrease in foreign trade vessels from 2,496,894 tons to 879,595 tons, and a decrease in whaling and fishing vessels from 338,375 tons to 61,940 tons.
Of our total tonnage, 3,525,201 tons are wooden vessels and only 1,901,017 tons are iron or steel.

DR. MARY WALKER'S BREAK.

May Forfeit Pension by Calling Czolgosz's Execution Murder.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—The pension bureau is investigating utterances attributed to Dr. Mary Walker, the ex-army nurse, who wears masculine attire, and who is alleged to have called the execution of Czolgosz, the late President McKinley's assassin, a murder, and the late president himself a murderer, on account of the policy in the Philippines. A special examiner of the pension office is at Oswego, N. Y., investigating the matter, and his report will be kept on file at the bureau here in readiness for submission to congress in case that body should call for it.
Commissioner Evans explained to-day that he had no authority to revoke the woman's pension, but that congress could do so if it desires.

the National William McKinley Memorial band of Mt. Pleasant and George W.

DEAD IN BATHROOM.

Wife of Prominent New Yorker Victim of Peculiar and Fatal Mishap.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Archibald
S. White, wife of the president of the National Salt Company, was found dead in the bathroom of her residence in West Eighty-sixth street today.
Mrs. White lost her life as the result of a most unusual accident. A slip on the floor of the bath room caused her to fall backward. Her head struck the edge of a marble basin, fracturing her skull. Mrs.
White's maid went to her room sometime after the accident. Not finding her mistress the maid went to the bathroom, where Mrs. White lay on the floor dead.
Mrs. White was about 40 years old. She was a Miss Rigney of Brooklyn, and was married about 10 years ago. One child, a daughter, 8 years old, survives her.
Mr. White left for Chicago about a week ago, and was expected home yesterday, but a telegram received from him last night announced that he had been delayed, and would reach New York this evening.
William Hunter, assistant secretary of the National Salt Company, was notified of the accident by telephone. He left this afternoon for Philadelphia, where he met Mr. White with the news.

RAID ON A GAMBLING HOUSE

Gamester Killed the Man Who Was Taking the Cash and Others Fled.

PHOENIX, ARIZ., November 8.—One bandit was killed and one injured as the result of an attempt by three masked robbers to hold up the gambling house of Deel & Co. last night, at Naco, Ariz., a border town. The bandit has been identified as Will Cravens of Dog Springs, N. M.
A group of gamesters and loungers obeyed when the desperadoes entered the saloon at a late hour and ordered "hands up." Cravens approached the roulette table and proceeded to fill a bag with the bank cash, amounting to several thousand dollars. E. Ellis drew a revolver before the movement was detected by the robbers, and Cravens fell dead when he shot. The other bandits were demoralized and fled in disorder. One of them was wounded by another bullet from Ellis' revolver. They reached their horses, which were hitched in the brush, and rode for the mountains, closely followed by a posse, which had been hastily organized.

cial.)—Tom L. Johnson, mayor of Cleveland, visited Wilmington today as the guest of Willard Saulsbury, who is interested in various railroad companies hereabouts, and his presence gave rise to reports that Mr. Johnson would invade Delaware with some of his trolley enterprises. Mr. Johnson and Mr. Saulsbury called on ex-United States Senator Anthony Higgins, who is a friend of Mr.
Johnson.
Reports have been frequent in financial circles this week that Mr. Saulsbury has purchased the Wilmington and Delaware City Railway Company, and that he and Mr. Johnson are interested in the United Power and Railway Development Company, organized a few days ago. The new concern has a capitalization of $1,000,000.

has, in every way, exceeded my fondest hopes. That I am more than happy about it I need hardly say.
"Men and women are lifted to higher planes of living and thinking; they are attracted by the music, and then become interested in art and literature. Or, they may take to reading standard books and in turn come to know the great beauty of music and art. The Carnegie Institute is doing a noble work for the masses and classes, and it fills my heart with joy that I have been a humble instrument in bringing about such consummation.
"I am delighted to see that four prizes awarded by the international jury to the exhibitors of pictures went to Americans.
This is the first time this has happened in the history of the institute, and it is a flattering fact. 'Art knows no geographical lines,' and exhibitors are free to enter from all over the world.
Mr. Carnegie was more than delighted over ex-President Cleveland's address yesterday. He referred to it frequently in the course of the day, and cut out from the newspaper a clipping from the speech which he said was a gem par excellence. Here is the paragraph:
"The alchemy of civilization's evolution is full of splendid wonders, but no trans-mutation will ever be exhibited more startling or more impressive than the creation of the bright jewels of education, art and music from the grime and noise of your furnaces, and no gem will ever have a more astonishing setting than the Carnegie Institute in your Smoky City."
He then proceeded to comment upon certain passages in Mr. Cleveland's address.

Trouble In Spending Money.

"I never had any trouble about making money. The greatest difficulty I encounter is in distributing it. I find it is quite a problem to dispose of one's wealth in a wise manner, and I shall have my hands full before I die if I wish to escape the censure of my own observation, namely: That it is a sin to die rich.
"Money does not make a man happy. I would not give up all the wealth I have if I were to be denied the pleasure that comes from the study of literature and art. If Shakespeare and Wagner, the mountain peaks of literature and music were taken out of my life, life would be poor indeed. Millionaires who live merely for making money have a sorry time of it, if they devote no portion of their time to other pursuits.
"Some men are continually grinding away at their work, and are like the fly on the wheel: 'See what a dust we stir up.' They find no time to take a vacation, and imagine that this world will not travel on about its axis every 24 hours unless they keep incessantly at their desks. It's all a great mistake. A man should devote a portion of his time to study and recreation, and to his family.
"Mr. Cleveland made one of the best presidents the country ever had. He was honest and upright and, as Sam Jones said, 'Had a backbone like a circus pole' when there was danger of the country going upon a silver basis. Today he holds one of the highest positions in the country, and is esteemed and respected by all."
The conversation here drifted to the rich and poor in the world, and Mr. Carnegie said:

Poverty a Blessing.

"Civilization will deteriorate when there is less than 999 to 1,000 born poor.
The Savior was right when He said 'The poor ye have with you always.' Poverty in 99 cases out 100 is a blessing in disguise. Practically all men who have made their mark in the world have risen from the ranks by their own efforts, and without the aid of riches. Geniuses don't need to enter college. What do you think would have happened to a university if they had put Shakespeare inside of it and tried to make him over. The walls would have burst, but we average men do need all the education we can get."
"There is no question that the Steel King hopes to deal very generously with his two pet philanthropies, Carnegie institute and the Technological school, and these institutions will get a good many million dollars if they require it—but Mr.
Carnegie said in talking of aided institutions:
"Never push more money upon them than you see there is a demand for, to meet their natural requirements. Great institutions are not made. They grow and steady growth is the only healthy growth. Better be pushed for means to meet increased usefulness than to have means and not the field ready for the harvest."
On the train with Mr. Carnegie was John W. Gates, the multi-millionaire.
The two took lunch together, and the steel king explained to the Chicago
"plunger" that he was going to get off at a way station between New York and Chicago.
Another celebrity on the train was the Hon. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, who was down for a speech at the Merchants' club at Chicago tonight.
Mr. Carnegie looks younger than ever, and wears a Van Dyke beard. He is very proud of the fact that his little daughter "looks more like her father every day."
Mr. Carnegie referred to the recent distribution of gifts to his employes in Pittsburgh, and said that nearly $3,000,000 had been set aside for the purpose. He said that an employer could make no better distribution of his earnings than by giving a part of it to his employes.

To diminish excessive sensibility to Cold, says an English writer:
First—Free exposure to open air, daily familiarity with the atmosphere, diminishes the sensibility of the skin, enables the body to resist the invasion of Cold.
Second—The morning cold bath, cold sponging over the entire surface of the body, is an invaluable protection against injury from exposure to changes of temperature.
Third—This wise man did not know that a few doses of "77" will prevent, or, taken at the beginning, will "break up" a Cold.

VIOLENT RAGE KILLS EARL LI

Quarrel With Russian Minister About Treaty Caused a Hemmorrhage.

JAPAN SPOILS PLANS OF NICHOLAS

Events Leading Up to Death of Aged Statesman Tried His Patience Sorely — Secret Treaty Cause of the Trouble.

PEKING, Nov. 8.—A violent dispute with M. Paul Lessar, Russian minister to China, over the Manchurian treaty appears to have been the immediate cause of the death of Li Hung Chang.

The diplomatic events preceding this tragic climax have enabled Japan for a moment to frustrate the designs of Russia. A fortnight ago the Japanese legation secured a reliable outline of the terms of the treaty, and thereupon demanded that the Chinese plenipotentiaries officially lay before them the text, basing this demand upon the allegation that Japanese interests were involved in any change of the status of Manchuria.

The Chinese plenipotentiaries refused to comply with the demand. Thereupon the Japanese government, from Tokio, communicated with the southern viceroys and induced them to use their influence with the empress dowager against the treaty. In the meantime, the empress dowager instructed Li Hung Chang to communicate the treaty, after certain modifications, to to hministers of the powers, and if they did not object to sign the same.

The Fatal Quarrel.

Li Hung Chang visited M. Lessar and explained to him the instructions. The Russian minister strongly objected to revealing the text of the treaty to the ministers of the other powers, and a stormy interview ensued. Li Hung Chang went home in a violent passion and had a hemorrhage, which the doctors attribute to the over-exertion of a weakened system.

While these things were happening in Peking, the southern viceroys sent to the empress dowager a memorial against the treaty. On receiving it she telegraphed to Li Hung Chang, countermanding the order to sign.

This instruction came after Li Hung Chang had become unconscious. When M. Lessar endeavored to have Li Hung Chang's seal affixed to the treaty, Chou Fu, provincial treasurer, had arrived from Pao Ting-Fu and had taken charge of the seals as the temporary successor of Earl Li.

The flag on the United States legation was the only one half-masted in Peking today. The mourners and the family of Li Hung Chang will burn paper offerings tomorrow in accordance with custom for the use of his spirit in the other world. The street is hung with mourning emblems. All the attendants at the yamen are richly attired and many of them gaudily dressed. Today musicians beat drums about the house.

Rise of an Unknown.

Li Hung Chang's estate will remain intact for the use of his eldest son, who will provide for the other members of the family.

Yuan Shi Kai's successor in the governorship of the province of Shan Tung is an unknown man who has been holding an unimportant though lucrative position as grain commissioner in one of the small towns of the province. He will be watched with the deepest solicitude, as the peace of China will largely depend upon his course.

Wang Wen Shao, who is 74 years of age and deaf, was never rated as a statesman or a diplomatist. His appointment is probably temporary.

Telegraphic communication with Prince Ching was obtained today. He is hastening to meet the court. After consultation he will return with Wang Wen Shao, who is accompanying the court, which is now five days' journey from Kai Fong-Fu.

Emperor Asserts Himself.

Emperor Kwang Su, report says, is asserting himself and leading the imperial cortege on horseback. Native papers declare that he proposes to inaugurate a revival of the military spirit, assuming the honorary position of commander-in-chief and wearing a uniform. They also assert that he will compel the nobles to follow his example to take military positions and to study military science.

A private letter from a European now in Tai-Yuen-Fu says that two British officers with a party of Indian soldiers encountered the imperial procession, were suspected of unfriendly motives and were detained as prisoners by the emperor's bodyguard for a few days. Apparently this was an exploring party, commanded by Maj. Manifold and Capt. Hunter, which has been operating in that region for some time.

Yuan's Appointment a Good One.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Yuan Shi Kai, governor of the province of Shan Tung, who exerted his influence to prevent the southern provinces from joining in the anti-foreign uprising, who has been named by the empress dowager as the successor of Li Hung Chang, has thus become charged with the responsible duty of envoy plenipotentiary to conclude the negotiations connected with the revision of treaties and the return of the provinces of Manchuria to Chinese dominion.

He also has been appointd to the important post of governor of Chi Li, in which position he will be responsible for the maintenance of order in that province, and will thus be virtually in control of the court when it re-establishes itself in Peking. To assist him in the administration of this province Yuan Shi Kai will have the support of Wang Wen Shao, who has been named by the empress dowager as deputy viceroy.

When the news of Yuan Shi Kai's appointment was received by the state department it was transmitted to W. W. Rockhill, who has just returned from Peking, where he represented the United States as special commissioner in the negotiations. Mr. Rockhill subsequently saw Secretary Hay and the two officials expressed gratification over the appointment. While Yuan Shi Kai is not supported by the strong party which Li Hung Chang had behind him, he is regarded as a man of influence, highly patriotic and prepared to devote his best efforts to the service of the country.

BIG CAPTURE BY REBEL GUNBOAT

Overhauls a Colombian Government Transport Filled With Troops, but Forced to Abandon Prize by Arrival of Reinforcements--Tumaco Has Fallen.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)
(Copyright, 1901, by New York Herald.)

PANAMA, COLOMBIA, Nov. 8.—The revolutionary gunboat Darien, which was captured from the Colombian government, recently stopped the Telegrafo, a government vessel proceeding from David with troops under Capt. Delbusto. The Darien captured the soldiers and the arms and ammunition.

While the Darien was towing away the Telegrafo a barge bringing the remainder of the federal troops to Fort Aguadalice came into sight. The Darien then let go the Telegrafo and steamed at full speed for Chorrera.

The British warship Amphion has arrived here.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—The state department is in receipt of a dispatch dated October 28 from the United States consul general at Panama, reporting that the liberal forces have captured Tumaco, south of Panama about 500 miles. They took 100 to 600 soldiers prisoners and captured five or six cannon, many rifles, a quantity of ammunition and one small ship, the Gaitan.

Lieut. Commander McCrea of the Machias has forwarded papers showing to what straits the local authorities at Colon have been reduced to raise funds against which steamship companies protested. The new regulations doubles the harbor dues, which are lumped together and called "the commercial contribution."

The department has been informed as to the various ways by which the local authorities have raised funds, such as hypothecating all the dues from the Panama Railroad Company for six months to come, adding 20 per cent and then doubling the custom dues on all articles, and by levying "war taxes" or assessments upon all solvent Colombians.

GERMANY IN BAD HUMOR.

Foreign Office Insists On Its Right to Send Warships to South American Coasts.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)
(Copyright, 1901, by New York Herald.)

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Some days ago an article was republished from the Revue de Paris regarding a conversation which the kaiser had on board the Hohenzollern with some French tourists, in the course of which the emperor, it was said, expressed himself coldly concerning Americans and strongly on his view that a European combination is a necessity against the American commercial system of trusts.

Since that publication the correspondent of The Pittsburgh Gazette has been trying to find out through the regular channels of the foreign office whether such utterances have been made, or whether the statements, or something like them, had, if they had been uttered by the emperor, been misunderstood by the French tourists. The subject was broached to a member of the foreign office.

The official broke out into a statement about slights to Germany in South America. He said whatever speeches President Roosevelt may have made at the time concerning the rights of the United States in South America when excitement was rife, the president of the United States thoroughly understood that whenever any of the southern republics give offense to Germany the country would send her warships there to exact justice and would insist upon her rights so to act again.

THE EMPRESS' ILLNESS.

As Soon As She Can Bear the Journey She Will Be Taken South.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)
(Copyright, 1901, by New York Herald.)

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Following the news published in the European edition of the Herald and denied here at first, as to the seriousness of the Empress Augusta Victoria's illness, it is now announced that as soon as the empress' condition admits, and she is sufficiently rested to bear the journey, she will start for the south to try the effects of a milder climate. It is possible that Abbazzia, on the Adriatic, will be chosen.

Prince Ludwig of Bavaria was thrown from his cart last evening near Nymphenberg castle afer colliding with a tree. The accident put his left shoulder out of joint.

OBSTACLE TO RANSOM.

Bulgarian Government Trying to Prevent Negotiations.

SOFIA, Nov. 8.—The Bulgarian government last night caused the arrest of a man who was visiting United States Consul General Dickinson, and searched him, presumably thinking he was an emissary of the brigands, and expecting to seize a communication from or to Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary. The man was subsequently released.

This action of the authorities was seemingly a deliberate attempt to frighten delegates who might visit Mr. Dickinson, and thus prevent negotiations from taking place in Bulgarian territory. The attitude of the authorities hampers Mr. Dickinson, as the brigands refuse to treat in Turkey.

AN ENORMOUS FUND FOR BERLIN CHARITY

It Will Be Doled Out This Winter on a Scale Never Before Attempted.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Charity, to be dispensed throughout Germany during the coming winter, is on the scale hitherto unapproached in the history of the empire. All the great agencies for relief of the poor, both public and private, are preparing to succor hundreds of thousands.

A conservative estimate places the nation's distress 50 per cent heavier than a year ago, and many times acuter than at any other period of the past. There is an abnormally large and growing number of unemployed working people.

Berlin expects to expend several millions for ordinary annual poor appropriations.

DIVORCE NOT VALID.

Marriage Bonds Severed in California Still Bind in England.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—A case involving the validity of an American divorce under the English law, was heard before Sir Francis Jeune in the divorce court today.

Petition was made by Ethel Gertrude Robinson, otherwise Strickland, that her marriage on May 2, 1893, with Edward Ernest Robinson, should be declared invalid. She had lived with that gentleman from that time down to July 1898. There was one child by the marriage. It was then discovered that Robinson had been married to a Miss Hawtrey in 1878. In 1887 the first marriage was dissolved by the superior court of California. Sir Francis Jeune asked:

"Was he in this country in 1887, when the divorce was granted?"

Mr. Barnard, counsel for Mr. Robinson replied:

"He was in this country in 1883, and remained here until 1898, when he left the petitioner. I say, he never lost his domicile by origin, and the American divorce was not binding."

His lordship said it was clear, according to the marriage law of this country, that the divorce granted in California was not valid, and, therefore, the judge granted a declaration to that effect, with costs for judgment to the petitioner accordingly.

TURKEY GIVES IN.

France's Example Likely to Be Followed by Other Powers.

PARIS, Nov. 8.—The foreign office this morning received advices announcing that the sultan of Turkey has yielded to the entire demands formulated by the French government, and only the question of form regarding the execution of the engagements remains to be settled. This may be done within the next 24 hours. Then Admiral Caillard will relinquish his occupation of the island of Mityiene.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Turkey's hands will be frequently in her pocket as a result of the naval demonstration which France is making. This is the opinion of officials and diplomats who have been considering the effect of the French seizure of the island of Mityiene. France is not the only European power that has claims against the sultan. Turkey is in the debt of every nation of the continent, and in view of the success of the French method, it would not be surprising should Russia, and other nations observe it in the collection of claims which they have been for years pressing upon the attention of the sultan. The Turks are inclined to hold the United States responsible for the attitude of France.

NEW PRINCE OF WALES.

British Heir Apparent Receives Two New Titles.

LONDON, November 8.—The Duke of Cornwall and York has been created Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester.

CABLED BREVITIES.

Two banks have failed at Riga, Russia.

London's new lord mayor, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, was installed.

A Russian diplomatic and commercial expedition will go to Abyssinia.

Money is so scarce in the Russian oil region that naphtha companies are crippled.

H. St. John Dix, an alleged bank wrecker from Whatcom, Wash., is under arrest in London.

Jan Szczepanik, the "Austrian Edison," has left for New York to lecture in America about his discoveries.

The Russian government is considering the project of connecting by a canal the Baltic and Black seas.

The American Jessup scientific expedition to Siberia has arrived at Moscow, having finished its work.

Mr. Leishman of Pittsburgh, United States minister to Turkey, will sail from Southampton for America today.

First Lieut. Robert T. Crawford of the First infantry, a sergeant and five men, while attempting to cross the Barboan river, in Samar, were drowned.

Emperor William of Germany, Emperor Franz Josef of Austria and King Victor Emmanuel have already accepted invitations to Kink Edward's coronation.

James Bryce, the English statesman now visiting the West Indies for a study of the politic-economic conditions of the islands, predicts that the Philippines will ultimately be exchanged for the British West Indies.

As an outcome of a brawl at the banquet tendered to the officers of the Chilean cruiser at Havana November 5, Gen. Montalvo, warden of the insular penitentiary, challenged Dr. Tamayo, secretary of state, to fight a duel. The police interfered and the principals were kept apart.

VEILED DEFENSE OF GEN. BULLER

Without Mentioning His Name, Maguire, the Army Expert, Gets After His Civilian Critics--Claims to Have a Copy of Buller's Famous Dispatch.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Thomas Miller Maguire, an army coach, claims to possess the text of the actual copy of General Buller's famous dispatch to General White, sent him after the battle of Colenso. He created a furore of enthusiasm at the Royal United Service institution tonight, where he made a veiled, but intelligible defense of the deposed general. In course of his lecture, he said:

"Let a general in the field make one mistake, and the politicians, unconscious of their own shortcomings, will cry 'shame.' The campaign in South Africa should teach us, rulers and ruled alike, not to carp at braver and better men. What war in the history of the world is free from commanders' mistakes? Gens. McClellan, Meade, Hooker and Burnsides made them. Napoleon's greatest generals made them. Consummate strategist himself, he blundered stupendously.

"Napoleon thought he could conquer the Muscovites, but he lost 300,000 men in the mad experiment. Napoleon also thought his cavalry would move the British square, but the square stood still, so the emperor became Cronje's predecessor at St. Helena. Nevertheless, if one of our generals today presumably fails to interpret the enemy's strategy and takes one false step, his critics shriek, and somebody's scalp must pay the penalty."

Maguire scathingly arraigned the war offices for alleged failure to teach officers of the army the principles of strategy, and in conclusion said:

"The African conflict has taught nothing new to the student of war. The art employed to cover guerrilla tactics is terrible sometimes, but necessary. The devastation in South Africa stands before us in marvelous completeness; but so it did in the American civil strife. Gens. Sherman and Sheridan taught the game of scotching guerrilla fighting, and one can learn more of it when he knows what occurred between the Rappahannock and the James rivers. We should use our minds. We should study the book."

FOREIGN NEWS NOTES.

Queensland. A bill has just been introduced in parliament which not only provides for a vote for every male over 21 years who is a British naturalized subject, but also proposes to give a married man who had or has two children "born in the colony" an extra vote. All sorts of questions are being asked. Some want to know what right a man has to the extra vote if his two children are dead, and what their interests in the country are anyway. Others desire to be told why the man who brings two children with him from another country should be tabooed in favor of him who has two born in the colony. Altogether the proposal is ridiculous, some of the leading press going so far as to describe it as a farce. No one seems inclined to give the government credit for any honest endeavor and the possibility is that the measure will be laughed out of the house—if the government is foolish enough to go on with it.

The power will be electricity from the Falls of Salazar. It being necessary to pump the water to a height sufficient to give it pressure over the city. The work will be completed in three years.

Russia. The workhouse system in this country is being greatly improved. In Siberia the development of the country is being assisted by the labors of the poor, who are employed in the improvement of the roads and in the opening up of new highways. Wells are being dug by necessitous labor; schoolhouses built, and in the workhouses from working and other trades are taught. Many thousands have thus been saved from starvation and assisted without being pauperized.

Scotland. Edinburgh is suffering from want of water. The past summer has been one of unprecedented drought. Very little rain has fallen since May last, with the result that the reservoirs in the Pentland and Moorfoot Hills having received no augmentation, the stock of water in them has steadily decreased until Edinburgh has been brought within 20 or 30 days of the end of its supply.

POISON BOUGHT BY JANE TOPPAN

A Reporter Says He Found Druggist Who Sold to Her Morphine Tablets.

PURCHASE RECORDED IN PHARMACY BOOK

If True, the Story Seems to Supply the Missing Link of Evidence Which the Prosecution Sought. Mrs. Gibbs' Death.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 8.—A reporter today asserts that he has discovered the first positive evidence which would tend to show that Jane Toppan bought drugs or poison. This is the point that the government has been seeking to establish, and is the keystone of the whole case.

According to the reporter's story, on a day not yet ascertained, but during the second or third week in July, Jane Toppan, then attending the Davis family at the Jachine house in Cataumet, telephoned from the postoffice to Benjamin Waters' drug store at Wareham an order for a bottle of morphine tablets the strongest possible. The order was received by the proprietor over the telephone and the order filled. The message instructed Waters to send the tablets inclosed in a paper wrapper to Miss Toppan, to be delivered to her and to no one else at Cataumet.

The druggist, having filled the order, made a note of it in his book and wrote the name "Jane Toppan" as the person to whom the poison was sent. The bottle, containing enough poison to send into eternity a score of persons, was delivered to Jane Toppan and paid for by her.

On the day of her sudden illness, Mrs. Gibbs had been to Falmouth. She returned early in the evening and sat down with Mr. Gordon. She was feeling slightly fatigued. Nevertheless, she was in good spirits and chatted merrily. Mrs. Gibbs asked for a glass of water. Jane Toppan went out of the room and in a few minutes appeared in the sitting-room at the front of the house with a tray on which were three glasses. Jane Toppan remarked to Mrs. Gibbs and Harry Gordon that it was mineral water. Miss Toppan handed one glass to Mrs. Gibbs, one to Harry Gordon, and the other she drank herself. Almost immediately Mrs. Gibbs began to yawn and stretch.

"Oh, I feel so sleepy and tired. I guess I will lie down for a few minutes," Mrs. Gibbs said.

Probably half an hour elapsed, during which time Mrs. Gibbs continued to show unusual signs of fatigue. She talked but little, and then it was suggested that she retire for the night. She attempted to rise, but could not. She complained of numbness and became alarmed. Jane Toppan in a cool manner assured her that she was only fatigued. Mrs. Gibbs, however, was gradually growing weaker. Harry Gordon gathered her up in his strong arms and tenderly carried her up to her bed, where she sank into an apparently deep slumber, from which she never awoke, for when Dr. Latter was called the next morning the most powerful drugs failed to arouse her from her unconsciousness and she died.

The inquest into the deaths of Mrs. Mary F. Gibbs of Cataumet and Mrs. Annie G. Gordon of Chicago, alleged to have died of poison administered by Jane Toppan, was begun today in Barnstable county. The inquest was conducted behind closed doors.

Miss Toppan was before the district court at Barnstable today, but the hearing was postponed until November 15.

A SENSATIONAL RECOVERY.

A Venerable Wisconsin Lady Restored to Health by Peruna After Twenty-five Years' Suffering.

(Special News from Evansville, Wis.)

EVANSVILLE, WIS., Nov. 11.—A woman cured of catarrh of twenty-five years' standing was the occasion of Peruna being introduced to the inhabitants of Evansville, Wis. From that time to this there has been a great demand for Peruna in this vicinity and hundreds of cases have been cured.

It is in this manner that Peruna spreads from town to town and from state to state. No sort of advertising could have given Peruna the reputation it has. The secret of its success is that it makes cures. It cures old cases of catarrh where other remedies have failed. This ought to make any remedy popular.

Mr. C. R. Harden of Evansville, Wis., writes the following letter:

Dear Doctor Hartman—"I wish to write to certify what Peruna has done for me. I read of Peruna in the papers, of what it would do for catarrh, and sent for a bottle. This was the first bottle of Peruna that ever came to Evansville; from my using it all three of the druggists now keep it.

"It cured my wife of catarrh with which she had been troubled for more than twenty-five years, and I had been troubled with it for fifteen years. We are now both all right.

"My youngest son had la grippe four years ago, and as he had supposed had got well, or so far recovered that he went to work. He took a relapse and the pneumonia set in. He had hemorrhages, and though we tried everything we could think of it was to no purpose until we gave him Peruna. The hemorrhages stopped, and he soon got up and is well and hard at work. We think there is nothing like Peruna."

In a recent letter Mr. Harden writes: "We keep Peruna always in the house, as it cured us both of catarrh of long standing. We have callers every little while to inquire as to what Peruna has done for us. I say: 'Look at us. That is proof enough.'

"I send you a picture of my residence. I helped build a house in Iowa City on the first of last June, and worked eighty-two days, only losing one-quarter of a day during the whole time. How is that for an old man 77 years old? I came home in September and have built another house out in the country this fall and am well and hearty today.

"I hope to live twenty years yet, and if Peruna helps me in the future as it has in the past, I don't know why I can't. The druggists say Peruna is one of the best selling medicines they have in stock. C. R. Harden.

Peruna can be relied upon to cure slight colds and coughs and other catarrhal ailments with a promptness that is unequaled by any other remedy.

If a cold has settled in any portion of the body and produced catarrh, it is generally thought by people that they must suffer on year after year without any hope of cure. This is not true, however. Peruna cures such cases. Thousands of testimonials that can never be used attest this fact.

Any one wishing free literature on this subject should address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Startling Statements from Kentucky, Illinois and New Hampshire of Other Remarkable Recoveries.

WILLARD, KY.—The news of the recovery of Mrs. Elizabeth Prater is a very striking instance of the wonderful curative powers of Peruna. This estimable lady had been an invalid from catarrh of the stomach and bowels for twenty years. No wonder her many friends are enthusiastic over her recovery. She writes: "It is through the mercies of God and your medicine that I am permitted to write you this letter. I have been a constant sufferer from bowel and stomach trouble for about twenty-five years, and could never find relief until I began the use of Peruna.

Elizabeth Prater.

"I began the use of your medicine the first day of last September and have taken nine bottles of Peruna, and can say that I believe I am cured of my troubles, and I think I am enjoying as good health as an old lady of my age could expect. I am seventy-one years old. I recommend Peruna to sufferers wherever I may meet them, and others of my friends are being benefited by it. I think it is a godsend to poor suffering humanity.

"I will always be thankful to you for your medicine and kind advice, and trust that many others will take your remedy and be as greatly benefited as I have been."

ELGIN, ILL.—In a very recent communication from this place comes the news that Mr. Arthur Ernest Kidd, a well-known architect of that city, has made complete recovery from catarrh of the head which had caused a chronic running from the ears. In medical circles this cure has created a decided sensation. Her own statement of the case is as follows:

Mr. A. E. Kidd.

"I have suffered for several years with catarrh of the head. It finally affected my ear, and caused a running ear. Having read of Dr. Hartman's remedies I immediately wrote and he advised me. Today I am in better health than I have been for some time. I will gladly recommend Peruna for all catarrhal diseases."

There is only one systemic catarrh remedy that is equal to the whole system of catarrh. That remedy is Peruna. This is a remedy that needs no eulogizing in addition to what people say about it. Everywhere they are praising Peruna as a remedy for all forms of catarrhal difficulties.

Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio, for a free copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on catarrh. This book treats of the different phases and stages of catarrh and should be in the hands of every catarrh sufferer. "Health and Beauty" sent free to women.

MANCHESTER, N. H.—According to late advices, Miss Blanche L. Rundlett has made a complete recovery from catarrh of the head which had caused a chronic running from the ears. In medical circles this cure has created a decided sensation. Her own statement of the case is as follows:

Blanche L. Rundlett.

"I have suffered for several years with catarrh of the head. It finally affected my ear, and caused a running ear. Having read of Dr. Hartman's remedies I immediately wrote and he advised me. Today I am in better health than I have been for some time. I will gladly recommend Peruna for all catarrhal diseases."

HOMESTEAD LEXOW BEGINS.

Burgess Miller Goes On the Stand and Testifies Against the Police.

A GIRL'S TALE.

With a Reason for Misleading the Father.

"We have tried for a long time to persuade papa that perhaps his diet had something to do with his ill feelings; he used to laugh good-naturedly and say, 'Why, girls, I've been used to eating and drinking ever since I was a boy, I was trained that way. No, I fear some change has taken place in my body and I shall never be well again.'

"We often suggested that he leave off coffee and tobacco, but he urged that they did not hurt him and were a comfort; so we acquiesced until one day sister insisted on making the coffee one-half Postum Food Coffee, and it was made that way for about 10 days until papa seemed brighter and complained less of his head.

"'That's it!' sister exclaimed, and from that day she served Postum alone without any coffee.

"Papa never detected the difference, for we have learned the secret of making Postum to give it a prime, crisp flavor; it is easy enough; just allow it to continue boiling 15 minutes, counting from the time boiling commences, not from the time it is placed on the stove.

"Well, the dear old soul seemed day by day to take on new life, he began to stay at the office later and was full of fun when he came home in the evening.

"The proof is plain enough that, morning after morning, year in and year out, we had been feeding our dear old governor with coffee that is really a strong liquid drug and it was gradually but surely killing him.

"When it was partially removed he got a little better, and when it was entirely removed and the pure food coffee, Postum, served, his recovery was rapid.

"We don't fool papa on many things, but we just had to this time, for he was steadily and surely leaving us, and we love the dear old man too much to leave anything undone that will keep him here.

"It is a woman's privilege, you know, to tease, cajole and beg, then 'finesse' if the dear old hard-headed things won't listen to reason."

MANY RECEIVE GIFTS OF BONDS

TWENTY-TWO EMPLOYES OF THE CARNEGIE CO. REWARDED.

Each Received a Block of Bonds, the Amounts Running from $30,000 to $75,000—All But One Were Employes of the Edgar Thomson Steel Plant and Furnaces—All Were Old in Service.

Considerable speculation has arisen among those interested as to the identity of the employes of the Carnegie Steel Company who were included in the list of those to whom were recently presented blocks of the company's bonds as a reward for long and faithful services in their various capacities. The Gazette is enabled to publish this morning an accurate list of the men who have been thus rewarded. The names of the following have been published as the beneficiaries of this gift in previous issues of this paper: Thomas Cosgrove, Thomas James, Edward White, Thomas Addenbrook, John Noey, Charles E. Dinkey, John Lewis, George Brasset, and Edward Oskin.

In addition to these the following names have been announced as being among the employes who were given shares in the bonds of the company:

Michael Kileen, assistant superintendent of the Edgar Thomson furnaces; Hedrea Stritchfield, boss heater; David Miller, superintendent of the rail and bloom mills; George Nieman, chief pattern maker; Andrew McWilliams, chief carpenter; G. E. F. Gray, chief clerk; A. J. Boyle, night superintendent at the rail mill; George Harris, superintendent of the finishing mill; Frank Bridges, purchasing agent of machinery; Harry Benn, superintendent of the roll turning shops; Russell Rose, superintendent of the stock yards, at the furnaces.

All of these men are employes at the Edgar Thomson steel plant and furnaces at Braddock, and with one or two exceptions have been in the employ of the firm for the past 25 years, and some of them since the building of the plant.

All were given 5 per cent bonds of the Carnegie Steel Company, the interest of which will annually equal their salaries, thus virtually doubling the amount of money they at present receive. The exact amount of bonds given to each man will not be made public, but as the salaries run from $1,500 to $3,000 a year, it is a simple calculation to discover that they were given from $30,000 to $60,000 worth each.

DOES NOT KNOW ABOUT REMOVAL

Senator Flinn Is Silent As to Removal of Recorder Brown.

PLEADS IGNORANCE OF TRIP EAST

He Evades Direct Questions On These Subjects—J. O. Brown Refuses to Discuss His Visit to Philadelphia.

While the followers of William Flinn insist that Recorder A. M. Brown is to be removed, the senator is silent. He declines to comment on the report and even asserted that he did not know J. O. Brown had been in the east soliciting support.

Although J. O. Brown returned to this city from Philadelphia yesterday morning, he did not appear at Flinn headquarters during the day. When the city chairman was inquired for Senator Flinn said: "I think he is in West Virginia. He told me that he was going Wednesday and I have not seen him since. I do not believe that he was in the east."

Senator Flinn evaded every question when an effort was made to learn if he thought Recorder Brown would be removed. He denied that he told a friend the other day that he had "Stone bottled up for the appointment of either J. O. Brown or ex-Mayor W. J. Diehl as the successor to Recorder Brown."

"What does Thomas Bigelow say about the removal of Major Brown? He ought to know."

The Senator was told that Mr. Bigelow was confident that the recorder would not be disturbed. To the question, "do you agree with Mr. Bigelow?" Mr. Flinn declined to go on record. He admitted that some of his friends would bet on the removal of the recorder.

Brown Declined to Talk.

When J. O. Brown came back from Philadelphia yesterday morning, he was mysterious. He declined to discuss the removal of Recorder Brown, except to say that the place had not been promised him.

The Flinn people are not so hopeful as they pretend to be, about the removal of the recorder. It would not be surprising if their opposition to the present city administration would be withdrawn, if they were allowed to continue to control the county officers. A variety of harmony might be secured by a division of this kind. Such an idea was suggested to Senator Flinn, but he was more inclined to discuss other subjects.

For the present nothing definite is being done by the stalwarts, about the selection of either councilmanic or county tickets. Every one is resting after the hard work of the state campaign. It may be that a full county ticket will be placed in the field and then there is a possibility that the field will not be entered for the present. If it is decided to nominate a full ticket the Kopp-Mackrell deal may be declared off.

John P. Eberhardt called on Senator Flinn yesterday. The old head of the window glass workers is thinking of being a candidate for congress in the Thirty-second district.

"Senator Flinn gave me to understand that he was neutral," said Mr. Eberhardt. "If I decide to go into the contest I do not anticipate much difficulty in defeating Cox and Berchfield, even though they have been at work for some time. My health has been bad, however, and my candidacy will depend largely upon my condition."

Simon Burns, head of the Window Glass Workers union, announces that he will oppose Eberhardt.

Lowry May Get Out of Fight.

Ex-Sheriff Harvey A. Lowry has about decided to get out of the county recordership contest. "I find that all of the leaders are for Von Bonnhorst," said he. "I have been loyal, however, but as for the future, I have nothing to say until I have carefully viewed the present political situation."

There is promise of a stiff councilmanic fight in the Seventeenth ward. The Flinn machine will endeavor to re-elect M. G. Leslie to common council, with William Brandt as a running mate. This means that William Culbertson is to be turned down.

The stalwarts may take up Mr. Culbertson. He is very strong and has a clean record. The old machine are now alarmed, however, about the probability of Hugh Ferguson going on the ticket with Culbertson. For several terms he represented the ward in council and was a thorn to the machine. Business matters caused his temporary withdrawal from politics. If he re-enters the field the Seventeenth ward will send him to council.

In the Eighteenth ward the machine is backing S. J. Wainwright for select council. Philip Dressing may run on the stalwart ticket. In this event the contest will be a pretty one.

A Stalwart Republican organization was formed in the Twenty-sixth ward last night at a meeting of the citizens in the parlors of the Duquesne hotel, No. 1924 Carson street. Police Inspector Thomas J. Morley acted as temporary chairman until officers were elected. Edward Grinder was elected president, Dr. William H. Lehner secretary, and John Klinzing treasurer. Seventy-five men were present, and 250 names were authorized to be placed on the roster. Resolutions indorsing Recorder Brown and his administration were adopted. The club will meet next Friday night.

LINCOLN AVENUE IS REFUSED A BRIDGE

Finance Committee Turns a Deaf Ear to Plea for the Residents of Region.

Although $520,000 of bond issue funds, voted for the improvement of city bridges, is lying idle, and plans have been completed for nearly two years, the Flinn members of councils refuse to allow any of the money to be spent in rebuilding the Lincoln avenue bridge.

The residents of the district are loyal to the present city administration and their representative in councils, R. H. Douglas. For this reason the Flinn councilmen propose to make them suffer by depriving them of badly needed public improvements.

The question came up before the finance committee of councils yesterday, and was referred to a sub-committee. Speeches against it were made by Kirk D. Bingham, Max G. Leslie and other Flinn "organization" leaders.

Councilman Douglas of the Twenty-first ward made a strong, convincing speech in favor of a new bridge for Lincoln avenue. He explained the urgent necessity for it, and declared that enough money was available to rebuild both the Lincoln avenue structure and the bridge at South Tenth street. He said the Lincoln avenue bridge would cost $165,000, and a 40-foot bridge at South Tenth street would cost $285,000. This is the amount contracted for.

There is $520,000 in the bond issue fund. This would leave a balance of $70,000 for widening the South Tenth street bridge if $285,000 is insufficient.

In spite of these figures, the organization councilmen stubbornly refused to yield a point. Mr. Bigham magnanimously offered to take what money was wanted for the South Tenth street bridge, and, if any was left, to let it be spent on the Lincoln avenue bridge.

Mr. Bigham estimated the cost of rebuilding and widening the Tenth street bridge at $460,000.

Mr. Douglas called his attention to the fact that widening the bridge would make the purchase of a great deal of real estate adjoining it necessary.

It has been estimated by engineers of the department of public works that several hundred thousand dollars would have to be spent by the city to pay damages to private property if the bridge is widened. There is no provision in the bond issue for such an appropriation.

The sub-committee appointed by Chairman W. A. Magee consists of Max G. Leslie and William J. Ruhlandt, both organization men, and Mr. Douglas, who will be in the minority in his efforts to get a favorable recommendation.

The ordinance for the new Center avenue bridge crossing the Pennsylvania railroad, to cost $13,000, was recommended to councils for passage.

WILL DOUBLE CAPACITY.

Keystone Driller Company Is Enlarging Its Plant—Capital Stock Has Also Been Doubled.

The Keystone Driller Company of Beaver Falls has just completed the erection of two new steel and stone buildings, each 40x200 feet, which have been equipped with new machinery for the manufacture of portable drilling machines. This improvement will more than double the capacity of the plant.

A new brick office building is now under construction, and will be ready for occupancy by the first of December. The capital stock of the company has been increased from $150,000 to $300,000, and the concern expects to considerably enlarge its business during the coming year.

The officers of the company are D. McAllister, president; R. M. Downie, treasurer, and R. G. Forbes, secretary. The company began operations in 1882, at Fallston, under the name of the Keystone Portable Steam Driller Company, but, about 10 years ago changed its name and enlarged its capital.

The machinery built by the company is used for testing gravel beds for gold, many of them being in use in Idaho, Colorado and other Western states. Two or three different styles are in use in the oil regions and for deep water drilling. The company is now engaged in building the largest portable driller ever turned out, and it will be completed within 10 days.

Bradford County Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 8.—T. H. Selleck has been appointed postmaster at Franklindale, Bradford county, Pa., vice G. M. Gilbert, resigned.

Here's a Pointer.

Take a postal card, address it to the Cranitonic Hair Food Co., 526 West Broadway, New York City, and write on the reverse side something like this: "Please send me a copy of the 48 page illustrated book entitled Hair Care and a sample of the Cranitonic Hair Food Products, which the Commercial Gazette says you are sending free and postpaid to people who ask for them." Sign your name, give your address, street and number and mail the card. Then wait a few days and you will receive by mail a sample of the most exquisite French toilet preparation ever offered to the public.

If you will write a letter, enclosing a small lock of hair or a sample of the daily combings, and state if you have falling hair, dandruff or itching scalp, the physicians of the Cranitonic Institute will make a microscopical examination of the hair, send you a report upon its condition and prescribe curative treatment free of charge. 111h

MINES OPENED AT PORT ROYAL

Operations Resumed at the Scene of the Great June Disaster.

FATEFUL NO. 2 SHAFT IS ABANDONED

Brick Brattices Shut Off Nearly a Third of the Workings Where the Principal Incidents of the Fatality Centered.

The Port Royal mines on the Youghiogheny river, the scene of the terrible disaster of last June, have been reopened. About 200 men are now engaged in bringing to the surface 1,000 tons of the excellent steam coal of the colliery. The production is nearly two-thirds of that before the disater.

No. 2 shaft, the center of the incidents of the disaster, in which nearly a score of men were killed, has been abandoned as a hoisting shaft. It is now equipped as a ventilating shaft and the workings near it are being developed again.

Every necessary precaution within the science of the best mining engineers has been taken and thorough inspections have pronounced the property absolutely safe for operation. A short time ago it was thought that a new development of the property would not be undertaken for two years, the mines being regarded as holding too much gas. It was subsequently found that operations could be renewed, but as a matter of extra precaution about a third of the workings have been cut off by the erection of brick brattices and remain idle.

It is not thought that there is any fire in these idle entries, but it is not considered safe to open them from the main entry or "heading," as it is called in the coke fields.

The idle workings may be reopened before long by connection with the Darr mine nearby on the opposite side of the Youghiogheny river, or a new shaft, for which surveys have been made, may be put down. Chief Engineer E. J. Taylor of the Pittsburgh Coal Company yesterday had a conference with Division Engineer William C. Stratton on the matter.

The disaster of June 9, followed a similar one of two years before. Four men were erecting a wooden crib to support the roof of a room close to the main entry. Nearby were the partings of the mine tracks, where the drivers were accustomed to use open lamps.

One of the four men is supposed to have strayed to dangerous parts and caused the first explosion with his open lamp. His body has never been recovered.

HOODOO ABROAD IN LITTLE TOWN

MANY THOMPSONS RUN CITIZENS ARE INJURED.

Eight Out of Nineteen Families of Little Hamlet in Buttermilk Hollow Have Had Member Injured Within Three Weeks—Rabbits' Feet and Other Charms Have Proven Useless, and Gloom Enwraps Village

Thompsons Run has a hoodoo. Its inhabitants search in vain for a rabbit's foot, or other charm to drive away the spell, and the locality is in bad favor with everybody except the doctors. In the little hamlet of 19 families within three weeks' time nine persons in eight different homes have been maimed or hurt. Not one of them is yet able to be about.

Thompsons Run lies in Mifflin township, near Dravosburg. Greater Thompsons Run extends for three miles, down Buttermilk hollow—a straggling string of houses, from a point near Calhoun park; but to reach Thompsons Run proper you must take the main road down the hollow, turn to the right at the first forks of the road, keep straight on at the second, and so on ad infinitum. Occasionally, it would be well to inquire the way of a passerby, for the forks multiply amazingly.

The original Thompsons Run, with its 18 dwelling houses nestling in a scooped-out spot among the hills, is three miles from Buttermilk hollow, and here it is that the hoodoo has been getting in his work.

First, William Henry, a miner at Risher's coal bank, suffered a broken leg while at work two weeks ago. Two days later John Warren's arm was crushed by a piece of falling roof in Stein's coal pit. Before the close of the week an exploding lamp in the home of William Charles, a miner, had burned both Charles and his wife severely, neither of the old people being yet able to leave their room.

Early this week Henry Keifer, who works in the National tube works at McKeesport, was brought home from the mill with a mangled foot. The same evening Sylvester Rhoades was thrown from his carriage at Dravosburg and received internal injuries. On Tuesday Frank Snyder, a carpenter, was struck by a falling board while at work near his home, and had one arm broken, and a day later Peter Stein, a pit boss, cut his foot severely with an ax. Only the day before Stein suffered his disability Frank Klein, a workman under him, had his foot crushed in the mine.

Died While Climbing to Safety.

BESSEMER, MICH., Nov. 8.—The fire in Mikado mine was extinguished today after a damage of $10,000. Two hundred men are thrown out of employment. The body of Erick Johnson, one of the entombed men, was found clinging to a ladder 150 feet from the surface. Williams' body has not yet been recovered.

FILLING LARGE ORDERS.

Local Builders of Conveying Machinery Completing Large Contracts—New Plants at Leetsdale.

Tate, Jones & Co. of the Empire building have closed contracts within the past few weeks for conveying machinery aggregating $60,000. Among them is a large conveyor for the Davis Coal & Coke Company, at Thomas, W. Va., to be used for taking coal from the mouth of the mine to the tipple.

Another contract which the company is now filling is for the National Malleable Casting Company of Sharon, a conveyor being installed to carry the coal from cars to the furnaces and gas producers. The work on the big conveyors for the Pennsylvania department of the National Tube Company, at Bohe, is almost completed. The conveyors here take the place of men in carrying the coal to furnaces and producers.

Tate, Jones & Co. are building a large plant of their own at Leetsdale, Pa., adjoining the ground recently purchased by the Riter & Conley Company. A machine shop 60x100 feet is being constructed and other buildings will be added next spring. The investment will aggregate about $100,000.

Carnegie.

The lord rector of the Scotch university of St. Andrews, Mr. Andrew Carnegie, last night reached Pittsburgh, his old home. The tongue of rumor has been busy, since he sailed for this country, with a report that King Edward intends to give him the rank and title of a baronet. Scotch universities may bestow upon him their highest dignity and the king may make him a baronet or anything else within his power, but neither university nor king can create a Carnegie. Such as he, most truly, are born, not made. Man-made honors that may be showered upon him are mere tokens of esteem and tributes of admiration. They add nothing to the man. Pittsburgh cannot make him either a lord rector or a baronet, but Pittsburgh gave him the opportunity to develop those qualities that elevate him above things that would confer distinction on another, and on Pittsburgh, partly because of this, he confers benefits with the lavish hand of one who has learned how much more blessed it is to give than to receive.

The coming of Mr. Carnegie to confer with the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute upon the plans for the technological school is an important event, for it will no doubt result in a decision upon the site and upon other matters in connection with the great project, so that the work can be put under way. Already much has been done. The committee on plan and scope, no doubt familiar with Mr. Carnegie's wishes and intentions, has gone into the subject with great thoroughness. It has canvassed the broad field of instruction contemplated in a school of this character, and, imbued with the idea that the institution must rank with others of its kind, and bearing in mind the needs of the great city of Pittsburgh and the certain rapid growth of those needs, has made generous and far-reaching plans. It is wise to plan broadly in a case of so much importance. It is wise to provide for the future, and to anticipate the needs of a constantly increasing industrial population. The previous liberality of Mr. Carnegie leads to the belief that he will be pleased with the large things thought out for the school of technology.

The extension of the institute is another large item to which Mr. Carnegie will give some time and thought. But so far as he is concerned the plans for this enterprise are complete, and his one effort will be to have those in charge of the details make better progress. It is the technological school that will claim his more earnest thought. It is a great project, worthy of a great man.

Protection Against Fire.

An unusual number of very destructive fires have occurred in this city and vicinity within the past few days entailing a heavy money loss, and what is worse, temporarily throwing a large number of people out of employment. Coming at the beginning of the winter season when families require extra comforts and support this last consideration is one of serious moment. It is said that the big spike mills that were destroyed on the South Side on Wednesday night will be rebuilt immediately, which will prove encouraging news to the hundreds of employes of this establishment. The fires at Bradford and at Coraopolis were both exceedingly destructive, the flames quickly getting beyond the control of the local firefighters in each instance.

The season for fires has barely begun, and with this record as a starter the outlook is not encouraging. To the efficiency and training of its splendid fire department Pittsburgh owes her immunity from largely destructive fires in recent years. With the growth of manufacturing interests and the growing of building in the suburban towns and in the larger boroughs of Western Pennsylvania more adequate means of fire protection will have to be devised.

The Sultan Repeats Himself.

There will not be much surprise felt over the news from Constantinople to the effect that the sultan of Turkey backs down completely from his former refusal to concede to France certain privileges in connection with French interests on Turkish soil. A sense of security, growing out of certain Franco-European alliances which the sultan had hoped would restrain the French government from acts of hostility, had encouraged him to push his resistance to French demands. To his great surprise, no doubt, France ceased all at once to parley, and prepared for action. We have no idea that Abdul Hamid believed, even when French warships were ordered to Turkish waters that anything more serious than a demonstration was intended. When, however, the French naval officer seized Turkish ports in the island of Mitylene and the act found approval rather than remonstrance among the other powers of Europe, the sultan became genuinely alarmed and did what he always does—backed down.

Turkey only reforms when compelled to do so at the mouth of a cannon. The concessions gained by France, however, will add greatly to the work of civilization that is going on in the Turkish empire. French interests are large in Turkey, and with the new privileges gained by force from the sultan these interests may be expected to thrive. As for Abdul, he may have to be taken through the same drastic course of compulsion the next time a foreign power has either a debt to collect or a grievance to adjust, but let the pressure be applied until reform is established.

Law Violated in Allegheny.

By turning on the light The Gazette will help the people of Allegheny to get rid of evils against which they cry aloud. There are gambling dens in the city across the river that should be suppressed. There are speakeasies that, like the gambling dens, have become notorious. There are places where even children, it is said, may obtain beer with other refreshments. An investigation has been made and a preliminary description of the things the decent people of our sister city object to is given in the news columns of this morning's paper. Doubtless the police department of Allegheny will take notice of the matter. It is within its province to grapple with the nuisances and abate them. The work cannot be taken up too soon, and when taken up, should be pushed to a conclusion. The foul spots are illuminated and their evils pointed out. Now that they are made plain to the view let them be cleansed.

Lord Roberts "Booed."

Lord Roberts has been "booed" in the streets of Nottingham, Eng., although his mission there was the distribution of medals to soldiers who had seen service in South Africa. And yet it was but a few months ago that "Bobs," as he was then affectionately called, was the recipient of all the honors accorded a conqueror, and London was the scene of a carnival of frenzied enthusiasm because of his triumphal entry. In striking contrast to the "boos" for Roberts were the cheers for Buller, who was recently deprived of his command after his confession that he had advised the surrender of Ladysmith to the Boers.

It is hard to believe that the services of Lord Roberts have so soon been forgotten. Until his appearance in South Africa the British had suffered humiliating reverses, and it was due entirely to his energy and knowledge of military affairs that order was brought out of chaos and the Boers driven from their strongholds. Buller had been a dismal failure, and the change brought about by Roberts sent a thrill of joy throughout the British empire and made him the idol of the hero worshipers. Instead of being an indication that his distinguished services have been forgotten it is altogether probable that the Nottingham affront to Lord Roberts was a manifestation of discontent resulting from subsequent mismanagement in South Africa and the blundering of the war office in London. Lord Roberts being high in favor with the military authorities, and Buller being the latest object of their displeasure, it is but natural that the discontented should "boo" the former and cheer the latter. In the course of time there will be another revulsion in sentiment, Buller will cease to be the hero of discontent, and Lord Roberts will again enjoy the popularity due a successful commander.

More Small Bills Needed.

The pressing demand for paper money of small denominations has been a feature of the monetary situation for several years. It is a sign of good times. The ability of the people to make purchases is indicated in no surer way than in the demand upon the banks for dollar bills and two-dollar bills, for making change. The more purchases, the more change. The more money received in wages, the more purchases. That is the way it works.

The treasurer of the United States, Ellis H. Roberts, will endeavor to supply the demand for small bills by asking permission from congress to reissue $140,000,000 of paper money in bills smaller than $20. When the last monthly report was made out, there were 67,679,000 one dollar bills in circulation, and 21,400,500 two-dollar bills, with five-dollar bills worth $310,570,000. Large as these numbers are, they are not large enough. Congress should grant the requisite permission readily, and thus authorize an increase in the number of small bills in circulation which the business of this prosperous period demands.

A National Flower.

The adoption of a national flower has for many years been a subject of discussion, and the expressions of choice have ranged from the sunflower to the goldenrod. Indeed, there is hardly a member of the floral family that has escaped proposition, and there have been many arguments pro and con when any one flower was seriously considered. The subject has again been brought forward, this time by a substantial indorsement at Indianapolis of the suggestion of the Indiana Florists' association that the carnation be selected as the American flower.

In such a movement there is a necessity for something distinctly American in determining a choice, and this "something" the carnation enjoys to a large degree, for it was the flower most prized by the late President McKinley, who was an American of Americans in all his habits, ideas and associations. Doubtless the McKinley sentiment had much to do with the suggestion of the Indiana florists, and the same sentiment will have much weight should there be an earnest and general effort to agree upon a national flower. The carnation is not imposing in appearance, but it has all the charm attaching to neatness, modesty, fragrance and Americanism.

The oldest newspaper in the city of Pittsburgh has resumed the name of The Pittsburgh Gazette. Established in 1716 under that designation, and consolidated in 1877 with the Commercial, the Commercial-Gazette now becomes The Pittsburgh Gazette again.—Franklin News.

Now for a mayor for Greater Harrisburg. Good men of all parties must remember that the effective work is done at the primary elections, which will be held about the first of the new year. With an opposition scarcely worth mentioning the big bond issue has been passed upon by the voters of Braddock. To many it may seem that a sum approximating $400,000 is a debt of considerable magnitude, but it must be remembered that improvements, whether made by the public or by private individuals, cost money, and are just as necessary to one as the other.—Braddock News.

Houses were never scarcer in New Castle than now. The tide of prosperity has set in strongly, bearing in upon us a great influx of population. The epithet of "old lady" no longer applies to The Pittsburgh Gazette, which has recently dropped half its name and doubled its vigor. The Gazette is the Simon-pure exponent of straight-out Republicanism in Western Pennsylvania and of late has taken first rank as a newspaper. On the 10th inst its first Sunday issue will appear, this marking another step in its remarkable progress.—Altoona Gazette.

It is now Pittsburgh Gazette, the word Commercial having been dropped. If the paper remains as good and reliable as it has been no one will kick on the loss of a word from the heading. The issue of Wednesday, with that "same old coon" perched under the heading The Pittsburgh Gazette, was a reminder of the election in 1876, when the Gazette stood almost alone among the newspapers in claiming the election of Rutherford B. Hayes.—Mercer Dispatch and Republican.

The attempted enforcement of the ancient blue laws ended in a fizzle, as might have been expected. One result was the resignation of Councilman Seaman, chairman of the police committee, which is to be regretted, as Mr. Seaman was one of the progressive councilmen and will be missed. One of the largest hogs reported in the county this season is a two-year-old sow owned by Lewis Ratter of the vicinity of Madison. The hog is over six feet long. Besides the mammoth porker Mr. Ratter has another good sized hog to kill at the same time. There are quite a number who are anxiously waiting to hear the weight of the big hog.—Greensburg Tribune.

Where Are the Old-Time Boys

From the Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Where are the boys? What has become of the public school boy who used to play peg top, marbles, baseball and hockey on the Common, and "fire" his crackers on the hill on the Fourth of July? Who coasted on the long path from Beacon to West street in winter. Can you find a boy now who knows the difference between an alley, a twoser, an agate, or a chinee? How long since you have seen a boy driving a hoop? Where are the boys who graduated from public school and entered "a store"; the boys who took down two sections of heavy shutters, swept and dusted the store and then went to breakfast, when the next in rank came down? Oh, yes, there are so-called boys, whose hair is combed or curled monkey fashion over their eyes, who wear a pewsiper for a cap on the back of their heads, smoke cigarettes, are interested in variety shows, and whose first question when seeking a place is, "What yer goin' fer pay?" But the old, hardy, bright, lovable New England boy is no more, and as Admiral Bob Evans exclaims against the over-education of New England and decries the lack of practical education of boys.

NEW YORK NOTE BOOK

New York Chamber of Commerce Is Pleased With the Active Interest Taken in It by Andrew Carnegie. History in Corner Stone.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, NEW YORK, Nov. 8.

Andrew Carnegie this afternoon took part by proxy in the laying of the corner stone of the new Chamber of Commerce building of this city. He is one of the committee in charge of the ceremonies of laying the stone and of the dedicatory exercises, which will take place when the edifice is finished, about the 1st of May. The building will be one of the handsomest in the business section of this city, and the members of the chamber are proud of the fact. Bishop Potter offered prayer today, and there were several speeches. The site of the new chamber is in Liberty street at the corner of Liberty place, and was formerly occupied by the Real Estate exchange. The papers, coins, magazines and other articles placed in the great cavity of the corner stone form a compendium of present day conditions in this country, and when the building is destroyed—in the course of a century or two, perhaps—the interest that will attach to them can hardly be judged by this generation. There is no institution of more importance to a city than the Chamber of Commerce, a fact that is realized by Pittsburghers as well as any community. For this reason Mr. Carnegie has always taken a deep interest in the chamber in New York, just as he has in that of Pittsburgh, and he has often spoken of it in terms of deep appreciation. In getting him on the committee, the officers of the New York Chamber of Commerce were alive to the value his name would be to it, and they were gratified at the readiness with which he agreed to serve. There were no elaborate ceremonies at the corner stone laying today, but the prominent men who took part in it were very much in earnest, and the large attendance of business men to witness the lowering of the ponderous marble block, with its precious contents in place proved that every movement toward giving the Chamber of Commerce a worthy home is followed with close attention.

How Burlesques Are Toned.

Weber & Field's new burlesque, which travesties "A Message from Mars," is not good. It would be counted a failure at some theaters, where the first performance must be taken as pretty nearly a sample of those that are to follow; but this rule does not obtain at Weber & Field's music hall. There has seldom been a new piece at this cozy little theater which has been downright a success. The warming up and cutting down process afterward is what turns semi-failure into success. The new burlesque was put on last night, and as the performance ran along, nearly a dozen smart fellows on the stage and in the auditorium, with three or four quick-witted and experienced theatrical women, were taking note of every line spoken and every bit of "business," and watching their effect on the audience. The lines and "business" that failed to provoke laughter or applause have all been cut out. The entertainment tonight is not like that of last evening, and in the course of a week or two it will be so widely different that little of the original except the title will remain. That is the way successes are made at Weber & Fields.

One Little Opening for Tammany.

A nice question of law affecting the holding of public office is under discussion. It is whether Justice Jerome will become district attorney immediately after midnight of December 31, or not until he takes the oath of office at noon on January 1. Robert A. Van Wyck will be mayor of Greater New York until noon of January 1, and if Jerome becomes district attorney 12 hours earlier, it will throw open his present position of justice of the court of special sessions and allow Mayor Van Wyck to appoint Jerome's successor. This would be a pity, and neither Justice Jerome nor Seth Low will allow it if it can be helped. If Jerome can be justice until Van Wyck ceases to be mayor, the new justice will be appointed by Mayor Low and another Tammany scheme will come to naught.

Tammany's Dying Grip.

The last dying kick of the Murphy-Devery police regime will be the filling of all vacancies in the police department before the 1st of January, with the benevolent object of allowing Tammany to keep as light a hold on the police department as may be. Sergeants and patrolmen have already been directed to prepare for examination to determine their fitness to enter the grades immediately above them—captains and roundsmen respectively. Nearly a hundred roundsmen are needed and there are ten vacancies for captains. It does not appear that there is any feasible way to block this game, because the new municipal administration will not take charge for six weeks yet, and there is time enough to appoint a whole police force in the interim. There is one possible method of preventing this trick, which would be for Gov. Odell summarily to bounce Police Commissioner Murphy and his deputy, "Big Chief" Devery.

Fitzsimmons a Citizen Now.

Robert Fitzsimmons was a gorgeous apparition as he stood in front of Henry Ward Beecher's statue at Brooklyn borough hall this morning. Bob had just been made a citizen of the United States He wore a swagger automobile coat reaching nearly to his heels, and his plug hat shone like a new arc light in the Indian summer sun. Fitz is what is known in the Tenderloin as "swell dresser." His silk hat always looks as if it had just been ironed, and usually there is a dainty fragrance of essences and perfumes pervading his athletic presence. He had them all on today in honor of the occasion. Judge Aspinwall asked him his profession, and he responded, briefly, "actor." Fitzsimmons took out his first papers in 1896, and when Clark Ball, a real estate dealer, swore that Fitzsimmons had been in this country for 12 years, the ex-champion took the oath and was turned loose to vote at the next election.

Cheap Bread in Sight.

Whether bread can be sold at 2½ cents a loaf and still yield a living profit, will be tried in this city, probably. The bakers who have been in business in New York for years ridicule the attempt, saying that it can mean only ruin to the innovator. B. H. Kroger, the Cincinnati baker, who is coming here to sell bread at half price, declares that bakers make too much profit on 5-cent loaves, and that he will prove the possibility of getting the same size loaf at half price. There will be some interesting scenes in the poorer districts if Kroger carries out his intent. Tenement dwellers in this city are always on the watch for cheap anything, particularly articles of food. Five-cent loaves cut down to half price, are calculated to cause a riot.

Irving Disappoints the Millionaires.

Why did not Sir Henry Irving attend the dinner at the Lawyers' club given by Charles Stewart Smith? Sir Henry sent a note of regret saying that he was ill. There were a hundred or so of millionaires waiting to meet him, for the dinner was given in his honor. The distinguished actor appeared as usual at the Knickerbocker theater, and that is what sticks in Midas' throat. But, then, with Sir Henry Irving, it has been always business first and pleasure afterward, if opportunity offers.

Steam Heat Revives the Mosquito.

Mosquitoes stick to New York with painful pertinacity. It was thought they had been driven out by the cool weather, and no one expected to see or hear them again until next summer, but on the 1st of November the janitors in this city decided that there must be steam heat in apartment houses and flats, and the steam has been turned on forthwith. This has warmed the mosquitoes into life, and there has been a plague of the buzzers on the West Side. It will take a hard frost to counteract the effect of the hot steam pipes, but sanguine residents of the locality referred to hope that the rascals from Jersey will be driven out by Christmas.

Frohman Watching Theatrical Matters

It is rumored along the Rialto tonight that Daniel Frohman has his speculative eye on Al Hayman's interests in the Knickerbocker theater. The story is that Mr. Frohman has lent to Mr. Hayman $200,000, taking as security a mortgage on the Knickerbocker. While it does not follow that Daniel Frohman will by this transaction obtain any financial interest in the theater, it does show that while busy with the Lyceum and Daly's he is watching theatrical matters in general in New York.

Demand for Vaudeville Slackens.

Lovers of vaudeville entertainment, such as Harry Williams provides in Pittsburgh, are distressed because there is no straight vaudeville theater left in Broadway. Hammerstein's Victoria has become a high-class dramatic house, now that Elsie DeWolf is appearing there in a Clyde Fitch play, and "Florodora" has the New York. With the exception of the "continuous" theaters, which do not count, there is nothing in the vaudeville line to be seen below Harlem. The Victoria and New York used to give vaudeville of a good quality, and when Koster & Bial's was in existence, something of the kind often could be seen there. The opinion of vaudeville managers is that a regular theater devoted to that style of entertainment could be established in the neighborhood of Longacre square with profit. It does not appear to me that New York is panting for a new vaudeville theater. Such excellent "continuous" theaters as the Proctor houses and Keith's Union Square seem to pretty well meet the demand, and it is generally understood that the Sire brothers of the New York and Oscar Hammerstein of the Victoria stopped vaudeville shows simply because there was no longer a paying demand for them. By the way, there were to be two new theaters in Longacre square, and one close by the square, to be built this season. They have dropped out, apparently, for no one hears anything of them now. The last one referred to was to be called Drury Lane and the builder was to be the indefatigable Oscar Hammerstein.

A Day of Mourning for Tammany.

Tammanyites today had an opportunity to meet and weep in sympathy over the awful occurrences of last Tuesday. It was the last joint session of the municipal assembly in city hall, with President Guggenheimer of the council presiding. Business was pushed through perfunctorily. None of the municipal legislators had the spirit to object to anything, and there were no squabbles worth mentioning. It was felt that, under the sad circumstances, it would be in bad taste for the sufferers to quarrel among themselves. Many of those present will go out of office at the end of the year, while many of them will find themselves in the political boneyard.

A Philosophical Tammanyite.

State Senator George W. Plunkitt, a dyed-in-the-wool Tammanyite, sums up the situation thus: "We can stand a beating. None of my constituents will want for food or rent money for the next two years. I have plenty of patronage outside of politics. I can get good places in corporations for my men. Besides, we have the Republican civil service system to keep men in office. I think the civil service business is a curse, anyway, but it will be a blessing to Tammany for the next two years. It will keep our fellows in."

SEARCHING THE RUINS.

How the Elections Affected Democratic Aspirants for Presidency.

From the Washington Star.

Let us glance at the field with the view of determining how Tuesday's results have affected the fortunes of the leading Democratic aspirants for the presidency.

David B. Hill. Surely Mr. Hill ought to get something out of the overthrow of Odell and Shepard. Both for some years have been his foes. Had they succeeded on Tuesday they would have made the result count outside of Greater New York and against him. Tammany would have made Mr. Shepard its presidential candidate for 1904, at the same time giving out to the party at large that Mr. Hill was not to be thought of in any event if New York was to be expected to give a Democratic majority. Mr. Shepard has been eliminated from the calculation. Is Mr. Hill the stronger for it? He ought to be, so far as New York is concerned.

Arthur P. Gorman. Mr. Gorman's power in Maryland, it has now been demonstrated, is based solely upon sharp practice and campaign trickery. Many of the strongest Democrats in the state are opposed to him and everything for which he stands. It is not at all likely therefore that the national democracy will favorably consider for leader a man who in that capacity would have to meet everywhere the reproach of the recent capers cut in Maryland by and for him.

Grover Cleveland. Never forget Mr. Cleveland is speculating about the democracy and the presidency. He will be a receptive candidate for that office as long as he lives, and there will always be people wishing him success. He gave his support to the Democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey, in as ponderous a sentence as ever he penned. But it did not avail to take the state out of the Republican column. A Republican governor and legislature were elected. Could Mr. Cleveland if nominated for the presidency in 1904 carry New Jersey? His rivals will question it, in the light of Tuesday's state election.

William J. Bryan. Fusion has again failed in Nebraska, and fusion is Mr. Bryan's sole hope. He, too, lives now in a Republican state; and in the light of that fact can he ask for another Democratic nomination? As Nebraska no longer indorses him, can he expect other states to do so? The Ohio Democrats refused to indorse him and lost their state by a large majority. The Iowa Democrats did indorse him and lost by a larger majority. So there is no comfort for Mr. Bryan in those directions.

Henry Watterson. Now there is a man who won something. The vote in Kentucky places that state once more substantially in the Democratic column. Mr. Watterson's own city went Democratic. Why therefore should he not profit as a presidential aspirant from a result to which he doubtless greatly contributed? That he could carry Kentucky, with the White House as the stake, seems hardly open to question.

The undoubted gainers by Tuesday's results, then, are Mr. Hill and Mr. Watterson.

It Will Be Held in 1903.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

This talk about the advisability of postponing the St. Louis World's fair for a year or two, no matter from what source it comes, can safely be disregarded. There will be no postponement. The law under which the fair is to be held provides that it shall come off in 1903. President McKinley's invitations to the different nations of the world, which were sent out several months ago, to participate in the fair, told them it was to be held in that year. All the preparations which have been made, all the plans which are being carried out have that year in view. The fair must take place in 1903.

NEW CONGO RAILWAY

Government of the Free State Busy With Plans to Improve Communication With the Interior—Will Open Populous Lake Regions.

(Correspondence of The Gazette.)

ANTWERP, Oct. 26.—The government of the Congo Free State is busying itself with ways and means for rendering communication in its vast territory easier and more rapid. When the railway which connects the Upper Congo with the sea was completed the question arose regarding new lines to connect the Congo with the regions of the Uelle, the Nile and Lake Tanganyika.

After exhaustive examination of the conditions of the country the government decided two years ago to establish a line from Stanleyville (Stanley falls), the harbor of which is accessible in all conditions of weather and climate, to a point about 300 miles to the east of that station on the tablelands near the Upper Ituri. Thence the lines would run in two directions—north to Lake Albert and south to Lake Tanganyika. The total length of these two branches would be about 630 miles, which would make the entire system approximately 930 miles.

This was the scheme examined by a special commission under Engineer Adams, who had previously directed the construction of the first railway. The main line now definitely decided upon will be about 600 miles in length—from Stanley Falls to the upper end of Lake Albert at Mchagi. A second line divided into three sections of unequal length will leave Stanleyville for the regions of the Upper Congo.

The first section will go 130 miles around falls and rapids as far as Ponthierville. From that point transportation will be carried out by the river, which is navigable for a distance of 270 miles as far as the entrance of Nyangwe. The second section will go around the rapids at Nyangwe as far as another navigable portion, at the end of which the third section will begin, terminating at Lake Tanganyika.

The advantage to be gained by the Upper Congo railway will be enormous. It will put the populous regions of Lake Albert and Tanganyika in direct communication with the Congo river, through a country of extraordinary productive wealth. The native troops already employed in maintaining certain routes will be employed to lay the rails and in this way the far-distant province of Manyema, as well as other distant regions of the Free State, will be opened to commercial and industrial exploitation.

Trade has trebled since the Matadi-Stanleyville railway has opened, and with the new impetus that will be given by the projected system of railways the country will witness another Congo boom.

PROSPERITY AND PRICES.

Analysis of Past and Present Conditions in the United States.

From the New York Tribune.

It is a well-known fact that prosperous business conditions invariably bring high prices. According to Dun's index number, the cost of living per capita per annum fell to $72 45 on July 1, 1897, the lowest point ever touched. It was the culminating point of the country's gloomy experience under low tariffs and the addition of $262,000,000 to the national debt. In startling contrast is the index number of November 1, 1901, which shows that the cost of living had reached $87 74, the highest point of the decade. This is all the more impressive, since it is accompanied by many declines in finished products of manufacture, due to new devices and improvements in method which have cheapened the cost of production. That the nation is now at the highest point in its history is clearly shown by many facts, of which the course of prices is most convincing. Quotations do not rise when there is any lack of buying power in the community, but when full employment and unprecedentedly high wages makes it possible to gratify all desires for creature comforts the accelerated demand forces prices steadily upward.

In explanation of rising quotations it has been stated that short crops and reduced production are responsible. As a matter of record, the corn crop alone of all the great staples will fall far below 1897. The wheat yield is at the maximum point, and about double that of 1897. Though the cotton crop is below the high total of 1900, it is two million bales greater than in 1897. The wool clip is also greater, but the record breaking imports of 1897 under the last year of the Wilson tariff were more than double any year since. Of pig iron and finished steel all former records are being surpassed; the quantity of coal mined will reach a new high water mark, while the output of footwear and all other leading products of manufacture is attaining unparalleled proportions. Yet it is urged that the present overtaxed situation at shipping points is due to the large combinations which restrict output in order to sustain prices. The absurdity of this statement is made apparent by every trade report published, while the marvelous rise of railway earnings and frequent complaints of car shortage show where deliveries are delayed. That the "trusts" are striving to enlarge their facilities in proportion to the nation's rapid development is wholly ignored.

It is also suggested by opponents of the administration that the record-breaking holdings of gold in the treasury deprive the people of needed funds, and scarcity of money inflates prices. Yet the per capita circulation on November 1 was $28 72, surpassing all previous records. Moreover, these same critics would refuse to accept gold coin if offered them in ordinary business transactions, or if forced to accept the yellow metal would immediately exchange it for bank credits or paper money. Gold coin quickly depreciates through abrasion, and, while its value as a standard is not disputed, the people prefer to have the treasury hold the metal and issue paper money for current use, since it does not become light weight by handling. With this perfect foundation for the nation's currency, and industries so fully employed that labor is often sought in vain, the United States prospers to an unparalleled degree, while the average annual expenditure is $25 more than it was four years ago. Still, savings bank deposits increase, and unequaled life insurance resources indicate that want and misery threaten the homes of the people less than at any other time in the nation's history.

From a High Viewpoint.

At present France is the mistress of the seize.

Now let the Thanksgiving turkey laugh and grow fat.

It did not require the official count to ascertain that Andrew Carnegie had been elected lord rector of St. Andrew's university.

The national McKinley memorial will be placed in McKinley's town.

Mr. Carnegie has changed from a business director to a lord rector.

Gov. Stone was prompt with his corroboration of President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving proclamation.

France is doing pretty well with her debt-collecting corps, thank you!

It did not hurry Li Hung Chang's death to have his coffin ready.

The decision of a Michigan court that a bicycle has as much right on the sidewalk as a baby carriage ought to have been accompanied by a proviso that it must travel at a baby carriage gait.

A part of the exercises on Founder's day was the exercise of patience by the ticket holders who could not get into the hall.

The yellow jacket of Li Hung Chang has fallen upon Yuan Shi Kai, but only the future can determine whether or not it is a misfit.

Well, Lord Rector Carnegie is welcome, even if he did dodge Founder's day.

The Schley court of inquiry has gone into a thinking session.

Repartee.

"You make me very weary," said the older man to the younger one, in the course of an argument.

"It doesn't take much to make you weary," retorted the other.

"Not when you suffice," was the final shot.

That Was Another.

One dealer in New York city sold 40,000 tin horns on the night of the election," remarked the searcher after curious statistics.

"And that large number did not include the one that Tammany came out of the little end of," replied the commentator, in language somewhat involved but quite intelligible.

The Browns Objected.

An amusing incident occurred in the art gallery at Carnegie institute as the line was laboriously working forward toward the receiving party.

After the pilgrims had squeezed into the room where the distinguished guests stood, an usher whispered to each person as he or she passed:

"Tell your name to Mr. Caldwell, and he will introduce you to Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland."

"Well," said one man to his wife, "I don't believe that Mr. Caldwell can get our name straight; so I'll just call ourselves Mr. and Mrs. Brown."

Instantly there was a protest from farther down the line.

"Don't do that, please," said the objector. "Don't take our name! We are the Browns."

"All right," replied the man who was about to adopt the easy name. "We won't disturb you in the possession of your name. We'll be Smiths for this occasion."

There was no protest against the use of the name Smith, but that wasn't the name given to Mr. Caldwell a few moments later.

Something in It.

"I have been looking into the doctrine of the transmigration of souls, Mr. Hammersmith," said Mrs. Hashcraft to her dyspeptic boarder.

"Have you?"

"Yes, and do you know it's quite a fascinating idea to me. It seems to explain some things that are rather hard to explain otherwise. Now I often have a mental impression of some scene or some incident which I seem to remember, but which I can't quite grasp. Now, if I had been in such a scene in a previous state of existence, its recurrence to my memory would be explainable. Don't you think, Mr. Hammersmith, that there is a reasonable basis for the theory—not, of course, as an accepted and proved fact, but enough to warrant speculation and further study—in the doctrine of the transmigration of souls?"

"I shouldn't wonder if there is something in it, Mrs. Hashcroft," replied Mr. Hammersmith, as he sawed away at the meat on his plate. "Now I could easily believe that this piece of beefsteak was once the sole of a boot."

SOCIETY

A VERY handsome wedding will take place Tuesday evening at the residence of Senator and Mrs. William H. Andrews, in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny. It will be the marriage of Miss Ellen Marguerite Mignot, daughter of the late Amice Mignot, of Alderney, Channel Islands, and Dr. Walter Milton Babb, of Allegheny. The wedding ceremony will be performed at 9 o'clock by the Rev. A. J. Nock of St. James Memorial church, Titusville. A large number of guests have been invited to the wedding, which will be exceedingly pretty in all its appointments. A number will come from Titusville where Senator Andrews and his family annually spend the summer. Miss Mignot, though for nearly five years she has made her home with Senator and Mrs. Andrews, is comparatively little known in Pittsburgh and Allegheny. After the death of her father, about five years ago, she came from her home in Alderney and since then has traveled quite extensively. After their wedding trip Dr. Babb and his bride will make their home in Arch street, Allegheny. One of Miss Mignot's chief characteristics is her sweet, melodious voice, a rare charm. Mrs. Andrews, who has been in the east, returns home Monday for the wedding.

Mrs. Singer's Reception.

Mrs. George Singer, Jr., gave a large reception yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Frank Beach of New York, who has received many social attentions during her few weeks' visit in Pittsburgh. At first she was the guest of Col. and Mrs. A. S. M. Morgan. Lately she has been entertained by Mrs. Singer at her home in Point Breeze. Several hundred invitations were issued for the reception and tea yesterday, and the hours from 4 o'clock until 6 found the Singer residence filled with guests. Tropical plants and southern smilax, with beautiful flowers, graced every apartment. Mrs. Singer and Mrs. Beach received together in the drawing room. They were assisted by a large group of women, among them being Mrs. A. S. M. Morgan, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. James M. Schoonmaker, Mrs. William H. Schoep, Mrs. J. S. Hallman, Mrs. Harton Singer, Mrs. Will Orr, Miss Gertrude Smith and Miss Louise Singer.

Golf Program for Today.

The golf program for today provides for several handicap contests for cups and the first match ever played between the caddies of different local clubs. This will take place on the Highland course, between six boys of the home club and a like number from the Pittsburgh Golf club. On the Schenley course the second and final eight-hole round in the open competition for the J. Z. Speer trophy will be played, the lowest net score for 36 holes winning. It is low held by W. N. Frew. At Logans Ferry the Westmoreland Country club will hold an eight-hole handicap for the fifth Nimick cup. The Edgewood course will witness an eight-hole handicap for a cup offered by one of the club members.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Reception.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—A brilliant assemblage was present at the White House this afternoon at the usual Friday reception given by Mrs. Roosevelt. About 200 people called, including representatives from the diplomatic corps, the supreme court, the cabinet and residential society. Mrs. Roosevelt was gowned in soft crepe, ecru in color and trimmed with macarron velvet and cream lace. She was assisted by her daughter, Miss Alice Roosevelt, becomingly gowned in a girlish dress of white trimmed with white lace, and by Miss Belle Hegner, who wore a gown of white silk ornamented with ecru lace.

Engagement Announced.

Miss Lillian A. McClure of Beech street, Allegheny, gave an informal tea yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Florence Means Day. During the afternoon the engagement of Miss Day and George Pearre Blackiston, formerly of Washington, D. C., was announced. The guests included the personal friends of the guest of honor and of the hostess. Miss Day is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas Power Day of St. James street, Shadyside. Mr. Blackiston, who is making his home now in Pittsburgh, was quite prominent last year as one of the leaders of the Century subscription dances at the Hotel Schenley.

NEW MILLION DOLLAR INDUSTRIES TO BE BUILT UP ALL 'ROUND WEST PARK, is bound to make even the most sanguine individual marvel and try to count the links in this seemingly never-ending chain of commercial expansion.

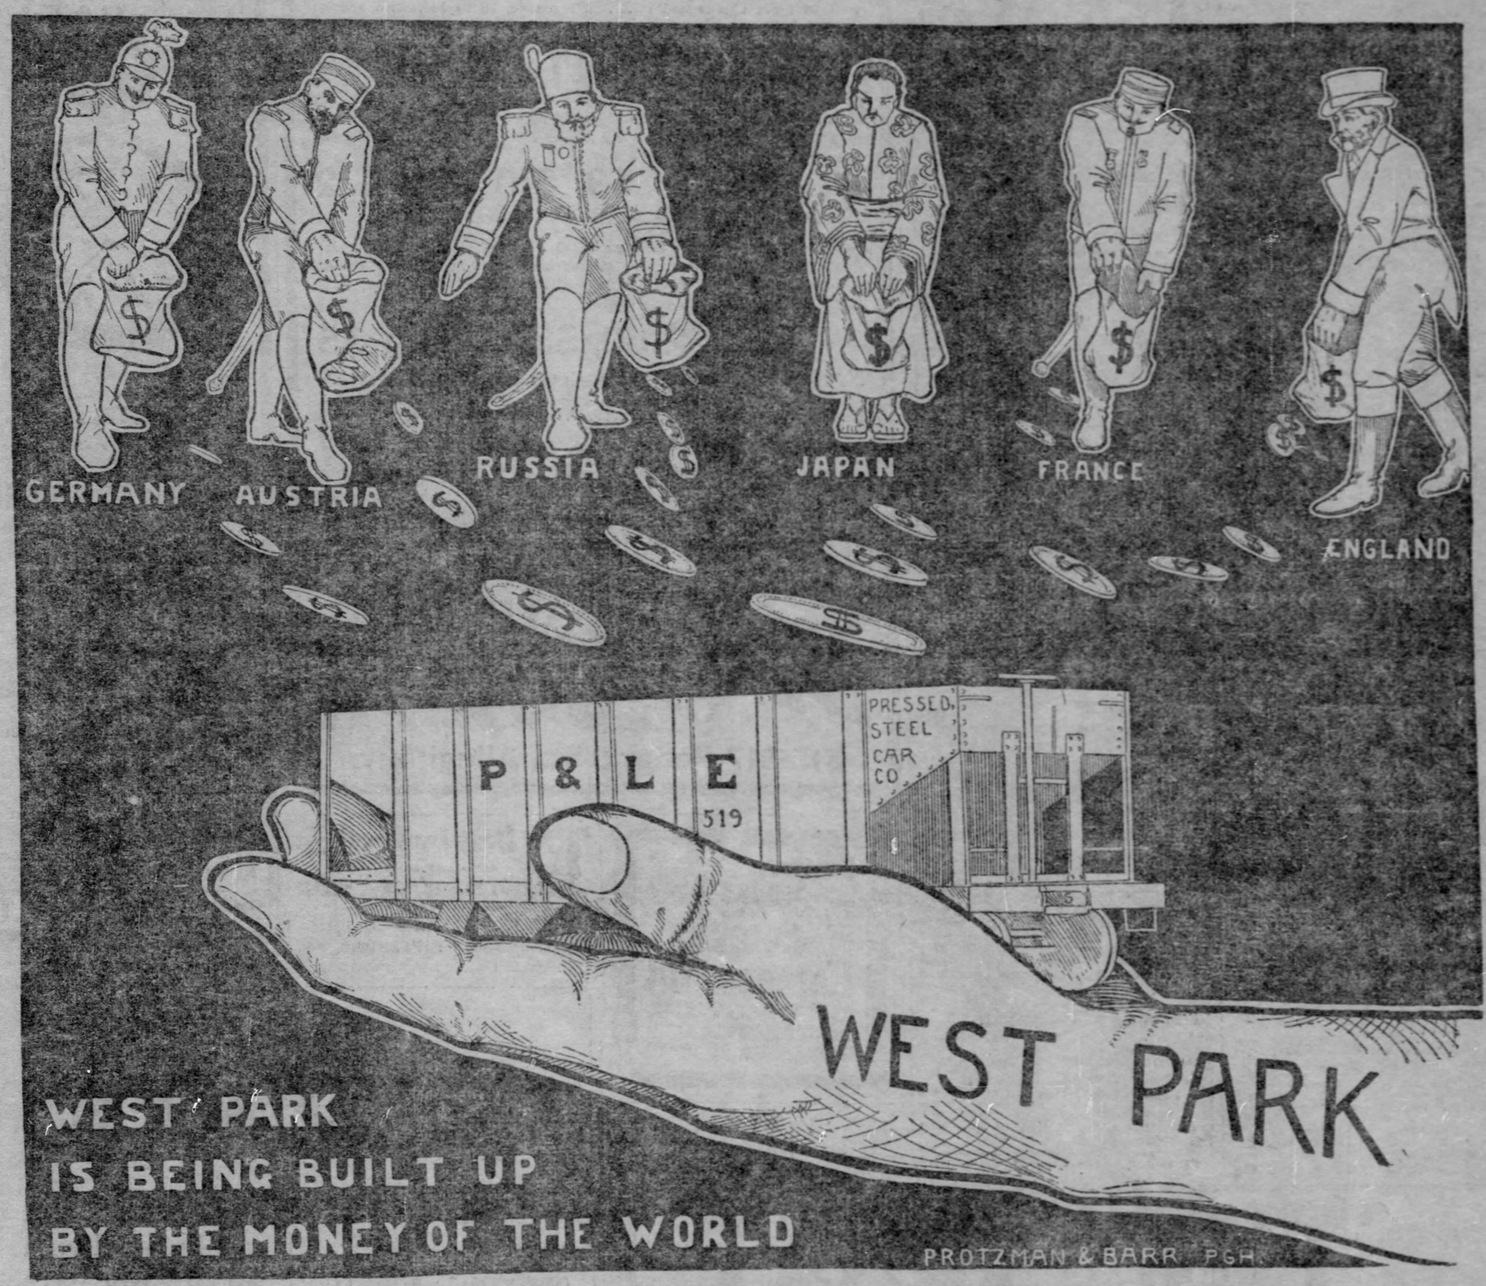
Follow the example of those who have never made mistakes! There is only one place you will find them just now — that place is West Park.

They know how fast the 519 lots went in the first great sale. They see how in less than three months vacant fields have been converted into a veritable city of beautiful homes. That is why they are making such a stampede for the lots in the new addition to the property that has just been opened.



Ask long-headed investors how they compare West Park lots with the other properties now on the market! Ask them what is stirring the great crowds to action!

FREE! FREE!

Remember, you don't have to pay to see West Park. It won't cost you one cent.

We have specially chartered cars to carry you direct to this wonderful Mecca for shrewd investors and homeseekers. You can't miss the cars. You will know them by the streamers on the outside.

Read Names of Some of the Well-Known People Who Have Built Homes in West Park:

Step off the car when the conductor says "Broadway." Look at the first two houses that strike your eye.

The one on the corner is owned and occupied by D. J. Redding, master mechanic of the P. & L. E. R. R. Adjoining it is the house of Christian Chirstiansen, a red brick of similar shape and finish. Then look at the next house on Broadway, the home of Joseph Plummer, who is with Dickson, the tailor. Your attention is called to these houses especially, because you will see them first.

Take a look at the following names selected at random:

ON THIRD STREET, NEAR BROADWAY—B. A. Gross, a well-known Pittsburgh letter carrier; J. Harvey Conner, John G. Lang.

B. S. Packard has contracted for fourteen houses on the same street. Three are finished and four more foundations have been laid. All will be completed before the first of the year.

F. C. Martsolf has put up three beautiful homes on Russellwood avenue and eight more on Irwin avenue. He is preparing to get in early on Marwood avenue when the second plan is opened, and has contracted for five fine brick houses on that thoroughfare. John A. Martin has built two splendid residences on Russellwood avenue and two of equal beauty on Marwood avenue.

Julius J. Debold, the well-known Penn avenue grocer, is putting up two choice brick houses on Broadway.

Peter Bluemling has made preparations to secure a lot on Marwood avenue in the second plan and will build a seven-room house adjoining the brick houses to be put up by Mr. Martsolf.

One of the beauties of Broadway will be the magnificent three-story brick block to be erected by T. B. Connaughy of Carnegie. The plans have already been drawn and the contract is to be let immediately. The ground floor will be occupied by business houses, and the upper stories have been planned to make ideal flats.

500,000 WOMEN

Have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file and prove this statement to be a fact, not a mere boast. When a medicine has been successful in curing so many women, you cannot well say without trying it—"I do not believe it will help me."

PINKHAM'S Vegetable Compound

Is a positive cure for all those painful

Ailments of Women.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements of the Womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

Your medicine cured me of terrible female illness.
MRS. M. E. MULLER,
14 Concord Sq., Boston, Mass.

Backache.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Leucorrhœa than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels Tumors from the Uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors.

Your Vegetable Compound removed a Fibroid Tumor from my womb after doctors failed to give relief. MRS. B. A. LOMBARD, Westdale, Mass.

Bearing-down Feeling

Womb troubles, causing pain, weight, and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the laws that govern the female system, and is as harmless as water.

Backache left me after taking the second bottle. Your medicine cured me when doctors failed. MRS. SARAH HOLSTEIN, 3 Davis Block, Gorham St., Lowell, Mass.

Irregularity,

Suppressed or Painful Menstruations, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flooding, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility.

It is a grand medicine. I am thankful for the good it has done me. Mrs. J. W. J., 76 Carolina Ave., Jamaica Plain (Boston), Mass.

Dizziness, Faintness,

Extreme Lassitude, "don't care" and "want to be left alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy, or the "blues," and backache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, some derangement of the Uterus.

I was troubled with Dizziness, Headaches, Faintness, Swelling Limbs. Your medicine cured me. Mrs. SARAH E. BAKER, Bucksport, Me.

The whole story, however, is told in an illustrated book which goes with each bottle, the most complete treatise on female complaints ever published.

For eight years I suffered with womb trouble, and was entirely cured by Mrs. Pinkham's medicine. Mrs. L. L. TOWNE, Littleton, N. H.

Kidney Complaints

and Backache of either sex the Vegetable Compound always cures.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills cure Constipation, Sick Headache, 25c.

The Vegetable Compound is sold by all druggists or sent by mail, in form of Pills or Lozenges, on receipt of $1.00. Correspondence freely answered.

"THE SECRET OF MY STRENGTH IS PERFECT DIGESTION I USE JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT AND FIND THAT IT GREATLY AIDS ME IN THE PROPER ASSIMILATION OF FOOD"

Eugen Sandow

JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT builds up the weak and debilitated. It is a muscle builder; a strength giver. It imparts energy; creates appetite; cures dyspepsia and insures perfect digestion.

JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT is especially recommended for women. It relieves the distress of nature when taken regularly with meals. It will keep the bowels and the entire system in good working condition.

It is an Extract made of pure Malt and Herbs, and is in fact NATURE'S REMEDY. Do not take any of the cheap substitutes offered as "just as good." Insist upon JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT and you will not be disappointed.

One dozen bottles of Johann Hoff's Malt Extract contain more strengthening and nutritive properties than a whole cask of ale or porter, without any intoxicating effects.

R-I-P-A-N-S

R-I-P-A-N-S Tabules have done wonders for me. I was bothered with dyspepsia and constipation. My niece had used Ripans Tabules for headache and they did her so much good she asked me to try them. After the first two 5-cent boxes I felt much better and I have been using them ever since. In six weeks my trouble had almost gone. That was about two years ago, and I have had no trouble with eating anything since that time.

SHORTEST TERM HELD IN YEARS

Supreme Court Finished a Small List of Cases and Adjourned.

MODIFIED DECISION IN EQUITY CASE

Question of Insurance Agent's Liability for Sub-Agent's Contracts Leads to New Trial for Thomas Bradford.

The October term of the supreme court came to a close yesterday. It was the shortest session held by that court in years. Prothonotary George Pearson said it was the smallest list of cases considered since he had held the position he now occupies. Before adjourning the court handed down a few opinions and several per curiams.

A decree was modified in the case of Samuel B. Repple and others, assignee of Augustus W. Shuk and others against the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, an appeal by the defendant from the common pleas court of Schuylkill county. The plaintiffs are the owners of land along the Little Schuylkill river, on which they operate a flour mill run by water power, having the usual dam and races. The defendant owns and operates coal mines on Panther creek, a tributary of the Little Schuylkill and above the lands of the plaintiffs, who claim that the wash from the culm banks has been deposited at their dam, filling it and impairing the water power. It was ordered that the decree in the case, as awards a perpetual injunction restraining the defendant from polluting the water of Panther creek, be affirmed, and the record of the bill of damages be restated for entry of a final decree against the defendant, together with the costs of the suit.

In the case of the Franklin Fire Insurance Company against Thomas Bradford in an appeal by the plaintiff from judgment of the court of common pleas of Beaver county a new trial was awarded.

The case is that of an agent being held responsible for the acts of a sub-agent or employe. Bradford, an insurance agent at New Brighton, Pa., appointed a subagent who renewed policies on the pottery plant of J. C. E. Mayer at Beaver Falls, after the insurance company had notified its agents not to accept risks on the property. The pottery was later damaged by fire and the insurance company paid $2,000 insurance and entered suit to recover the amount from Bradford.

Judgment was affirmed in the case of Dennis Levin and John Levin against the Second Avenue Traction Company, an appeal from common pleas court No. 3 of Allegheny county.

The case was that in which Dennis Levin, a boy, was hurt while riding on the platform of a traction car. The court held in this case that the motorman was negligent in his duty; that when he discovered the boy on the platform of his car he did not take him out of danger or stop his car and put him off.

FIRST MASTER APPOINTED.

Judge Shafer Makes a Departure From the Rules of Judge White.

Judge John D. Shafer of common pleas court No. 2 yesterday appointed Attorney W. A. Blakeley master to take testimony in the divorce case of Lottie E. Edgar and George D. Edgar, which has attracted great attention. This was done by consent of the attorneys on both sides to dispense with a long and tedious jury trial. He is instructed to take the testimony and report his opinion as to whether the appellant is entitled to a decree.

This is the first time that common pleas court No. 2 has recognized the act of May 10, 1899, passed lately for the benefit of Philadelphia courts, but which applies to the whole state. Common pleas No. 3 adopted the act immediately upon its passage, while No. 1 has adhered to the old practice of simply appointing commissioners to take testimony. The late Judge J. W. F. White, tired of the careless manner in which some of the attorneys prepared their reports, abandoned the appointment of commissioners entirely and instituted the public divorce court. This is the first master that has been appointed since his rules were adopted.

In the divorce case of Mrs. Eliza Mitchell against John W. Mitchell the report of the master was filed, recommending a divorce. The couple were married on August 29, 1889, and separated May 1, 1901. The libellant says that Mitchell would remain away from home, and on one occasion she followed him and discovered that he was living with Jennie Monroe, on Forty-fifth street, under the name of J. Marshall. Mitchell returned home that night and threatened to kill her. He then went away, she said, and lived on Forty-fifth street for five months.

The libellant states that her husband abused her so continually that she reached a stage when she did not care whether he killed her or not. He would curse and swear at her, she stated, whenever she would ask him what had detained him from home.

Reached an Agreement.

The litigation between Florence C. Miller and J. Denniston Lyon and Frank Semple, executor of the estate of Charles J. Clark, over the Monongahela house property, was settled yesterday, and Miller's one-quarter interest will not be sold. The sale, which grew out of mortgage proceedings against Miller, was adjourned yesterday morning until to-day upon an agreement reached by both sides. Later a settlement was reached, and the foreclosure proceedings were abandoned. A judgment against Miller for $38,352 70 was also marked settled. The records do not set forth the terms of the settlement.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

An inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of Edward T. Schaffner shows a valuation of $46,309 73.

Reichart D. Spandau issued an execution attachment against Anthony Walker. The estate of Genevieve Voelker is named as garnishee.

Executions were issued by Richard Wenzel against Annie Schill, or Schell and others for $501, and C. H. Bingaman against Charles F. Green for $620.

A preliminary injunction was granted restraining Valentine Witoski from building a house on part of a lot on Webster avenue owned by Thomas J. Moseley.

By the will of Eckard Daum, a daughter-in-law gets $50 and the balance of a small estate goes to the decedent's children. Attorney W. G. Negley represents the estate.

Ella D. Gardner of Sharon filed a petition in bankruptcy, giving liabilities as $4,502 and her assets $5,500. An order was made directing that the property shall not be sold until further order of court.

Four cases brought by Stevenson & Foster against the Hartford Insurance Company and other companies to recover fire insurance were transferred from the county courts to the United States circuit court.

An order was made in the United States circuit court directing the trustee of the Shaw Piano Company to sell the property on November 26 at 2 o'clock in the factory at Erie. No bid less than $11,500 will be accepted.

William L. Brown asks $5,000 damages from Charles Hennerly and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. He says that he was arrested on a charge of embezzlement, but the grand jury ignored the bill against him.

Decrees in distribution were made as follows: Charles Capp, $462 59; Gottfried Koerper, $1,072 45; Walter B. Ernest, $2,-323 53; Margaret V. Bright, $3,211 05; William Kyle, $8,662 90; Charles S. Fetterman, $1,-405 30; Ella D. Stevenson, $10,245 60.

Requisition papers were prepared in the clerk of court's office yesterday for Lt. V. Burkholder, who was arrested in Camden, N. J., on a charge of forging an Adams Express money order for $79 72. The papers will be presented in criminal court this morning.

Samuel Gilmore entered suit against the American Steel Hoop Company to recover $2,-500 damages. Gilmore recites that while passing the West Carson street mill of the defendant company in a buggy, a truck was run out from the mill. His buggy was smashed and his horse injured.

The will of George Creese, late of Ohio township, was filed. The wife of the decedent, Sarah J. Creese, is bequeathed a farm in the above township and the household effects. To William W. Creese, a son, is left another farm, subject to the payment of certain moneys to other children.

The will of Wilhelmina Seker, who was found dead at her home on Middle street, Allegheny, was filed for probate. The estate is worth $18,500. This is bequeathed to Marie Cassidy, her daughter, and Henry Seker, a son. Should they die without issue their share goes to relatives in Germany.

In criminal court this morning the following desertion and surety cases will be heard: Vincent Cook, Frank Morris, Mrs. Samuel Harper, Alice Young, John L. Widner, Julius Gebron, Anton Grenza, Michael M. Gallagher, Edward Thomas, Alex M. Fowler, Conrad Snyder, Joseph DeMain, Phil Mathews.

Barbara C. Rudolph, through Attorney H. L. Grote, took out letters of administration on the estate of John G. Rudolph. John A. Kress took out like letters on the estate of William Notinsky. Part of the estate goes to churches and the remainder to near relatives. The Pennsylvania Trust Company was granted like letters on the estate of John Brennen.

The United Traction Company was sued for $5,000 damages by Robert Mason to recover for personal injuries. Mason says he was driving along the track of the defendant company from McKeesport to Glassport on August 10, and while at a spot where it was impossible to pull off the track he was struck by a car. He alleges that the motorman made no effort to slacken speed.

GEN. WHEELER'S PROJECT.

Organizing a Company to Manufacture a New Gun Said to Be a World-Beater.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., November 8.—(Special.)—Gen. Joe Wheeler has come to Philadelphia and proposes to make this city his home in the future. The general is organizing a company, which will be capitalized at $6,000,000, for the manufacture under a new patent of heavy ordnance and smaller firearms, which he confidently expects will be adopted by the government for the arming of all its new warships and the equipment of the army. Negotiations are now going on between Gen. Wheeler, the Cramp Shipbuilding Company and a number of prominent bankers, and have nearly reached a successful conclusion. It is proposed to erect a large factory near Cramps' yards.

The small firearm has been tested by government inspectors in secret and pronounced a marvel. It will discharge 15 shots a second through a single barrel, eject the cartridges, one by one, and reload the weapon without any recoil. Gen. Wheeler said today in regard to his gun:

"Give me one regiment of soldiers armed with this gun, and I will whip any other three regiments in the world armed with any other style of gun. A warship armed with heavy ordnance of this type could annihilate any vessel in her class."

FAMILY DECIMATED.

Explosion of Lamp on Supper Table Results in Four Deaths.

SOUTH NORWALK, CONN., Nov. 8.—Mrs. Guy Deninbera and her infant child, who were severely burned in a fire which consumed their home in Chapel street last night, died today.

This makes four deaths the record of the fire, two of the Deninbera children having perished in the house. An explosion of a lamp, which spread burning oil over the family group while at supper, was the cause of the tragedy.

CAR SHORTAGE EMBARRASSING

The Inability to Secure Coke Causes Banking of Pig Iron Furnaces.

CONDITIONS IN BUSINESS EXCELLENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Little relief has been afforded the leading manufacturing industry in the matter of transporting facilities. In fact the situation on the whole is less satisfactory since inability to secure coke has brought about the banking of some furnaces. This in turn tends to harden the market for pig iron, though no actual alteration in prices has occurred, except at Philadelphia, where 25 cents more a ton is readily paid. As this industry is considered the best business barometer, present conditions and future prospects are certainly most encouraging, for orders are abundant and plants enlarging capacity in order to handle the growing business. Material is purchased now for much structural work in the spring, and additional contracts are seeking acceptance. Railway needs were never as pressing, every form of equipment being sought, and it is possible that more orders will be placed abroad. Labor troubles and low water have added to the difficulty arising from car shortage, making three retarding influences affecting the output of coal just when the export demand has become a factor of importance.

Textile Mills Busy.

Textile mills in New England are busy and there is no longer any fear of labor controversy at Fall River. Print cloths have ceased to be inflated, standard widths resuming the former quotation of three cents and meeting with a fair demand. Domestic buying of all staple cottons is seasonably quiet, and the views of exporters are still below those of sellers. Recent declines in the raw material have not weakened prices, as there was no commensurate advance in goods when the cotton market was rising. Reports from the south indicate that spindles are well occupied. In woolens there is a free movement of women's dress goods and orders are plentiful in heavy weight linens in manufacture for delivery. The season has reduced manufacturers' stock of heavy woolens and worsteds to a low point, and recent unprecedented buying of raw material indicates that orders come forward freely. Footwear is firm at last week's advance, and eastern manufacturers are beginning work on spring orders.

Leather is held at the best prices of the season and dry hides rose further on heavy sales.

Weather conditions were the chief factors in determining price changes of staple products. Low temperatures in grain growing states brought a higher level of quotations, corn rising 23 cents above the figure ruling at the corresponding date last year, and 26 cents over 1899.

Wheat Shipments.

These advances of more than 50 per cent are far in excess of the ratio of loss in production and establishes a fictitious price level which curtailed Atlantic exports to 842,142 bushels for the week, against 2,626,170 bushels last year and 3,458,104 bushels two years ago. On the other hand, wheat is moving out freely at both coasts, shipments from the United States for the week amounting to 5,651,-472 bushels, against 3,210,164 bushels in the same week of 1900 and 3,927,203 in 1899. Vigorous milling and foreign demands caused a fair advance in price to about last year's figure, despite the difference in output. Cotton weakened still further, port and interior movements indicating a better crop than was anticipated. At the lower price, however, exports are heavy and tend to prevent any serious reaction. Coffee advanced despite the record-breaking supply.

Failures for the week numbered 243 in the United States against 201 last year, and 33 in Canada against 18 last year.

ALLEGED KIDNAPER FOUND NOT GUILTY

James Callahan Discharged, Pat Crowe May Return to Omaha.

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 8.—The jury in the case of James Callahan, after being out 36 hours, brought in a verdict tonight, finding the defendant not guilty, and the prisoner was discharged. This is the last echo in the Curahy kidnaping case, and is practically the second time Callahan has been acquitted of the kidnaping charge.

The accused was arrested last February, and charged with being an accessory to the kidnaping of Edward A. Cudahy, Jr., son of the millionaire packer. Callahan was first tried on a charge of robbery. A trial followed, extending over two weeks, during which about 200 witnesses were examined. The jury returned a verdict of acquittal, and was severely scored by Judge Baker, who presided.

Callahan was then held on a charge of perjury in the robbery trial. During the present trial the prisoner gave way to the nervous strain, and collapsed in the court room. When the clerk read the verdict and pronounced the words "Not guilty," the prisoner gave a sigh of relief, and his friends crowded around to offer their congratulations. The judge discharged the prisoner.

It was remarked that there is now little to prevent Pat Crowe from coming to Omaha. The evidence on which Callahan has been tried would probably prevail in case of Crowe being tried on the same charges, and County Attorney Shields to-night gave it as his opinion that Crows will now return.

ROOSEVELT'S PROMISE.

Will Make Reclamation of Arid Land Part of National Policy.

BERKELEY, CAL., Nov. 8.—In address to the student body today President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the state university, who has lately returned from an eastern trip, made the announcement that President Roosevelt informed him that he purposed making the reclamation of arid lands in California a part of the national policy.

President Roosevelt, he said, is greatly interested in the affairs of the coast and will visit it early next year.

MUST PROVE VIOLENCE.

Chicago Judge Refuses an Injunction Against Strikers.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Judge Chetlain today refused to grant a temporary restraining order against the International association of machinists as prayed for by Robert Tarrant, a machinery manufacturer.

The court said that Tarrant would have to show that the pickets were using force against non-union men before an injunction could issue against the strikers.

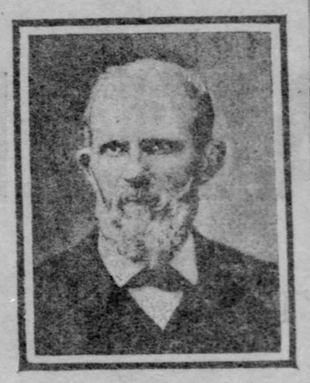
HIS CLASS IS 36 YEARS OLD

LONG SERVICE OF W. B. ANDREWS IN SOUTH SIDE CHURCH.

Interesting Anniversary Exercises Will Be Held Tuesday Evening in Bingham Street Methodist Episcopal Church—Many of the 500 Members of the Catechetical Class of the Sunday School Will Take Part.

The 36th anniversary of the organization of W. B. Andrews' catechetical class at the Bingham Street Methodist Episcopal church, South Side, will be celebrated Tuesday evening, November 12. More than 500 persons have been the pupils of Mr. Andrews during the past generation. Most of them are expected to be present at the celebration.

Some have gone to remote parts of this country. A few are in foreign lands. These, of course, will not be able to attend the anniversary, but they have sent interesting letters of regret to Mr. Andrews. During Mr. Andrews' long service in the Bingham Street Sunday school he has missed but one session except when out of this state. This was due to the death of his wife. On 18 occasions during the 36 years he was out of the state. Nine times he attended Sunday school in New Jersey and nine in Colorado.



W. B. Andrews.

One of Mr. Andrews' former pupils is Miss Jennie Adams, now a missionary in China. Samuel Klagus, who is now working in the Sandwich islands for the Carnegie institute, was at one time a member of the class. Among his former pupils Mr. Andrews can count one preacher, five doctors and two lawyers. At present Mr. Andrews' oldest scholar is a man 53 years of age. His youngest pupil is a child of 3 years. Both are found in their places every Sunday.

Tuesday's program will consist almost entirely of exercises by present and former members of the class. The celebration will be essentially a reunion.

The program is as follows: Prayer, the Rev. C. M. Miller, pastor of the Bingham Street Methodist Episcopal church; opening address, C. A. Holmes Schroth; "A Dream of Galilee," Sunday school quartet; address, A. A. Adams; selection, Legal quartet; remarks, Mrs. Margaret Duff; address, Benjamin Randall; remarks, Miss Elizabeth Fawcett; piano solo, Miss Belle Sanders; remarks, Joseph Vitchestain; remarks, L. F. Wentz; "Auld Lang Syne," by the audience.

The Sunday school quartet is composed of Miss Carolyn Ward Schroth, Miss Mary McCombs, Dr. E. M. Davis and Lewis Davis. The Legal quartet is composed of John L. High, George H. Calvert, Ernest Jones and Richard Chalfant.

CREW OF FIFTY LOST.

A Japanese Coal Steamer Runs Upon the Rocks.

VICTORIA, B. C., November 8.—The steamer Queen Adelaide arrived this morning after a stormy passage of 20 days from Kobe, Japan.

She brought news of the loss of the Japanese coal steamer Tsuruhiko Maru, which ran on the rocks off Goto island on October 11, and her crew of 50 were lost.

Verdict On Mine Accident.

Deputy Coroner Charles Bender held an inquest yesterday on the accident in the Nixon mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, Scott township, in which William J. Casey and Thomas Carmichael were killed. The men were crushed to death in a collision between a train of loaded coal cars and three empty runaways, at 10 o'clock Thursday. The verdict rendered by the jury was "accidental death."

THE DEATH ROLL.

Adolph F. Kraus.

HYDE PARK, MASS., Nov. 8.—Announcement was made here to-day of the death of Adolph F. Kraus, the famous sculptor, which took place at the Danvers insane hospital last night. Mr. Kraus had been receiving treatment at the institution since last July. He was 51 years of age. A widow, four sons and two daughters survive. A pensioner of the Prussian government and winner of the grand prize of Rome, the name of the sculptor was established in Europe before he came to America in 1881.

ACTION TAKEN ON SHORTAGE

Chamber of Commerce Considers Existing Freight Congestion.

CO-OPERATION WITH THE RAILROADS

Transportation Committee Will Work in Harmony With Them and With City Councils as Well. Col. Schoonmaker's Statement.

After a thorough discussion of the existing car and motive power shortage on the railroads of this city and the prevailing congestion of freight in city yards, the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce yesterday referred the matter to its railroad and transportation committee. It is to take what action may be needful to remedy the trouble as far as possible. This committee was instructed to co-operate with the railroads and city councils to this end.

G. M. Roedelheim of the Saltsburg Glass Company, whose works have been closed down for several months through the inability of the railroads to transport supplies, brought the matter before the chamber. John Bradley, Col. A. J. Logan, Reuben Miller and President John Bindley led the earnest discussion of conditions that followed. The matter was finally referred to the transportation committee.

"There is no intention on the part of the chamber of commerce to antagonize the railroads," President Bindley said after the meeting. "Our desire is to seek the remedy for the trouble. To that end the committee will confer with the railroad officials interested, and if agreement can be reached upon the needed measures and councils authority is required to carry into effect the plans, that authority will then be asked. It seems to be not only a lack of terminal facilities, however, for there is also a shortage of cars and motive power. To remedy this the railroads will have to be looked to."

"The Pittsburgh lines are doing all in their power to handle the enormously increased output of Pittsburgh freight," said Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, last evening. "Our facilities have been taxed to the uttermost to take care of the business. We now seem to have obtained the upper hand in the present emergency.

"One of the main reasons why our facilities have been insufficient at this present time has been the delay of Pittsburgh manufacturers of our supplies. Rails ordered for delivery last spring are just now being delivered. Locomotives ordered for Pan-American business are coming now that it is not only the same is true of freight locomotives. Bridge construction materials have been ordered for over a year and are yet undelivered. Still the railroad managements recognize that this is no fault of the manufacturers. Labor has been scarce, and the great strike has caused much delay. It must be seen, however, that this delay has been a very considerable factor in causing the present shortage of railroad facilities. If we had had our supplies in better time we could have done much better.

"I can say for the Lake Erie and other railroads that we shall be very glad to co-operate with the committees of the chamber of commerce in all endeavors to make Pittsburgh conditions better. Any suggestions the committee can make will be gladly received. No one is more anxious for all that makes for Pittsburgh's advancement than the railroads.

"From the nature of our country, either hill or river, it is manifestly impossible to obtain adequate downtown facilities to construct great yards. By enlarging the use, however, of such yards as those of the Pennsylvania at Conway and Pitcairn and those of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie at McKees Rocks and Glassport sufficient room can be found and no doubt there can be worked out a method of better and faster handling of freight both into and out of the downtown yards. But the large storage yards must be out of the city."

Permits for New Buildings.

Building permits were issued yesterday for a number of the new structures included in the Pennsylvania's scheme of improvements in Pittsburgh. One allows the construction of eight two-story shops and a roundhouse for the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston in Carson street between South Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets. Others provide for the two signal towers in the big new yards at the Union station, one at Washington street, near the station, for the Panhandle yards and one on the corner of the wall at Eleventh and Liberty streets. The last is to be used for Fort Wayne tracks. The cost of the new shop and roundhouses is placed at $100,000 and the towers at $4,500 each.

Winter Excursion Book.

The book of winter excursion routes, issued annually by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has just appeared. It contains over 200 pages, well printed on good paper and handsomely illustrated with scenes of the south. The cover of this number is dark with orange blossoms and magnolias in color, giving a handsome effect. The rates and other information given in the publication went into effect the first of the month.

Recommended a Site.

The citizens of the Twenty-first, Twenty-second and Thirty-seventh wards met last night in the Lincoln school and decided unanimously to recommend the Fleming property at Lincoln avenue and Lowell streets as the site for the East End branch of the Carnegie library. The meeting was attended by nearly 200 citizens. Peter Link was chairman. The following committee was appointed to report the result of the meeting: W. L. Hamilton, Joseph L. Wright, John Harbaugh and J. C. Armstrong.

Excellent Fine Arts Number.

The fine arts number of the Pittsburgh Index is an excellent one from every standpoint. Mr. Clarence Marshall Johns of the art jury contributes an entertaining article on "The Jury and Its Methods." The illustrations of the paintings in the art gallery are, of themselves sufficient to warrant a review of the periodical. Edith M. Caruthers contributes a short story, and the usual spicy gossip of the various arts is a notable feature of this number.

CLAIMS TREATY IS PRESENTED

MEXICO'S PLAN TO PREVENT STRIFE AMONG REPUBLICS.

It is Similar to Olney-Pauncefote Convention of 1897, With Objectionable Features Eliminated. Pan-American Conference Adjourns for Ten Days to Give Committees an Opportunity to Work.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 8.—The Pan-American congress at its session this morning adjourned for a fortnight to allow the committees time to consider the projects submitted to them.

At today's session the project of the treaty for an international court of claims was presented by the Mexican delegation. The proposed convention provides that the parties thereto will bind themselves to submit to an international court all claims proceeding from pecuniary losses and damages occasioned to any state or its citizens on account of acts or omissions of another state or any of its citizens, provided that such claims cannot be arranged diplomatically. The obligation so to submit claims commences as soon as it is demanded by any of the contracting governments.

Each contending government shall appoint one arbitrator who must be a jurist of repute, not a native of the state appointing him, and the two arbitrators together shall elect a third one, who will preside. If the two arbitrators cannot agree as to the appointment of a third they shall ask the chief justice of the supreme court of any of the American republics to designate a third arbitrator who must not be a native of any of the states interested in the controversy.

Cases May be Reviewed.

Sentence must be rendered within three months counting from the date on which the case is closed. Sentence will be decided by the majority of votes and must be signed by all members of the court, including the dissentient ones, who may, however, express their private views in an independent form. If the sentence is unanimous it will be final save that within two months its revision by the same court may be demanded, in case its publication gives rise to doubts of various interpretations, or in case it fails to decide any of the points at issue the court will decide the case anew and definitely within one month from the date of application for a revision.

If the original sentence was rendered by a majority of the votes, only the losing party may appeal to an international court composed of five members, of whom two will be selected by the heads of the contending states, four of those thus elected appointing a fifth, or proceeding as above indicated in case of failure to come to an agreement as to the fifth. But if in case of a non-unanimous sentence no appeal is taken within three months, the sentence shall become irrevocable.

Payment of Expenses.

In case an appeal is taken the case shall be considered and decided irrevocable by the court of appeal, constituted as above, within such a period of time as it may fix. Both the court of claims and the court of appeals may order the payment of court expenses by either of the contending parties; otherwise the parties must share the court expenses equally. Each of the contending parties shall pay its private expenses. The high contracting parties in the treaty obligate themselves in good fa..... to comply with the stipulations of the said treaty, but if any state fails so to comply other states may subscribe to collective note of censure which shall become public and official provided it is subscribed by at least three of the contracting states. The treaty is to remain in force five years, counted from the date on which the exchange of ratifications by at least three of the states shall take place. Any state may withdraw from the convention one year after giving notice to that effect.

ILL LUCK CAUSED SUICIDE.

Theodore Fournier of Wilmerding Kills Himself While Temporarily Insane Over His Troubles.

Unable to meet a note which would have been due to-day, Theodore Fournier of Wilmerding blew out his brains at noon yesterday at his home in Airbrake avenue. He was found by a neighbor, Mrs. Mary Ainsworth, sitting in a chair with a revolver clenched in his hand and blood streaming from his temple. His body was quite warm.

A note, in his handwriting, was found on the table and its contents conveyed sad tidings to his sick wife. He stated that he could not bear up any longer, that he was out of work, had no pay coming this week, and could see no end to it all. He closes the note with the request that she forgive him, and kiss the children for him.

Fournier's wife has been sick for a long time. Four weeks ago he took her and their three children to his father's home in McKees Rocks.

He was employed as a skilled laborer in the Westinghouse shops, but got out of work some weeks ago. This, his wife's sickness and the note, which he could not read, are supposed to have weakened his mind.

At noon yesterday Mrs. Ainsworth, who lives next door, remarked to her family that she was going to invite Fournier to dinner, as he seemed lonesome. A moment later the family heard a loud report, but thought it an explosion. Mrs. Ainsworth then went to Fournier's house, and found him lifeless in a chair.

The coroner was notified and later in the afternoon held an inquest. The verdict was suicide while temporarily insane. The body was identified by Mrs. Annie Patch, his niece, and his wife and parents notified. Fournier was 35 years of age.

COUNCILS TRY TO SHIFT BLAME

Filtration Plans Are to Be Demanded from Director Bigelow.

MEETING OF COMMITTEE IS CALLED

Director Bigelow and Former Director Wilson Have Been Asked to Appear Before Filtration Committee This Afternoon.

Councils are endeavoring to shift the responsibility for the delay in commencing operations on the city filtration plant from their own shoulders and put the blame upon Director E. M. Bigelow of the department of public works.

After delaying the passage of the filtration ordinance by referring it to the special committee on filtration the anti-administration leaders are proposing still further delay by demanding the privilege of inspecting the plans before the ordinance is passed.

Select Councilman John Upperman, chairman of the filtration committee, has called a meeting of the committee for this afternoon, and has asked both Director Bigelow and former Director George W. Wilson to appear before the committee. Chairman Upperman said last night that the committe intends to ascertain who is responsible for the alleged delay in preparing the plans. He said that former Director Wilson had stated that the plans were about completed shortly before he was removed and succeeded by Mr. Bigelow.

Wants to Fix the Blame.

Chairman Upperman also stated that Director Bigelow had told him that the plans were very incomplete when he went into office, and that no work had been done on them from March until the early part of June, when Director Bigelow was appointed. "If this is true," said Chairman Upperman, "it shows a great negligence on the part of Mr. Wilson when he was director of the department of public works. The committee is anxious to hasten the work on the filtration plant, but will insist upon seeing the plans before the ordinance is approved.

"There is a general complaint about the delay in starting operations, and it is said that the present impure condition of the water supply is reponible for the prevalence of typhoid in the city. The committee intends to fix the responsibility for the day, and does not intend that the blame shall rest upon councils.

"Either Director Bigelow is to blame, or else Mr. Wilson was to blame when he was director of public works. We are unable to obtain any definite statement from Director Bigelow as to when the plans for the plant will be ready. At the last meeting of the committee he said he could not tell when they would be ready."

May Develop Sensation.

The ordinance, in the hands of Chairman Upperman's committee, authorizes the expenditure of $1,700,000 for a filtration plant, and for the extension of the city's water supply. The amount of money voted for a filtration plant in the bond issue was $2,500,000. Chairman Upperman says that after the ordinance is passed the whole matter will pass out of the hands of councils, and he proposes that councils shall first have an opportunity to pass upon the subject by inspecting the plans before the ordinance is adopted.

Some sensational disclosures are expected at the meeting of the committee today if ex-Director Wilson appears to testify against Director Bigelow. It is alleged that Bigelow when he took charge of the public works department, he could not find any of the filtration plans which Mr. Wilson claims were prepared while he was in office. The plans are said to have disappeared about the time that Mr. Wilson was removed by Recorder Brown.

Director Bigelow says almost 100 prints were taken to his knowledge. W. F. Miller, the former resident filtration engineer, is counted upon by the anti-administration councilmen to support ex-Director Wilson's statement that the plans were completed when Mr. Wilson was removed from office.

BREAKS JUMPING RECORD.

Heatherbloom at Chicago Horse Show Clears Bar at Seven Feet Four and One Half Inches.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—At the horse show tonight in the Coliseum the high jumper, Heatherbloom, a bay gelding, 6 years old and 16 hands high, owned by Howard Willetts of White Plains, N. Y., broke the world's indoor record for jumping horses.

Heatherbloom cleared the bar at 7 feet 4½ inches. The previous record was made by Rose Berry, who made a jump of 7 feet 3½ inches in competition with Fillemaker, in this city several years ago.

Richard Donley was on Heatherbloom when the jumper was brought out. The horse was at his best. The first jump was made with the bar standing at 6 feet 3 inches. Twice the bar was raised slightly, and each time was easily cleared by Heatherbloom. Then the barrier was set for a world's record, and intensely interested the great audience awaited the outcome of the test. The suspense was not long, for in a few moments more Heatherbloom had sprung lightly over the mark, and the new world's record was made. The deafening applause the owner, horse and rider was the climax of the notable effort.

BOYS' HOME TO BE MOVED.

A New Site at Oakdale Is Offered Cheaply to Boys' Industrial Home.

The board of controllers of the Boys' Industrial home, at present located at Euclid and Clifton avenues, Allegheny, has decided to change the location to Oakdale, on the Panhandle railroad. The board met last evening and formally decided on the change, judging that the present quarters of the home are inadequate.

A factor of great importance in causing immediate action in regard to a change of location is the fact that an opportunity to obtain pleasant quarters for the home at a very small cost has been afforded. The board will get a fine large building, well suited for the purposes of the home at about one-fourth its original cost.

Funds to complete the purchase will be needed to the amount of $10,000, and the following committee has been appointed to raise the money: The Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry of Wilkinsburg, the Rev. J. T. McCrory, William H. Jamison, J. T. Yoder, J. M. Nevin, the Rev. Dr. Calhoun, T. M. Porter, Mad. Simmons, the Rev. J. W. Cleland and D. W. Cleland.

RESCUED FROM INSANE ASYLUM

DOCTOR'S MISTAKE RECTIFIED AFTER TEN MONTHS.

A Woman Victim of Nervous Prostration Incarcerated in a Madhouse, Soon Recovers, But Though Sane, Unable to Regain Her Liberty—A Friend Hears of Her Case and Secures Her Release.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 8.—Mrs. Genevieve I. Brooks has been rescued from St. Vincent's institution for the insane after spending ten months there, during which time she had full possession of all her faculties, although was well-nigh driven to insanity by the horror of her position and the hopelessness of trying to convince the authorities and attendants that she was really sane.

Mrs. Brooks owes her release to Mrs. E. B. Reith a bosom friend of the unfortunate woman's school days. Learning by accident of the plight of Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Reith visited her at St. Vincents, listened to her story and left nothing undone until she had secured the release of her friend.

A year ago Mrs. Brooks suffered an attack of nervous prostration. She was then private secretary of a prominent physician, and he advised that she be cared for at an institution for the insane. The physician believed she was insane. She had every symptom of a person suffering from softening of the brain.

After two weeks of careful treatment at the hands of the sisters, she improved in health and asked to be released. This request was refused in the belief that the patient was insane.

When she wrote letters to her friends they were not posted. Thus it happened that none of her friends except her immediate family knew of her condition. All efforts to communicate with the outside world was fruitless.

Her relatives visited her occasionally and kept at the apparent sanity of the woman who was believed to be hopelessly insane. Everything she did or said was misconstrued. Hope gave place to despair. She longed for death. Every day and every night she spent long hours in prayer, believing that divine interposition to save her from becoming insane under the mental torture. Her hair gradually whitened, her health declined; gradually her face became like an old woman's.

On October 15 Mrs. Brooks' mother, Mrs. Brazeau, died. Mrs. Brooks was heir to part of the property. Her uncle, Sylvester Watts, president of the Watts Improvement Company, who is wealthy, became executor of the estate. It became necessary to appoint a guardian to take care of Mrs. Brooks' property. Mr. Watts took it for granted she was insane. He applied to the probate court to have a guardian appointed for her after her mental condition had been declared insane. A friend visited the institution and reported her to be insane.

Mrs. Reith heard about this visit to the asylum and was shocked. She at once went to the asylum to visit her. She declares she knew the moment she saw Mrs. Brooks that there had been a terrible mistake. The two women had a long talk, and Mrs. Reith went away determined to secure her release. She went to see Mr. Watts and surprised him by emphatically assuring him that his niece was sane and dying of grief. Mr. Watts took action at once. He had several reputable physicians to make a thorough examination into Mrs. Brooks' condition. Her release followed.

SILVER COINS ARE BEING "SWEATED"

Flood of Lightweight Currency Hits the City of New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Washington has been asked for secret service men to aid the New York sub-treasury in running down those persons who are responsible for the flood of pieces of lightweight silver half-dollar and dollar pieces which has recently been discovered in this city. The method employed by the operators is unique, and, while in effect it is similar to the "sweating" of gold coins, once so common, it differs in that the manipulators do not shorten the weight simply for the value of the silver, but use extra metal in silver plating in place of bar silver.

Thus lightened, the coins, retaining their original appearance, are again placed in circulation, requiring a trained eye and an expert touch to discover that they have been tampered with. After a bit of the ordinary wear and tear money undergoes the coins which have been operated upon reveal their lightness at once, and, as a result, are refused acceptance.

It is not permissible for the government to redeem the coins at their face value, and, of course, their intrinsic worth is much less than the amount for which they have been issued.

Electroplaters who make a specialty of silverware use bar silver for their purpose. In place of the crude metal, it is explained, several smaller firms have utilized silver coins of the half dollar denomination, and, having obtained from them a deposit of silver upon the article which is being plated, have used the money again at its face value.

By this operation they cut the cost of the silver used in plating, and as coin metal is practically pure, they are able to put a finer and more expensive finish upon the good than if more honest methods were employed with bar metal.

Heavy penalties are provided for those who tamper with the coin weights, a special clause relating to "sweating" under which the present method is classed.

DEMOCRACY PREVAILS.

Will Have Majority in Maryland House of Delegates—Some Close Contests.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8.—Almost complete official returns show that Joshua W. Hering, Democratic state comptroller, has been re-elected by a plurality of 458 votes over Herman S. Platt, Republican. Thomas Parran, Republican, has been elected clerk of the court of appeals by a plurality of 1,258 over J. Frank Turner, the Democratic incumbent. In the counties Mr. Turner had a plurality of 2,508 but was defeated in the city.

The official count in Caroline county elects Jefferson, Democrat, to the house by a majority of four, in place of Stevens, Republican, who was reported yesterday to have been elected by a majority of one. This, however, is counterbalanced in Kent county by the election to the house of Kendall, Republican, by a majority of 31 over Johnson, Democrat, heretofore reported elected by a majority of five. The official count in the counties gives the Democrats 48 members in the house, and the Republicans 29. This would enable the Democrats to organize the house even if the official count in Baltimore city should show that the Republicans had elected a solid delegation of 18 members, which is improbable.

The indications are that three Democratic delegates have been elected from Baltimore city, but at the rate at which the official count in this city is progressing it will probably be two days at least before a decision is reached. The senate, according to the official returns, will stand Democratic 17, Republicans 9.

Massillon Hotel Burned.

MASSILLON, O., November 8.—The hotel Conrad was damaged to the amount of $25,000, the result of fire tonight, the flames being communicated from a burning livery barn in the rear of the building. The damage was caused principally by water and smoke. The guests all escaped, but some were unable to remove all their personal effects.

Gets a Stay of Execution.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Gerhardt Terlinden recently held for extradition to Germany on a charge of forgery, was today granted a stay of execution until November 13, which time the federal court of appeals will be asked to review the evidence. In the meantime Terlinden must remain in jail.

SERIOUS WRECK IN MILL YARD

Three Men Caught in Head-On Collision at Eliza Furnace.

THE CONDUCTOR'S LIMBS SEVERED AND WILL DIE

Trains of Steel Billets Running in Opposite Directions Collide on Connecting Railway With Terrible Results.

Three men were seriously injured at 9.30 last night by a head on collision on the Monongahela Connecting railway at the Eliza furnace of the Jones & Laughlins' Company. One of the injured, a conductor, is dying. The names of the injured are:

THOMAS DEAVER, a conductor; both limbs cut off; lives at 51 South Twenty-second street; cannot recover.

ALEXANDER SWIGART, brakeman; compound fracture of left leg and head crushed.

All three were removed to the Mercy hospital. Emrich and Swigart it is thought will survive.

Emrich and Deaver were immediately taken to the operating rooms, where Deaver's both limbs were amputated. At midnight it was not known who was responsible for the accident.

One freight was pushing seven cars of steel billets from the South Side to the mills and the other was pulling a train out of the mill siding to the South Side.

Half way from each side the two freights collided, the engine pulling to the South Side crushing down the three men between it and the rear car. The wheels of the engine passed over Deaver's legs at the thighs. Emrich's left leg was crushed so that it had to be amputated. Swigart suffered the least of the three, though he, too, is bruised and injured. His left leg was fractured and his head and face badly torn. When both trains were stopped it was found all three had been pinioned under the wreck. With the aid of several mill hands they were released and removed to the Mercy hospital. The engineer of the engine which collided stuck bravely to his post and was not injured. No explanation of the accident could be given other than that switch signalling was probably misunderstood. One of the engines was smashed and several cars derailed.

CREDITED TO ROOSEVELT.

London Spectator Thinks His Accession to the Presidency is What Downed Tammany.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The weekly papers tomorrow will have a good deal to say about the defeat of Tammany hall. The Spectator thinks Mr. Roosevelt's accession to the presidency, giving all reformers hope and confidence, weighed heavily in the contest, adding that it may be expected that his influence will be felt in other great American cities. The Spectator says:

"If this is the case, President Roosevelt's term of office will benefit the whole world, for the condition of American cities is at present an opprobium to liberalism everywhere. The people there are really free and, say all the reactionaries, 'Look at the men they elect and the crises they sanction or condone.' The best governed city in America, by universal consent, is Washington, administered by a nominated paid commission."

The Saturday Review, with its usual distrust of all things American, finds that Tammany is the "product of that false sense of equality prevailing in America, according to which a settlement of all sorts of minor offenses is put into the hands of electors who care nothing about them."

The Speaker says: "To English eyes, the weak point in New York is the charter conferring home rule through the mayor instead of through the municipal council. Mr. Low may improve the civil service, dissolve the partnership of the city authorities with vice and crime, and may end a system of blackmail for two years. What then? New York has merely substituted a good boss for a bad boss, a dictator likely to reform for a dictator likely to corrupt."

LOSS WILL BE PAID.

Defalcation of K. O. T. M. Treasurer Secured by Six Months Clause.

PORT HURON, MICH., November 8.—It now transpires that the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, which carried the bond of Charles D. Thompson, the self-confessed defaulting supreme finance keeper of the supreme tent of the Knights of the Maccabees, before being released last July, is still liable for any loss which the order may have sustained by the defalcation. Representatives of the company, it is said, have informed Maccabee officials that the loss will be paid.

It is now probable that Thompson will be arrested tomorrow. This was indicated tonight from a talk with officials of the order, and the arrest will come as a result of the conference of the K. O. T. M. trustees and representatives of the bonding company.

The heaviest loss, it is said, falls upon the Maryland Fidelity Company, as Thompson's defalcations since August, when the National Surety Company assumed the risk, were comparatively small.

It was announced today that Thompson's shortage was $68,000. Instead of $67,000 all data concerning the embezzlement is in the hands of the bond companies, and orders are being awaited from headquarters.

RUSSIA'S DEAL WITH CHINA.

Viceroys Believe Some Important Features of the New Treaty Have Been Suppressed.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Hankow correspondent of the Times supplies what he alleges is a correct translation of the authentic text of the Manchurian convention proposed by Russia. The convention stipulates for the gradual withdrawal of the Russian forces within three years, "provided no other rebellion occurs and the powers do not interfere."

The number of stations of the Chinese garrisons must be settled in concert with the Russian military authorities, and Russian assent must be obtained for any railroad construction in Southern Manchuria.

No mention is made in the text sent by the grand council to the southern viceroys, of mining, commercial, or other exclusive privileges," says the correspondent, "and the viceroys believe the convention contains other clauses which the grand council is not willing to disclose."

One Negro Legally Hanged.

MADISON, FLA., Nov. 8.—Will Jones, a negro desperado who recently killed three men in one day, two blacks and one white, and shot several other members of the sheriff's posse was publicly hanged here shortly before noon to-day.

SOLDIERS' WIFE HELPED.

United States Senator Hansbrough Interests Himself in Case of Genuine Distress.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Investigate case of distress at Hatrisons street police station and if found genuine, forward to Fargo at my expense."

This is the telegram which United States Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota sent to Assistant State's Attorney Barnes today when he heard of the distress of Mrs. George Gilligan of Fargo, who was stranded in this city without money or friends, and with a six-weeks-old baby. Detectives looked into the matter immediately, found the case to be one of real need and notified Mrs. Gilligan that a ticket to Fargo awaited her at the depot. Scores of persons who had heard of the woman's sad plight also sent her small contributions.

Mrs. Gilligan's husband is an invalid soldier of the Spanish war and she was on her way to Fargo from her home in Indiana when she became stranded here.

A Wife Says:

"We have four children. With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my housework up to within two hours of birth, and suffered but a few hard pains. This liniment is the grandest remedy ever made."

Mother's Friend

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breasts is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

Druggists sell Mother's Friend for $1 a bottle.

There Will Be Many Warm Football Games Today

FOE WILL NOT BE AN OFFICIAL

The Homestead Star Decides He Would Rather Play Than Preside.

WILL BE A LIVELY FOOTBALL DAY

Many Fine Games Scheduled to Take Place on Local Gridirons. Wash-Jeff and Bucknell Teams in Fine Form for a Hot Struggle

Arthur Poe will not act as an official in the Washington and Jefferson-Bucknell game this afternoon. The position was tendered Poe yesterday but he declined it as he prefers playing with the Homestead Stars to presiding over an outside game. This will be something of a disappointment to the college people, as they thought they had that row over officials fixed up when they agreed on Carl Williams and Arthur Poe for referee and umpire.

Just who will be named for the position offered Poe cannot be told at present, but there should be no trouble in securing a good man as there is plenty of available material hereabouts. Either Dr. Jackson of Dr. Furror, both of whom were stars at Pennsylvania team, would fill the bill to a nicety, as they know the game from start to finish. Manager Craig of the Washington and Jefferson team, who was in the city last night, said that the official will not be named until the arrival of the Bucknell team this morning, and it will be either Dr. Jackson or L. R. Palmer of Princeton, who lives in Wilkinsburg and who played the opposite end to Poe on the Tiger eleven.

The Bucknell team, headed by Coach Hasking, is booked to arrive this morning from Lewisburg and the Washington and Jefferson eleven will get in from Washington, Pa., about the same time. Manager Craig said last night that his players are in fine shape and counting on a victory, though they realize that Bucknell is a strong team and will take hard work to beat it out. The Washington and Jefferson team will be accompanied by an army of nearly 1,000 rooters and there promises to be all kinds of fun over at Exposition park. The game will be called at 3 o'clock and the line up will be as follows:

W. and J.	Bucknell.
Cutter	L. E. Barrett, Senn
Gibson	L. T. Shipp
Mundy	L. G. Wilcox
Hammer	C. Wilcox
Sefton	R. G. Gillis

Stars Ready for Lalus.

The Homestead Stars put in their final practice preparatory to the game with Lalus at Steel Works park today and the big fellows are in fine form for a fast game. There is not a player ailing at present, and Captain Fultz will see to it that they all get a chance to work this afternoon. Captain Fultz said yesterday that he would start the first half with his regular team and as the game progressed would call in his substitutes.

This was a busy week in the camp of the Lalus pigskin chasers. Every evening the full team reported and under the direction of Coach Lalus was put through some hard practice work. Last night the boys expressed themselves as ready for their battle against the Stars this afternoon. The Stars will have to play hard for every point they score, as the Lalus boys go into the game with the intention of holding the score down and will make every effort to gain a score. "Spike" Shannon of football fame and well known to local followers of football, will play right end. The Lalus team claims the amateur championship of Western Pennsylvania, since the season of 98 not a team outside of Homestead and D. C. & A. C. has been able to cross its goal line. This is a record of which the team is justly proud. So far this season the Lalus team has made the best showing against the scores, all holding them down to 24 points and scoring a touchdown against them. Today's line up:

Homestead.	Lalus.
Hunt	L. E. E. Wile
H. Pierce	L. T. Horn
E. Pierce	L. G. McManus, Meyers
Overfield	C. Bloom
Mosse	R. G. Beso

Lively Game for Beaver Falls.

The W. U. P.-Geneva game today at Beaver Falls promises to be a lively affair. The special students train, which will carry about 300 of the university boys to witness the contest, will leave the Allegheny station at 1:05 and at 1:05 all departments of the university will be well represented and noise-producing instruments of all kinds will be in evidence. The dental department has arranged for a brass band and the medical department may also take one. The Beaver team is an excellent condition and all the regular players will be in the line-up. Up until yesterday it was thought McCready, the star quarterback for W. U. P., would not be able to play, but he was entirely recovered and will materially strengthen the team by allowing Martin to take his regular position at end and having Morrow on the side lines ready to fill in any gap.

The university will take down 18 men who will leave Pittsburgh at 9 o'clock, thus getting to Beaver Falls in time to rest up before the contests. The game is expected to be the hardest of the season for both teams, neither of which have lost a game excepting the one W. U. P. lost to State college. A comparative estimate of the strength of the teams cannot be made, but the supporters of the Blue and Gold expect to return victorious. The line-up:

Geneva.	W. U. P.
May	L. E. Martin, Morrow
Leach	L. T. Wallace
Farrow	L. G. Cummings
McKane	C. Boardman
Edgar	R. G. Wheeler, McClintock

WASH-JEFFS TEAM READY.

Had Light Practice and the Players Are All In Good Shape.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The last practice of the week of the W. and J. football team was not a hard one, as it was desired to have the men in as good condition as possible for the hard game to-morrow with the Bucknells at Pittsburgh. The team had signal practice, and went through their formations in dress-coat style.

Watson rested today to-day in the afternoon and getting down the field on kicks, and in catching punts. The team has been weak in receiving kicks all season, and it is hoped to improve in this line. Up to the intention of the coach to hold secret practice today, but the rooters have shown so much enthusiasm that at the last moment it was decided to let them on the field. The men are all in good condition, with the exception of Hammer, who had his leg injured in practice last evening. It is thought, however, he will play to-morrow.

There is a report current here to the effect that McMahon, the Pittsburgh boy, is playing great ball for Bucknell, has caused considerable surprise, as McMahon could only play substitute here last season. He will be a hard proposition, however, in either one of W. and J.'s tackles. A special train will be run to Pittsburgh tomorrow, and it is thought that several hundred western rooters will attend the game. The college men have been practicing their yells, and will be prepared to do good rooting. The W. and J. team will play as follows: Left end, Butler; left tackle, Lang; left guard, Murphy; center, Hammer; right guard, Sefton; right tackle, Hayes; right end, Schrentz; quarterback, Aiken (captain); left halfback, Montgomery; right halfback, Reed or Campbell, and fullback, Forsum. A large number of subs will be taken.

Telephone or send a postal card to have the Sunday Gazette left at your home.

TEAM WILL PLAY JUST THE SAME

W. U. P. HOCKEY PLAYERS DISREGARD OFFICIAL ACTION.

Decide to Place a Team in the Interscholastic League and There are Many Candidates from the Medical and Dental Departments—Season Will Open Last of This Month and Close in March.

At a meeting of the Interscholastic Hockey league held yesterday afternoon at Duquesne garden it was decided that the season would be opened on the afternoon of November 30 and close on March 19, with games between the four schools belonging to the association, each Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

At the meeting it was officially announced that the W. U. P. skaters would take the bull by the horns and remain in the league in spite of the recent action of the university athletic committee in voting against Wup's representation on the ice this winter. There are a large number of candidates at the university mostly from the dental and medical departments.

The league now consists of the champion Shadyside academy team of last season, Pittsburgh High School, East Liberty academy and Western University of Pennsylvania. The first hockey Pittsburghers will have a chance to witness will be on the night of November 26, when all four teams of the Interscholastic will participate, two taking part in each half of the game.

Wup was last represented on the ice season before last, when the college had a team in the Western Pennsylvania Major league. Of the squad of candidates at Western university, there are about a dozen who have played hockey before. Paul McClain, the well-known football player and bicycle rider, is among the number; Joe McCready, also well known as a bicyclist rider and a member of this season's football team, is another; Houston, Hays, Edmundson, Morrow, Phillips, King and Miller are the others.

NEITHER TEAM SCORED.

Pittsburgh and Greensburg High School Elevens Had a Red-Hot Football Struggle.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The football game at Athletic park this afternoon between the Pittsburgh High school team and the Greensburg High school was the most interesting game witnessed here this season. Neither club scored, as the two lining from start to finish. Both teams were within one yard of the goal when the ball was lost on downs. The features were the end runs of Mase, Kline and Youngson, and the bucks of Smith, Taylor and Hunter. The defense in both teams was excellent. Pittsburgh, however, failed to show some of their best players were not in the game. The line-up:

Greensburg.	0. Pittsburgh, 0.
McConnell, Kelly	L. E. Curren
Disaman	L. T. Dunn
Wray	L. G. Bacon
Keim	C. Palmer
McWilliams	R. G. Phillips
Kuhle	R. T. Stahl, Fisher

PEACE AGAIN PREVAILS.

Harmony Restored Between H. L. A. C. and C. A. C. and Teams Will Meet in Athletic Events.

After fighting each other for two years, harmony between the two big athletic clubs in the Monongahela valley has at last been secured and the H. L. A. C. of Homestead and the C. A. C. of Braddock will again battle for supremacy on the field, on the diamond and in the gymnasium floor. The two clubs have been at loggerheads for two years, and no games of any kind were played as C. A. C. alleged that Homestead team insisted upon running in ringers.

During the past week Supt. Walter Crane of the Braddock club and Supt. L. E. Baldwin of the H. L. A. C. had a number of conferences and decided to again renew friendly relations. It was decided at the conference to arrange a number of meetings between Braddock and Homestead, the first meeting will be a game of football to be played November 23 between the Reserves of Homestead and C. A. C., which will be played at Steel Works park. Arrangements will also be made for a series of games between the teams of the clubs in every line of sport which is sure to prove interesting as in the past the greatest rivalry existed between the two big steel towns.

The Standard II. is without a game for Saturday, November 9, and if Bellevue public school or any 50 or 60-pound team is without a game they can secure one by calling up R. Staab, 636 Brady.

The Fayette A. C. wishes to challenge any junior association football team for a game some Saturday, or Thanksgiving afternoon. Any team wishing a game should address Harry Miller, manager, care Fayette A. C., 1402 Fayette street, Allegheny.

At Recreation park, South Side, today at 3 o'clock the Albemarle A. C. of Pittsburgh will meet the South Side A. C. As both teams are about evenly matched, a good game can be expected. Manager Cosgrove requests that the Albemarle players report at 1 o'clock sharp at the corner of Cherry alley and Fifth avenue.

Read Must Serve His Sentence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 8.—Judge Advocate Gen. Davis of the army has completed his reply to the argument made by counsel for Capt. James C. Read of Pittsburgh. His opinion is that there are not good reasons for reopening the case. Secretary Root will probably coincide with Gen. Davis.

NOTICE TO AMATEUR MANAGERS.

On and after Sunday, November 10, The Pittsburgh Gazette will issue a Sunday edition of the paper. It is the desire to encourage amateur sports and space will be given for all games played. Managers of teams are requested to send or bring us as early as possible on Saturday evening the results of games and all other news pertaining to their teams.

CRITERION WON HIS RACE IN A WALK

Two Favorites at Odds On Captured Their Events—The Sport Was Interesting Though the Card Was a Very Poor One.

POWERS IS PRESIDENT.

Pittsburgher Has Full Charge of Western Association.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Western association held here today full membership was represented. C. B. Power of Pittsburgh was elected president, secretary and treasurer. Columbus having lost money last season, withdrew. G. J. Stroble of Toledo resigned, but the association will retain the city and has granted the franchise to a wealthy resident of Toledo. Another city will be selected to take the place of Columbus.

The new league, it is understood, contemplates the revival of their old Western league circuit, taking in Indianapolis, Columbus, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Louisville, Kansas City and possibly Toledo.

D. C. & A. C. Will Open the Season.

The D. C. & A. C. Basket ball team will open its season with the Carnegie Library association team at Carnegie, Pa., this evening at 8 p. m. Prof. Charles Marthens, physical director at Carnegie, has some very promising material in his gymnasium class, and as they have an excellent floor to play on, should develop a very good basket ball team. The players of the D. C. & A. C. team are requested to be on hand ready to play at 8 p. m. sharp.

Braddock Eagles Defeated.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The Eureka A. C. of this city defeated the Eagle A. C. of Braddock at football this afternoon by the score of 16 to 0. Potter made a 75-yard run for a touchdown, and Monaghan made six goals by end runs.

JEFFORDS OUT IN TWO ROUNDS

PETER MAHER TURNED TRICK WITH A RIGHT ON CHIN.

Knockout Punch Delivered After One Minute and Four Seconds Fighting in Second Round—Honors Were Even in the First, But in the Second the Fighting Was Fierce and Each Scored a Knockdown.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8.—Peter Maher put a sudden stop to the championship aspirations of Jim Jeffords of California tonight in the second round of what was to have been a ten-round contest before the Eureka Athletic club at Germania Maennerchor hall. Both men stripped as fit as a fiddle, with Jeffords having all the best of it in height and reach.

The first round began with a light punch and a clinch, after which both landed lightly and clinched again. Then Jeffords touched Peter with a right on the ribs and they came to a clinch. As they broke away Jeffords touched Maher on the chin, and the latter growled about a foul, which the referee declined to allow. Jeffords landed lightly again, and after another clinch, touched Peter on the ribs, and they locked arms once more. When the broke away they sparred a while and Peter sent his right to the head without effect. The bell rang with honors easy.

In the second round Maher swung his right to the body. They mixed it and exchanged a series of right and left swings, in which Jeffords got a hard right punch on the jaw and went to the floor. He lay there until the referee counted five. When he got up they mixed again, both sending in hard rights and lefts to the ribs and face. Peter got it this time with a stiff right jab in the neck, went to the floor and on the advice of his seconds stayed down until six was counted. When he got up they mixed it again, and after a mutual exchange of half a dozen terrific rights and lefts, Peter sent his right to the stomach and then landed on the chin with the same hand and Jeffords was down and out. Time one minute and four seconds.

WILL GO TO COURT.

Stallings Threatens to Balk Ban Johnson's Plans.

DETROIT, MICH., Nov. 8.—As a result of the muddle which the financial affairs of the Detroit baseball club are in, and the open declaration of Ban Johnson of the American league, made Saturday, that Manager George T. Stallings, who is part owner of the club, said today that unless something very unexpected happened he would ask the court for a receiver and injunction on Monday. In an account coming from President Burns. In this event it is considered very probable that Attorney James McNamara of this city, who is one of the minority stockholders, will be appointed receiver. President Johnson and Stallings are to have a conference.

The conference between George T. Stallings and Ban Johnson resulted in nothing definite being decided upon regarding straightening out the affairs of the Detroit club. Stallings says he will get out of the local baseball field is he is not wanted. He also stated that no offer had been made him for the purchase of the club, for which he values at $22,500. Mr. Johnson announces his intention of remaining here for a day or two to see the matter adjusted if possible.

THAT POLE-MOVING CASE.

The Breeders' Association Is Still Probing for Facts.

LEXINGTON, KY., Nov. 8.—The committee appointed by the Thoroughbred Breeders' association to further investigate the turf scandal in this city held a secret session of several hours today. Trainer Dan O'Brien, who, before the blame for having moved the three-eighths pole at the Kentucky association race course, so that a colt might be sold to Clarence Mackay on false time, was before the committee most of the day. The members committed themselves to secrecy as to the testimony received today. The committee will meet again next Wednesday. It will also submit the case to the grand jury when it shall convene.

WILL CONTROL FOOTBALL.

Western High Schools Combine to Protect the Boys.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The plan for the control of high school football requiring physicians' certificates, parental consent and maintenance of scholarship standards, as well as eligibility qualifications for participation in football games, was unanimously indorsed today by the delegates to the fifteenth educational conference of academies and high schools of Chicago and the west, affiliating or co-operating with the University of Chicago.

This action, although advisory, is expected to have the same effect as a decree which will revolutionize high school football and athletics of the west. Delegates were present at the conference from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska and Colorado.

BUCKNELL'S TEAM STARTS.

The Eleven Given a Send-Off When It Started for Pittsburgh.

LEWISBURG, PA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Bucknell's eleven and substitutes left this afternoon for Pittsburgh, where the team will meet the strong Washington and Jefferson team tomorrow. They were accompanied to the depot by a large bunch of rooters, who gave them a rousing send-off. The men are in the best condition and are determined to play the game of their lives. They realize they have a formidable foe in the western aggregation, but are confident of their ability to down them. The following men were taken: Wilcox, Taylor, McMahon, Shipp, Barrett, Douglas, Smith, Capt. Stanton, Cockrill, McCormick, Johnson, Smiley, Bell and Stan.

FIRST BIG GAME PLAYED TODAY

Harvard and U. of P. Elevens Are Ready for Their Great Gridiron Struggle.

WOODRUFF PROMISES A SURPRISE

Says Pennsy Will Spring a New Style of Attack That Will Revolutionize Football—DeSaulles and McClintock Put Well for Yale.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—The first of the annual games among the big four football elevens will be played tomorrow when the University of Pennsylvania and Harvard teams will meet on Franklin field. The Cambridge players arrived here today and their coaches announce them to be in almost perfect physical condition for the contest. The Quaker men are also reported to be in fine fettle. Harvard will go into the game serenely confident of victory, while, on the other hand, Pennsylvania expects to be defeated. The home players, however, hope to keep down the Harvard score, and some of the more enthusiastic Pennsylvania followers hope that the crimson players will be fought to a standstill. Coach George Woodruff of the red and blue team has announced to the football world that his eleven will spring a new style of play in the attack that will "revolutionize football and cause a great furor in the football world." In this announcement Pennsylvanians lay their hope, and it remains to be seen whether it will be as effective as Woodruff's celebrated "guards' back." The Harvard contingent is not saying much tonight in regard to the promised new play, because they claim to have no definite knowledge as to what it is. But they express the greatest confidence as to the ultimate outcome of the game.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—There was brilliant and ragged football at the Yale field this afternoon. Johnny Saulles suddenly developed great stability as a drop kicker. He scored a pretty goal for the 'varsity from the 35-yard line, and then, in practice, dropped half a dozen more.

The 'varsity scored five touchdowns on the scrubs. The latter never got near the 'varsity goal line and their work was marred by the worst kind of fumbling. If Yale does not get over this trait her chances for the big games will soon begin to dwindle. McClintock did brilliant work at fullback. He scored one 50-yard punt and put up a first-class offensive game. For over an hour the coaches kept the team on the jump.

Frank Hinkey had considerable to say to the ends today. Captain Gould, who has a sore arm, did not play. Olcott was in the game for a few minutes, but Goss did not line-up. The tackles back play was used all afternoon with good effect. The scrub team could not stop the tackles.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The Tigers this afternoon held their last practice before meeting the soldier boys at West Point tomorrow. Contrary to the usual custom, a line up was held and the men were given a long drill, especially in kicking. Few line plays were tried, and the game was mostly a contest in booting the leather and catching it.

Since the Cornell game a number of men who were hurt have been unable to appear, with the result that new material is being tried in several places. Sheffield, however, it out again, and may have a show for fullback. In the Yale game it is thought Holds out. Minds was on the field today, but he is still walking on crutches and it may be late in the season before he can get back in the game. Dana also is out of it, it may be permanently, and the guard positions are again in doubt. Captain Reed and Kiewicz holding the call on those places.

The temporary disability of McClave leaves Pearson in his position for the time being and while the latter is very good, he is by no means McClave's superior in end running. Reed and Brown were played at tackle today, both doing fairly well. The team will leave Princeton for West Point at 8 o'clock tomorrow.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Following the usual precedent before games, the Cornell coaches did not require any scrimmage work of the 'varsity this afternoon. All of the regulars, with the exception of Taussig, however, were on hand to take part in the signals. The formations which will be used against Lehigh tomorrow were carefully gone through.

Waud, the big freshman, who showed up such phenomenal form two nights ago, was kept on the 'varsity today and it is certain that the big fellow will go up against Lehigh tomorrow. It is a lucky thing for Cornell that he has been discovered, for he will prove a valuable man against Columbia one week hence. There will also be many other changes in the line-up.

The Lehigh university eleven arrived in Ithaca tonight and when Dr. Pollard was told that Cornell would use many subs tomorrow he looked pleased and said that he hoped to hold the Ithacans down to a small score.

ROGERS WORKS IN NEW HANDS

The Big Locomotive Company Changes Its Name in the Reorganization.

NO POLICY CHANGE FOR STEEL SYNDICATE

United States Steel Corporation May Absorb American Can Company, After All—Rapid Spread of Rockefeller Banks.

(By Private Wire to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—It was announced today that the Rogers Locomotive Company had been reorganized under the name of the Rogers locomotive works.

The financial and other perplexities in which this property lately has been involved must be more or less familiar to newspaper readers, owing largely to the interesting personality of Jacob S. Rogers, the eccentric millionaire who recently died leaving his entire fortune to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. It was he who founded the Rogers Locomotive Company, and who not a great while before his death threw the property into idleness, to the intense dismay of the residents of Paterson, N. J. It will be recalled how the citizens of that place appealed for popular subscriptions to a fund with which it was proposed to restore the plant to activity, but nothing came of it.

Eventually the property was purchased outright through Elliott C. Smith and Frank P. Holoran in behalf of interests not then clearly revealed. The reorganization was effected by these gentlemen, and at a meeting of the board of directors held yesterday the following officers were elected: President, John Stavron; vice president, E. Hope Norton; treasurer, Frank P. Holoran; secretary, George E. Hannah; general manager, Reuben Wells, and general counsel, John W. Griggs, formerly United States attorney general. The directors of the new incorporation are Sir William C. Van Horn, George B. Hopkins, George Turnure, J. D. Probst, Elliot C. Smith, Frank P. Holoran, John W. Griggs, Robert C. Purin, E. Hope Norton, John Havron and Stephen Peabody.

The Rogers locomotive works is next to the Baldwin works, the largest independent property of its kind in the country, having a capacity of about 500 locomotives a year.

Steel Underwriters' Policy.

The authoritative statement was made today that the books of the United States Steel Corporation show an increase of 25 per cent in the number of preferred stockholders since the payment of the first quarterly dividend three months ago. The gentleman who made this statement urged it as a contradiction of the recent report that a considerable amount of the stock had been and is being liquidated. Without reflecting in the least upon the gentleman's representations, it may be said that the increased number of stockholders is by no means proof that syndicate holdings have not been liquidated. It was the policy of the underwriting syndicate in the start to distribute United States Steel stock as widely as possible, and the statement in question, if it shows anything, shows that these syndicate interests have succeeded in doing what they undertook to do.

The understanding that the syndicate is to be wound up on 1st of the year is still valid. Interests identified with this syndicate took their allotments of stock with the expressed design of distributing the same in the public's hands, and that they have done so, does not indicate a lack of faith on their part.

The weakness of United States Steel shares in the stock market during last week was probably no more nor less than the reflection of the further distribution of stock through the medium of the exchange, and had, perhaps, no other significance.

It is worth while to remark that both classes of stock have been remarkably strong during the current week, and buying popularly is attributed to interests in close touch with the affairs of the combine. It is learned on good authority that the net earnings of the United States Steel Corporation during October were in excess of $11,000,000, or at the rate of more than $132,000,000 a year. It is estimated that if this average could be maintained during the next 12 months, the combine, at the expiration of that time, would have a surplus of about $57,000,000. October, however, was a record month in the matter of earnings, and the combine's profits were heavily augmented by receipts from transportation. It is not considered probable that the same rate of earnings can be maintained during November, particularly in view of the fact that operations are very apt to be embarrassed by the inability of blast furnaces to supply iron in the desired quantity owing to the shortage of cars with which to move coke.

Rumors of a Tin Can Deal.

There was found occasion in these columns not long ago to comment on the weakness of American Can stocks on the curb market here, and of the alleged unsatisfactory prospects of the company. It was intimated at that time that chances of a deal between the American Can Company and the United States Steel Corporation were exceedingly slim, owing to the high valuation set by the former upon its properties. During the past two days there has been conspicuously strength in Can stocks have been conspicuously strong and active in the outside market, in which there is found a pretext for reports alleging fresh negotiations between the consolidations, the principals in which are the Moore brothers. The first proposal of merger was rejected by the United States Steel interests as inexpedient. A second plan is understood now to be in course of preparation, and it is said that certain terms have been considerably modified.

It is believed in some quarters that it is only a matter of time until the American Can Company shall be taken over by the steel combine, the terms between these two concerns are very close, and the can company probably could be operated to greater advantage by the combine than under its present management. Judge W. H. Moore, one of the creators of the American Can Company, is expected to be in New York next week, and something definite may then come of the reports now current in Wall street.

Rockefeller Banking Interests.

The election today of James Stillman, president of the National City bank, to the directorate of the Citizens National bank served to disclose the fact that the Rockefeller interests have added still another to their fast-growing list of banking institutions. This makes the second this week, the Butchers and Drovers having been publicly claimed by National City bank interests day before yesterday.

The Rockefeller interests, through the National City bank, control here in New York, besides the two already indicated, the National Bank of the Metropolis, the Second National, the Second National, the Fidelity States bank, the Columbia State bank and indirectly the Hanover National bank, of which James Stillman is a director, and the Hanover conducts a large number of the allied banking institutions throughout the city. Then, too, if it is considered that the National City bank interests dominate the First National of Chicago, one gets some notion of what the movement toward centralized banking means, and what the Rockefeller interests have already accomplished in this direction.

It begins to appear that Mr. Morgan will have to hurry along with his banking projects if he expects to keep within hailing distance of the Rockefellers. The Citizens National bank, involved in the disclosure of today, has deposits of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. Its capital is to be increased from $600,000 to $1,550,000.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Latest Finds in Gold, Silver, Copper and Other Metals in the Far Western States.

(By Private Wire to Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Ore has been encountered in a vein of the Cripple Creek and Colorado Company's property at Cripple Creek that carries $100 gold to the ton. On the Lone Star there is an 18-inch pay streak that averages $60.

In the New State in Little Cottonwood canon, Utah, three streaks of high-grade ore on the tunnel level have merged into a solid streak a foot wide after sinking 15 feet. About three tons of rock valued at $250 a ton have been extracted.

A company has been formed to work four claims on Willow creek, near Gunnison, Col., in which ore has been found that runs $250 gold, 250 ounces silver and 50 per cent lead.

Florence, Col., reports that 70-foot shaft has been sunk on a large body of ore in the Sunset, in Cooper gulch, which returns $30 copper, $8 in gold and six ounces silver.

Late advices from Nome, Alaska, note the discovery near York of a large body of oxide of tin containing 78¼ per cent of metallic tin. The men who made the discovery say they get from 150 to 200 pounds of ore to the cubic yard.

The Bayonne claim in the Ymir district, B. C., has been sold to eastern men for $40,000.

A nine-foot ledge of free milling gold ore was recently found on the property.

The McConnell at Mason Valley, Nev., which is owned by a Boston syndicate, has struck another big body of ore. The smelter of the company has stopped taking custom ore, having all it can do now to handle its own product. At a depth of 210 feet the Pinkham, at Chloride, Ari., has broken into a large body of high-grade copper ore, carrying over 100 ounces of silver and $10 gold. A pyritic smelter has been ordered for the mine.

Wall Street Stock Market Active but Irregular

REALIZING WAS IN EVIDENCE

Recently Strong Stocks Become Center of Profit-Taking Movement.

PACIFICS AND ST. PAUL SUFFERED

Pennsylvania and Subsidiary Issues Were Strong With the Exception of Baltimore & Ohio Which Was Irregular.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—There was a falling off in the column of transactions in today's stock market but the speculation continued notably active. There were conspicuous points of strength throughout, but the general list moved irregularly and a number of prominent stocks were at different times above and below last night's level. Realizing was very large in stocks which have been strongest recently, following the custom of the market for some time past. Notably in this respect were the Pacifics and St. Paul. Ansthort was made at one time to renew the upward movement in these stocks, with a resulting advance in St. Paul of 1% over last night's level, but the advance metfresh realizing and was wiped ont. Unionr acifics movement was similar. New York Central made another notable show of srength at an extreme advance of 3¼. Rumors continue current of the early addition of a plan for a proprietary company to hold the stocks of the Vandeoilt roads. Pennsylvania and its subsidiary stocks formed another cent of strength, except Baltimore & Ohio, which was reactionary on reailing, and the Wheeling & Lake Erie stocks moved in sympathy with this group. The Southwestern stocks were generally strong to the accompaniment of reports of large earnings and pending increases in disbursements. An active demand continued for Louisville & Nashville and for the Atchison stocks, notably the preferred, which touched 102½. The buying of this stock and of Louisville was based on the general argument that they were selling low compared with other stocks paying the same dividend. The settlement of the Northwestern railroad controversy continued to receive much attention, today's version pointing to the granting to Union Pacific of proportionate control of the Burlington system by concession of direct holdings in that company. The possibility of releasing large capital under this plan made it particularly attractive to the speculative imagination. The preliminary figures of cash movements for the past week indicate a small net change in the banks reserves, although the various currents contributing to that result have been unusually complex and numerous. The export of $2,750,000 of gold has been largely offset by the sub-treasury payment on account of Australian and Klondyke gold, while that institutions collections of government revenues in excess of expenditures has been met by the redemption of government bonds. The sub-treasury paid today on that account for $1,171,540 in par value of government bonds, which did not figure in the estimates of the cash movement. The banks have lost a small amount on balance on the interior movement by express. The reported settlement of the Franco-Turkish difficulty was very slightly reflected here, except as it affected the feeling of hopefulness over the relaxation of the future foreign demand for gold. The market closed irregular at considerable reaction from the best, caused by heavy realizing during the last hour.

There were sharp upward movements in Central of Georgia bonds and in Kansan and Texas seconds. The bond market generally was active and irregular. Total sales par value $5,310,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales 916,800 shares.

Advance in St. Paul wiped out by realizing.

New York Central advanced 3¼.

Southwesterns generally strong.

Active demand for Louisville & Nashville and Atchisons.

Adjustment of Northern Pacific difficulty expected soon.

United States Steel preferred closed 92½.

Stocks Less Active and Exceedingly Irregular

UPS AND DOWNS WERE FREQUENT

At the Close the Gains and Losses Numbered Exactly the Same.

AIRBRAKE AT FIRST WAS WEAK, THEN STRONG

Window Glass Closed Weak After Opening Strong—Crucible Steel Finished With a Loss—Coalers Steady—Electrics Easy.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was less active and exceedingly irregular in tone. It was, in fact, quite lively at times and equally as dull at others. Then it was strong and next week. Altogether it was a mixed affair. The ups and downs were frequent, and not until the last sale was posted could anyone correctly size up the situation. Even then it was somewhat confusing. Out of the 23 securities dealt in seven made gains ranging from ¼ to 1¼, and seven declined from ½ to 8¼. Eight were unchanged and one sold for the first time. Westinghouse Airbrake was very erratic. It opened at 167, broke to 166½ and then rallied to 168½. At the close it was bid and 170 asked, being strong. The gain for the day was 1½. American Window Glass common was strong at 9¼, when it started downward and finished weak at 58, a loss of $1 for the day. The sales were 600 shares. The preferred opened firm at 91½, then sold at 90½ and finally closed steady and unchanged at 90. In the steel group there was not much doing. United States Steel common led the sales, with 709 shares, opening at 43¼ and closing unchanged at 43. The preferred did not sell, but closed at 92⅝ asked, without bids. Crucible common opened at 23, and was very dull until near the close, when it declined to 22⅞ and offered in large blocks afterward at 22⅞. The preferred was quieter and unchanged at 84½. The coalers were dull and practically featureless, though at the close Pittsburgh preferred rallied a fraction. Electric seconds were fairly active, but easier and ½ lower at 71⅛. Brewing issues held firm, but were dull. Equitable Trust broke $1 to 180 for 50 shares and looked weak. Consolidated Traction issues were steady and Philadelphia Company stocks were in the same state. Ice shares were about steady. Fire Proofing common declined, but the preferred was ¼ higher. Marsden was firmer and 1 higher. There was nothing doing in bonds. In the quotations Western Savings and Deposit Bank advanced $1 to $165 bid, and Dollar Savings Fund and Trust $1 to $206 bid, both having new high records. Fidelity Title and Trust offered $1 lower at $458 asked. There were no other important changes.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Total sales Pittsburgh stock exchange 4,228 shares and 210 receipts.

Westinghouse Airbrake broke to 166½ and rallied to 168½.

United States Steel common sold 700 shares. Closed 43.

Coal Stocks were steady, but dull.

Electric seconds lost ⅛ at 71⅛.

The following is a complete summary of the day's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices, new high records and final bids and offers:

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for yesterday showed an increase of more than $1,400,000 over the same day a year ago, and of about $330,000 over the preceding Friday. PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Slightly Stronger Potato Market—California Walnuts Arrive.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

There is a continuance of the strength shown by corn and oats, the former being influenced by cash buying in Chicago, purchases to be shipped from there both east and west. General movement all over the country with heavy consumptive demand is holding oats strong, as well as sympathy with corn. Weaker wheat in England threatened to take the tone out of the situation in this country, but was overcome, and the market remained steady. Local quotations for corn and oats are much higher.

Receipts Bulls' red: Manchester yards, 9 cars hay, 2 do rye, 7 do corn, 5 do feed, 9 do oats, 1 do straw; Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad, 1 car hay; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 5 cars hay, 1 do straw, 2 do oats; total receipts, 42 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Groceries.

Breadstuffs are all firm, with the market active. The wet maintained position now occupied by wheat is tossing up four so effectually that the millers' feelings reigns among jobbers, who are holding fancy spring heats at $4 00@4 10. Information from Minneapolis is to the effect that the present movement is only a fair one, and that cutting mills and mills are drawing from terminal elevators. If flour demand keeps good it is said mills will have difficulty in obtaining wheat enough to keep them going. Advance in wheat in latest crop reports from Brazil, where flowering is a failure, while trees already exhausted from odd crop, are suffering from drought. The European markets are generally firmer. Sugar is selling well here, but the market generally is unaccountably weak, for which the only available explanation is over-production. Beans are unchanged and steady.

Sugar—Standard granulated, 5.00c; fine granulated, 5.00c; 100-lb and 25-lb jute bags, 5.00c; 5-lb cartons and 2-lb cotton bags, 5.15c; powdered, 5.10c; powdered XXXX, 5.15c; cubes, 5.40c; cut loaf, 5.60c; confectioners' A, 4.85c; New York basis. The latter is generally 15 cents per 100 lbs above these quotations).

Canned Goods.

Jobbers are upholding the tomato market, and confidently expecting a price of $1 25 for standards very soon, some claiming that it is here already, although this statement is not supported by the evidence of actual sales. Canned tomatoes have already been purchased for the manufacture of catsup, and there is little likelihood of there being any difficulty in maintaining steady quotations, when the limited supplies are considered, even assuming for the fact that consumption will be somewhat curtailed owing to figures that will prove prohibitive in some cases. Corn is quiet, but is steady in sympathy with future deliveries. Standard pie peaches, 3-pound gallon, pie peaches, $2 50@3 00; California L. C. peaches, $1 90@2 35; Maryland peaches, $1 20@1 75; California, Y. Eggs—Fresh, candled, doz, 22@24c; storage, 18@18½c.

Poultry.

Yesterday was a good day for the poultry dealers, making nearly all sales at the various quotations. Large fancy chickens are not any too plentiful, and turkeys are selling readily, although coming toward the end of the week they are not quite so salable. There will likely be plenty of turkeys for Thanksgiving trade, and prices will open low enough to allow the same figures as are probably at about the same figures as are ruling.

Chickens—Live hens, per lb, 9@10c; roosters, 5@6c; broilers, spring, per lb, 20@25c; old, 10c; do spring, 10@11c; old turkeys, 9c; young toms, 10@11c; old toms, 9c; young hens, 10@11c; old hens, 9c; dressed, 10@11c; fresh spring dressed, 13@14c; geese, live, 7@8c; dressed, 10@11c; ducks, 9@10c; 45 dressed, 12@13c.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

The situation in the butter market is the same as last reported in Chicago. Creamery boxes are selling at 23c and tubs at 22c, but there is a strong condition of affairs, and though there has been no actual price increase. Eggs are strong, fancy fresh stock being scarce and in good demand, with prices showing a somewhat higher. In cheese there is nothing new; demand is steady, but not active, and the tone is easy.

Butter—High-grade creamery, prime, 25@26c; do tubs, 24@24½c; Ohio and Pennsylvania creamery, 22@24½c; dairy butter, 17@18c; fresh country roll, 15@16c; packing butter, 13@15c.

No End of Overcoats at "The Big Store"

Truly, no end of Overcoats! More new styles out this season than ever before, and this store shows them all, and each style in every fashionable shade and every size. This is as it should be. "The Big Store" is pre-eminently a Clothing Store—has been for 31 years—is today further ahead of all other clothing stores than ever before. Only the other day, a visiting clothing merchant, after having made the rounds of the various stores, said: "I saw more clothing at Kaufmann's than at any three stores in this town put together, and Kaufmann's have MORE MONEY INVESTED IN OVERCOATS ALONE THAN IS THE VALUE OF ANY FULL STOCK OF CLOTHING I SAW TODAY, AND I SAW THEM ALL." This opinion of a disinterested expert is worth more than mere claims without foundation. But far it be from us to ask your custom on the ground that we show the largest stock or the most varied assortment or the most up-to-date styles. No, indeed! We have much better reasons entitling us to your trade. We ask you to buy your Overcoat from us, because we will sell you a BETTER ONE FOR THE SAME MONEY, OR THE SAME ONE FOR LESS MONEY than any house in the city. All you have to do is to tell what particular style you fancy, and the salesman will produce it, or, if you haven't made up your mind, to look through our stock until you find just what may please you. And, if any alterations are required to make any coat fit you perfectly (we guarantee as good fit as made to order) they will be made quickly, without charge. Come in today, then, and select your new Overcoat, and, no matter whether you pay $6.50 or $10 or $15 or $20 or $25 or $30 or $35 or $40, you can rely on getting the best value for your money in every instance.

Thousands More at $30, $35 & $40

At the above prices the entire wide range of Overcoat fashions is ready for you to choose from. Fullmore Overcoats, Full English Box Overcoats, Automobile Overcoats, Lord Kitchener Overcoats, Yoke Overcoats, Prince Charles Overcoats, London Sack Overcoats, Paddock Overcoats, etc., etc. The materials are Imported Worsteds, Vicunas, Oxfords, Cheviots, Kerseys, Whipcords, Irish Friezes, Chinchillas, Beavers, Covert Cloths, &c., &c. You can have these Overcoats in extra length, three-quarter length and medium length--with straight or slashed pockets--with or without velvet collars, with or without silk linings. These are not ordinary ready made garments, thrown together in haphazard fashion by quick machine work, but every overcoat is the product of an experienced tailor who takes pride in his work. In fact, the men who made these garments received the same wages as those employed by merchant tailors, and that's why these goods look, fit and wear as well as anything made especially to order. The only difference will be found in the prices--which are about half, and often less than half, what you would have to pay to your tailor.
